Hot Fight for Two Offices With No Contest on Seven To Be Made by Native Sons

OAKLANDER NAMED FOR PRESIDENCY

Harry C. Williams Without Opposition as Successor to Traeger; Fellow Townsman Selected as Chief Aid

Third Vice-Presidency and Outside Sentinelship Will Bring War for Votes, Two Men Seeking Each Office

What gives indication of developing into the most spirited fight for offices in the history of the organization started today when nominating for grand office-holders got under way at the second day's session of the forty-sixth annual grand parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

At today's session of the convention candidates were formally launched in the field for nine of the grand officers, and promise was given of a hot fight for at least two of the positions. For the other seven no opposition was forthcoming. The two positions for which there will be a fight, it became known, are grand third vice-president and grand outside sentinel.

WILLIAMS NOMINATED FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

Harry G. Williams, of Oakland Parlor No. 5, was nominated as grand president to succeed William I. Traeger. Williams was nominated by Past President Joseph R. Knowland, and the nominating for this position closed, branding previous rumors that there would be competition for this position as erroneous. Williams is present first vice-president.

For grand third vice-president, the position where the fight for office will develop, Fletcher A. Cutler, present grand trustee, and Charles A. Thompson, another trustee, were nominated. Both have strong followings.

Herbert De La Rosa was nominated against George Philips of Claremont Parlor, Oakland, for the position of grand outside sentinel.

OTHER NOMINATIONS WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

Other nominations were:

For grand second vice-president, Edward L. Lynch, present grand third vice-president, without competition.

For re-election for the twenty-first year as grand treasurer without competition, John E. McDougald.

DELAYED DELEGATES SEATED THIS MORNING.

Delegates who arrived from their respective parlors in remote places in the State late yesterday and last night were in their seats in the assembly when Grand President Wm. I. Traeger called the grand parlor to order this morning. These additional delegates who were late to arrive numbered about 150.

While not taken up officially by the order, the Japanese question, which has been one of the important questions in the Native Sons of the Golden West, came before the grand parlor yesterday afternoon for the first time at an open session.

A Japanese exclusion law, similar to the Chinese exclusion law, is the only legislation that will save California and solve the present day Japanese problem, Joseph Garry, secretary of the Japanese Exclusion League, told the delegates in the open session.

REMARKS GREETED BY CHEERS OF DELEGATES.

Garry addressed the convention upon invitation, and his remarks were well received by the grand parlor delegates, who were apparently in sympathy with his cause, by cheers.

Garry opened his address by telling of the first band of Japanese, 40 in number, to land in this State in 1869. "The presence of foreigners who cannot become citizens is dangerous to the welfare of not only California but the entire country," said Garry.

"Every Japanese that comes to this country, comes knowing full well that he or she cannot become a citizen, and come for their own or their country's gain. California does not want them!

JAPANESE INTRIGUE BLAMED FOR AGREEMENT.

"Years ago the American people became tired of having its daughters mingle with these foreigners at the public school, and began legislation to prevent it. But Japan intrigued at Washington the 'gentlemen's agreement' resulted."

The speaker explained in detail the theory of the so-called gentlemen's agreement, and said that by its terms the United States and Japan agrees verbally that no more Japanese labor should come here. "Despite this gentlemen's agree-

AN HONOR MAN'S ESCAPE

JUDGE SPURGEON stopped swatting flies, threw his roll of newspaper into the wastebasket, and assumed his bored and judicial expression. There was a case of some complication in prospect and he was not sure of the procedure.

"Anyhow," he thought to himself as a deputy sheriff led in a dusky prisoner, "the chances are Len Walter doesn't know as much about it as I do." He pounded on the desk and Walter, taking a place beside his client, the prisoner, made an appeal.

"Jim, or your honor," he said, "this is a pecular matter involving the escape of an honor man from a road gang and the subsequent arrest of said prisoner as a jail breaker, or escape. I contend you ain't got no right, that it is outside the jurisdiction of this court to try him. He's got to go back anyhow."

"That'll do now, Len," the judge interrupted quietly. "There is more to this than you appear to know. This court holds that the prisoner, intrusted by the state to build our roads given a chance to work in the open and placed on honor, violated the trust and made his escape. It is the court's intention to soak him, that is to sentence him for the escape so that when he goes back he will have one more year to serve. You know, Len, we can't let these fellows make a joke out of the honor system."

The prisoner, meek and frightened, glanced from one to the other for a sign of hope and Len, persistent, tried again.

"This is a case for clemency. The prisoner only had a few months to serve and I contend—"

"He was trusted," Judge Spurgeon interrupted solemnly, "and he skedaddled. I'm going to give him the limit."

"Bet you $5 you don't," the prisoner's attorney put in. "Now listen, Jim, fore you go too far."

HIGH over the river the prison gang worked, cutting and blasting a road in the side of the hill. Below, on a pebbly bar, wooden shacks and a mess hall provided the camp for the summer months. Four guards watched the 30-odd honor men and, in the evenings, joined in the games and singing. It was all but freedom.

"Have any of you ever been a barber?" a guard called out one evening, and Ethan Monks, colored, edged out of the group.

"Ah have had my hand in dat perfesshun," he acknowledged, "and would be glad to accommodate."

Ethan stropped his razor like a veteran, and scraped the bristle from the guard's chin. It was a difficult job, and, near the end, the blade slipped. The guard roared, kicked at the frightened barber, and called upon the camp to witness.

"Didyer see what he did? Tried to cut my throat, that's what." Noting the abject fear of the barber, the guard saw a chance for a joke and change his demeanor. He held a cloth

PHIL REILLY IS KIDNAPED, FEATHERED

Abducted by Three Men While on Way Home, He Is Taken to Hills, Daubed With Oil and Threatened

Principal in Fistic Encounters Blames His Assault on Ku Klux Klan; Returns to Work in His Office

Philip Reilly, editor of a weekly publication, was oiled and feathered by a committee of three in the hills behind Berkeley last night.

Reilly was kidnaped by three men from in front of his home at East Fourteenth street and Ninety-third avenue, Oakland, bound, thrown into the tonneau of an automobile and taken to the hills.

His first and last cry for help was heard by his wife, who was awaiting his arrival home, and by members of the Oakland fire department stationed near the scene of the kidnaping.

That the action of the three men, who were unmasked, is a result of various articles written in Reilly's paper, a semi-political weekly, was admitted by Reilly to the Berkeley police when he was taken to the station by Policeman William Peck.

ONLY ONE ORDER GIVEN, SAYS REILLY.

The masked men ordered Reilly to desist from further publication of his paper. This was the only threat made, according to Reilly, and the only word spoken during the affair. He says that he did not answer the speaker.

Reilly told the police that as he was nearing his home a man stepped out from behind a clump of bushes and attacked him. This is the only man he can recognize, Reilly gave battle and while he was fighting two other men joined the first and he was finally subdued. Then an automobile drove up to the curb, Reilly was bound and blindfolded and put into the machine.

It followed a long ride over rough roads, during which no word was spoken. Finally the machine stopped in a place believed by the victim to be the Berkeley hills. Here his clothes were removed from him, his body smeared with the crude oil and a coat of feathers applied.

When the operation was completed Reilly was warned to stop publishing his paper, was wrapped in a blanket secured by a strap and driven to the place where he was found. He was dumped unceremoniously in the gutter and his clothes hurled after him.

"I am convinced that this was the work of the Ku Klux Klan," said Reilly today. "I won't stop publishing and I'm willing to bet money that I'll find out the men who perpetrated this outrage.

"I had never seen any of the men before. They did not appear to be men of culture, but looked rather like working men. There were few words spoken and I said nothing at all after I cried for help. I should have cried out sooner. The firemen would have stopped the affair if I had done so.

"The whole thing took place within two hours. I was attacked between 10:30 and 11 o'clock and I was found by the Berkeley police about 12:30."

Reilly spent some time extricating himself from the bonds which had been placed on his arms and legs and was engaged in removing the gag from his mouth when Policeman Peck found him.

HAS FOUGHT WITH THREE OFFICIALS.

Reilly was then removed to his home by the police. Investigation is being conducted by the police of Berkeley and Oakland.

Gus Pierson, a fireman in Engine No. 2 who had been talking to Reilly a few moments before he was seized, told the police that he heard Reilly's cries for help, but did not see the machine's license number.

It was Pierson who ran to the scene of the kidnaping as the machine sped away and found two hats, one bearing the initials "P. S.," which are the only clews in the hands of the police.

Reilly has frequently been in pugilistic encounters as a result of his articles. Only recently District Attorney Ezra Decoto assailed him in the court house. Previous encounters were with former Superintendent of Streets Mattis and Lon W. Cummings, former city clerk.

Today he appeared in his offices at 286 Twelfth street, where he publishes his paper. His left eye is black and the left side of his face is badly bruised. Other bruises and cuts are on his head and face. He is 55 years of age and has been in the weekly publication business here for the last five years.

BRADY URGES RELEASE FOR TOM MOONEY

S. F. Prosecutor Asks Governor to Free Bomb Case Defendant and Billings in View of New Evidence

Two Whose Stories Resulted in Conviction of the Men Have Been Discredited in Mind of District Attorney

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—District Attorney Mathew Brady today made a new appeal for the release from life term in San Quentin and Folsom penitentiaries respectively of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings, convicted of murder for alleged participation in the Preparedness parade bomb explosion, in which ten persons were killed.

In his letter Brady says:

"Although the trials of Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings were concluded before I took office as district attorney, I have become familiar with the evidence introduced and with the further evidence developed since the conclusion of the trials. As applications for pardon have been made, I consider it my duty to submit to you the conclusions I have reached."

Brady then stresses the testimony of Earl Hatcher and his wife of Woodland, who declared that Frank Oxman, chief witness against Mooney, took a train at Woodland about the time of the explosion, whereas he claimed to have been near the scene of the disturbance at Steuart and Market streets here.

TRUSTWORTHINESS OF WITNESS IS DOUBTED.

"Before the Hatchers gave their statements to the grand jury," Brady continues, "there was, to say the least, considerable doubt of the truth of Oxman's statement that he was in San Francisco at the time of the explosion. Since the Hatchers gave their testimony I believe there can be no doubt that Oxman's testimony was false. Some months ago McDonald came to San Francisco and stated that the testimony he had given was false and he offered to so state to the grand jury provided he would not be indicted for perjury. Whether McDonald's last statement is true or false, it leaves him in the position of being entirely untrustworthy. There have been other developments that still further weaken the case of the prosecution.

"If these matters that have developed since the trial could be called to the attention of a court that had jurisdiction to grant a new trial undoubtedly a new trial would be granted. Furthermore, if a new trial were granted there would be no possibility of convicting Mooney or Billings. The passage of time has deprived the court of any jurisdiction to grant release and the only person who can act upon them is the governor.

PROSECUTOR REFERS TO FALSE TESTIMONY.

"The situation is one that comes clearly within the purpose of the provision granting the governor power to pardon. I believe no person that permits himself to analyze the situation entertains any doubt that Mooney and Billings were convicted on false testimony. The only reason for keeping them in prison is that they are undesirable citizens and, if they have not committed the offenses charged, they have been guilty of other activities that justify restraining them. I am convinced that such reasoning is most insidious and ultimately most destructive of the very institutions that the law-abiding people prize. It certainly should not be employed by the officials charged with enforcing the laws.

"I heartilyy agree with those who condemn the attitude of Mooney and Billings toward our political institutions. But I think the continued imprisonment of men convicted on testimony generally regarded as false is more destructive of those institutions than anything agitators, such as Mooney and Bilings, have it in their power to do. The same respect for our laws that leads me to a disapproval of Mooney and Bilings leads me to the conviction that they should be pardoned."

SAN ANDREAS, April 18.—Clang! Clang! Clang. The old bell above the firehouse sounded the alarm. Miss Tillie Cavagnaro pulled the rope. Meanwhile the roof of the Cademartori home blazed merrily. Finally a supply of gas was procured and the chemical made the run. Meanwhile volunteers had performed yoeman service with buckets and hose. The loss was $500. This is the second time the tank of the chemical has been found empty when needed.

WIDOW SHOT BY REBUFFED SUITOR

S. F. Woman Rejects Attentions of Married Man; Is Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Mrs. Ida Richardson, a widow, 40 years of age, was shot this afternoon by Henry Ackerman, a tailor of Calistoga, who had been paying her attentions for two years, but whom she rebuffed on learning that he had a wife and child.

After the shooting Ackerman cut his throat with a razor, dying a short time later.

The shooting of Mrs. Richardson, an employee of the Hotel St. Francis, occurred at her home, 414 Haight street. She had contemplated a trip to Honolulu and had booked passage to sail tomorrow. Ackerman, who has been in town for several weeks, protested against the voyage and said to her on Saturday, "You and I will both go to heaven before you go to Honolulu."

Mrs. Richardson was at home this afternoon when Ackerman called. He asked her if she still intended to go to the islands and on receiving an affirmative reply declared he was going along.

"If you are on that boat I won't recognize you," Mrs. Richardson told him.

Thereupon he drew a revolver and fired several shots, one of which struck the woman in the chest. She was hurried to the Central Emergency hospital and likely will recover.

Ackerman made his way a distance of two blocks and slashed his throat. An ambulance was summoned and he was taken from a house at 625 Oak street to the hospital.

According to Mrs. Richardson's statement to the police, her trip to Honolulu was planned in order that she might get out of Ackerman's way.

Army Needs 13,000 Officers, M'Rae Says

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(By International News Service).—A reduction in the army's officer personnel below 13,000 men would "scrap the national defense plan," it was declared today by Brigadier-General J. H. McRae, assistant chief of staff, before the Senate army appropriations committee. General McRae said an "absolute minimum" of 13,000 officers was needed, whether the enlisted strength was fixed at 115,000 or 150,000 men. He declared this figure would be 2600 less than the number estimated to be necessary under the present national defense act.

PASSAGE OF BONUS BILL DECIDED ON

Republicans in Party Conference Determine by Vote of 36 to 9 to Call Up Act for Action This Session

Discussion of Farm Aid to Veterans Should Take End Without Decision; Finance Committee to Fix Terms

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Decision to pass a soldiers' bonus bill at this session of Congress was reached today by Senate Republicans in party conference. The vote was 36 to 9 on a motion offered by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin.

The conference resolution as made public follows:

"It is the sense of this conference that the Senate should at this session pass a soldiers' bonus bill and that the Republican members of the finance committee be requested to report such a bill within a reasonable time."

FURTHER DELAY ON TARIFF IS OPPOSED.

The conference also decreed that the Senate should proceed to the consideration of the administration tariff bill on Thrusday "without further delay." The measure will be called up at that time and it was announced the majority membership would make every effort to hold a quorum continuously.

There was some discussion as to the form the bonus bill should take, but with divergent views developing no effort was made to reach a decision. This will be left to the finance committee Republicans, a majority of whom is reported to favor the House bill with possible elimination or amendment of the land settlement option.

McCUMBER TO TAKE CHARGE.

Chairman McCumber of the finance committee is due to return here late tomorrow or early Thursday and will take charge of the tariff bill on the floor. He is anxious to get the bonus bill before the Senate, and is expected to call the committee majority together to discuss the measure soon after his arrival. Decision of the conference to press the tariff bill without delay is in line with the expressed desire of President Harding that this measure be put ahead of the bonus.

With a long fight over the tariff in prospect, however, that bill, under announced plans of Senator McCumber, would be laid aside temporarily for Senate consideration of the bonus. Senate Republicans of the agricultural tariff bloc have been called to meet tomorrow to discuss rates in the tariff bill which are not quite as high as they had requested the finance committee majority to write. Senator Gooding of Idaho, chairman of the bloc, said he did not think an effort would be made to reach a decision on American valuation. The bloc has presented only such questions as it was a unit on and Senator Gooding said there was some division over American valuation.

Airmen on Third Leg Of Trans-Sea Flight

PORTO PRAYA, Cape Verde Islands, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Portuguese trans-Atlantic aviators, Captains Coutinho and Sacadura, hopped off at 5:50 o'clock this morning for St. Paul rocks on the third and probably most dangerous leg of their flight from Lisbon to Rio Janeiro.

Their route lay over 900 miles of water, devoid of markers or guide ships, and they expected to reach the rocks, in mid-Atlantic, in from ten to twelve hours' flying.

The landing at St. Paul rocks is expected to be difficult, as there is only a small bay or opening between the two islets on the northeast side.

French Want the Conclave Ended: Many Delegations Favor Reoutlawing Treaty Signers; Paris Is Obdurate

By S. D. WEYER.

GENOA, April 18.—By signing a treaty with the Russian Soviet government, Germany barred herself from further discussion of an agreement between the allies and Soviet Russia. This was the decision of the five inviting powers, Great Britain France, Italy, Belgium and Japan. The decision was made public in a statement issued at 7 o'clock tonight after the allied leaders had spent the whole day in conferences regarding the Russo-German treaty.

The statement declared that Germany, by her act, violated conditions pledged when she entered the conference.

The judicial committee of the conference engaged in a bitter debate over the action of the Germans and Russians. The French took the position that the conference should be ended. They were supported by the Polish and Rumanian delegates. When the committee session broke up the leading delegates of the inviting powers, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan, met to decide finally upon what action the conference should take.

GENOA, April 18 (By the Associated Press).—Walter Rathenau, German foreign minister, in a statement made to the Associated Press, protested against the exclusion of Germany as unfair. He declared the treaty was not a secret one and not a violation of the conditions upon which Germany had entered the conference.

PARIS, April 18 (By the Associated Press).—A high official of the government declared this afternoon there was no possibility of continuing the discussions at Genoa unless the Russo-German treaty was cancelled. Even if it were annulled, he declared, the moral effect would remain of two parties to the Genoa conference maneuvering on the side to forestall the conference's work.

GENOA, April 18.—France will take no further part in conference at Genoa with either Russia or Germany, Louis Barthou, head of the French delegation, declared today, if the treaty signed at Rapallo by Tchitcherin and Rathenau is not immediately abrogated.

Allied leaders met at 11 o'clock. Other committee meetings were cancelled, in view of the importance of the decision to be taken regarding the Russo-Germany pact.

By S. D. WEYER

GENOA, April 18.—"I see no reason why the Russo-German treaty should break up the conference," declared Premier Lloyd George to the International News Service correspondent today. The British statesman would not discuss the treaty further but it was learned from a member of the British delegation that Lloyd George believes that the conference can continue even if the French delegation bolts it.

"The premier feels that France's quitting would not mean the wrecking of the conference," this spokesman said.

STRONG TENDENCY TO RE-OUTLAW NATIONS.

There is a strong tendecy among some of the allied delegates to "re-outlaw two outlawed nations." This is particularly the desire of the French, who brand the treaty as a "piece of cunning certain to awaken the suspicion that Wilhelmstrasse is up to its old game of crafty duplicity."

"We simply forced them into each other's arms."

All of the allied chiefs, however,

Three-Minute Tales

to his face and spoke with an impressive resignation.

"It would not be so bad, men, but that razor clipped off a mole I have had since birth. Do you know what that means? I have one chance in three to live. Here, help me, some of you, to my bunk." He sagged in the waiting arms and then, with effort, turned fiercely toward the barbe:

"Monks, if I die, I'll come back and haunt you!"

THAT night the word was taken to Monks that Flynn, the guard, was dead. There were some who saw the man, shaking and sobbing with remorse and fear, who were for ding it off. A joke of men in the wilds can be cruel and the simple barber was left alone to face the night.

Toward morning, in the pitch dark, someone slipped a piece of meat in the door of the barber's shack and left a dog inside. The dog put his nose to the crack and started pawing on the wood. Not a sound came from within. Then a rope, well-resined, was drawn over a saw blade and the canyon echoed with a weird drone which se the dog to howling and brought answering echoes from the hills.

When Ethan Monks made his escape from the shack he took a window sash with him for the first hundred yards. He ran blindly with arms outstretched, gained a thicket, and was lost. It was three days later when the sheriff of Sierra county picked him up.

Judge Spurgeon looked at the prisoner who stared back, open-mouthed and hopeful.

"Well, send him back to camp and I'll write a letter to the warden. This court holds that it has no jurisdiction over a man who was trying to escape from a ghost."

Fairy Tales Lauded By Woman Lecturer

BERKELEY, April 18. — Are fairy tales harmful?

ot so, says Dr. Gudrun Friss-Hoim. Norwegian lecturer and scholar, who is a guest at the College Women's club in Berkeley.

Hans Christian Anderson, famous Scandinavian writer of fairy lore, the visiting lecturer holds as not only a great author but a great psychologist.

Dr. Friss-Holm, who has been touring this country, will make her last appearance in the United States at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in Wheeler hall under the auspices of the University Scandinavian club. From here she will leave for India. The meeting will be open to the public.

Check Room for Parking of 'Gat' Is Latest Vogue

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The checking business, which has made rapid strides with the opening of check rooms for babies and parking stations for flappers' corsets, has been broadened again. The police announced today they had discovered a checking station for pistols, where members of the underworld may park their artillery when they have a few hours of leisure. Most of the city's gun wielders apparently were on the crime path, however, as the parking station had only two pistols on its shelves. The concessionaire was booked at police headquarters as Fred Piccora.

They plan to stay in the south a few weeks, then they will return to Del Monte for a short stay before starting a motor trip across the continent on their way to New York, whence they sail for England.

ANNIVERSARY OF COUPLE OBSERVED

The golden wedding anniversary of William Henry Tyson,, horticultural inspector and pioneer resident of Niles, and Mrs. Jennie Bonner Tyson was celebrated today at the home of their son, Robert W. Tyson, assistant adult probation officer of Alameda county, and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edna Tyson, at Thirty-first and Grove streets.

Three of the six members of the wedding party that attended the bride and groom fifty years ago were guests at the golden wedding festivities today. They were Clara Tyson, Fleda Bunting and Thomas Bonner.

The family is one of the best known in the southern portion of the county. Tyson is a native of Niles, where he was born in 1857.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyson were married in 1872 in the Episcopal church at Centerville, which is still standing.

NEW IDEAS CHIEF DEMAND AMONG FILM PRODUCERS

Motion picture producers are turning more and more to the picturization of stories written especially for the screen, according to Marshall Neilan, one of the foremost producers and a judge in The TRIBUNE scenario story contest.

"The future will see a heavy demand upon creators of original stories for film presentation," says Neilan. "The practice of paying exorbitant sums of money for plays and books was given a body blow through the recent reorganization of the motion picture producing industry, whose producers decided to cut down the cost of pictures in instances where expensive practices, such as this, were involved with no material benefit to the picture itself.

MANY CHANGES MADE.

"It is necessary to change stories that were originally intended for presentation on the stage or for book publication in practically every instance where such purchases are made. Often these plots are changed to such an extent that little but the title remains and occasionally even the title is discarded. What, then, is the reason for buying such material?

"There will consequently result the recognition of talent among the public of Oakland and other cities throughout the country, of creative talent for the screen.

"One of the chief faults that beginners have shown is that they worry more about technique or form of the scenario than the construction of the plot itself.

"The motion picture producer is not so much interested in a technically well-written scenario as he is in a good plot, with unsual situations, action, humor, romance, pathos and drama.

NEEDLESS DETAIL.

"The producer is not particularly impressed with a story because it tells in detail how the heroine should enter the scene, which eye she should wink, how she should lift up the telephone receiver and with which hand she should wiggle the instrument. These are mechanics and details which he usually likes to work out in his own way and which he is more capable of doing than the inexperienced authors.

"If you were going to build a house you would not draw up the plans and work out the details yourself. You would go to the architect, give him your general ideas, together with specific instructions on what you want, and let him work out the details.

"Every producer has a staff of experts who can write the continuity much better and much more quickly than the layman. This is their particular business. They take ideas and work out the details of how these ideas are to be presented on the screen.

PAY FOR AN IDEA.

"If you can supply the ideas that is all that is required of you. I once paid $1000 for 100 words written on the back of an envelope and handed to me in Los Angeles by a person who had never written for the screen or even for publication.

"In these 100 words there was a gold mine in the way of a climax that had never been attempted on the screen. Had this man attempted to place his idea in continuity form it is quite certain he would have lost the real idea of his situation in the mass of technical detail.

"What the movie producer wants is ideas for plots. Those who have contended for The Oakland TRIBUNE prizes have had a taste of creative conception for the screen. Even if you did not meeting with notable success, remember that success is not usually achieved over-night. Try again. Write a story about things and persons with which you are familiar. Although I personally have enough stories to last me for the next two years, there are many other producers who are looking for original screen material.

"The demand is growing every day for good, original material. The time is not far distant when the original screen story will comprise the big feature in motion picture production. The expensive plays and book plots are doomed. Some one must supply the new material for the screen. The public of the country must supply these new writers, who, if they have merit, will surely win nation-wide recognition for their efforts."

Prominent Speakers At Wildflower Show

David Starr Jordan, Benjamin Ide Wheler and Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt will be among the participants in the programs to be presented in connection with the State exhibit of wild flowers. The exhibit will be held in San Francisco and will open next Thursday. It will continue for three days.

The exhibit is held under the auspices of the Wild Flower Conservation League and its object is to acquaint the public more thoroughly with the variety, charm and value of the wild flowers and shrubs and their importance as assets to civilized communities.

The work is directed by Mrs. Bertha M. Rice, head of the Wild Flower Conservation League and founder of "Wild Flower Day."

Luther Burbank and Dr. William Frederic Bade, president of the Sierra club, are among those who will participate in the programs.

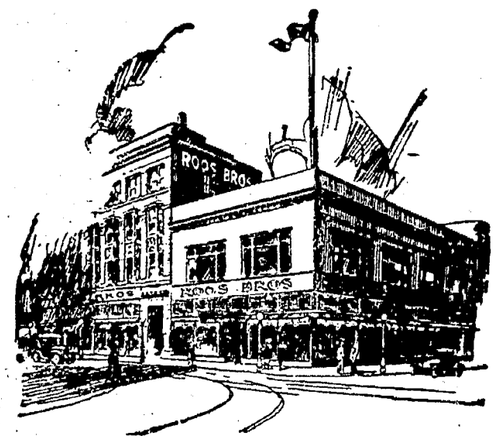

Mrs. Roxana Ferris, Roland Rice and Professor Herbert Mason of Stanford University will superintend the identification and arrangement of the flower specimens.

PACT DENOUNCED BY ALL POWERS BUT PRINCIPALS

Russians and Germans' Action Scored by Delegates at Conference.

GENOA, April 18 (By the Associated Press).—George Tchitcherin, head of the Russian delegation, discussing the Russo-German treaty, said negotiations for a full resumption of diplomatic relations between Germany and Russia had been in progress several months.

"The place and the time of the signature," Tchitcherin added, "must not be interpreted as indicating that the two governments intended special significance in concluding the treaty at the Genoa conference rather than elsewhere. The treaty was contemplated long ago.

"In this way Germany and Russia have wiped out the past and replaced the Brest-Litovsk treaty by new relations, granting both peoples the same rights and establishing a secure basis for peaceful, common work. The two governments thus place themselves on a firm basis."

"PROFIT FOR EUROPE."

"This treaty," he said, "does not in the least interfere in the relation of Russia and Germany with any other state, but simply cancels the past with regard to Germany and Russia and lays the foundation for future common reconstruction. The advantages which may be hoped for from this peaceful understanding will be of great profit for all of Europe. Because we reached this understanding during the Genoa conference, it does not mean that we intend to do anything beneath our dignity, nor that we intend to renounce the general European aims of the conference. Indeed, Germany and Russia are convinced that our understanding will help in the attainment of the object of the conference, namely, definite re-establishment of European peace."

"The action of the Germans is an absolute breach of loyalty to the general idea of the Genoa conference, and in that sense is dishonorable and a challenge to Europe," said the organized British spokesment last night to the Associated Press.

FRENCH FLAY PACT.

A French communique issued late last night says:

Everybody has been astonished at the attitude of reserve and silence of the Germans at Genoa. Now we know the meaning of this silence. The Germans completed a separate treaty with Russia, of which the fundamentals were previously discussed at Berlin, and decided to explode their little mine on Easter Monday at Genoa.

The German communication says that this accord is not only compatible with the general aims of the Genoa conference, but is an important step in the general reconstruction of Europe. But it would be hypothetical to try to support the theory that the Russo-German accord serves the cause of European construction and reconciliation.

The first consequence of Germany's support will be to encourage the Bolsheviki to resist the demands of other countries, especially the allies.

The German and Russian accord creates in Europe a new groupment of interests and by the manner in which it was prepared and concluded it creates a new principle of division. It would be derisive to say that it is inspired by a true European spirit. In reality, it is a political maneuver destined to increase disorder—a maneuver so plainly inspired by hostile thought that Germany will certainly not derive the profits she imagines.

FRANCE UNCHANGED.

Europe will again see what must be thought of German loyalty. At all events, France will not lose her sang froid and will not modify her attitude. She will exact from the Soviet recognition of debts and restitution of confiscated property, without which there is neither public nor private morality, and France will treat with the Soviet only on this condition.

If the Genoa conference is to be used secretly to build combinations whereby nations seek to strike at others, then it will be a serious obstacle to the re-establishment of an era of confidence and peace.

LONDON ASTOUNDED.

LONDON, April 18 (By the Associated Press).—It would not be easy to imagine any possible happening at Genoa which could excite greater astonishment or more misgivings than the announcement of the Russo-German treaty produced in the majority of this morning's London newspapers.

With one or two exceptions the new pact is condemned in the strongest language as a deadly blow aimed at the conference, at the Versailles treaty and at the peace of Europe, and its negotiators are charged with complicity and bad faith.

The Times says: "It is an open defiance and a studied insult to the entente powers. It is earnestly hoped the entente powers, especially England and France, will seize the earliest possible moment to take up the challenge so boldly thrown down and teach the Germans and Bolshevists alike that the allies are not to be defied and flouted with impunity."

The Daily Telegraph says: "The abandonment of all claims for compensation respecting the soviet confiscation of foreign property in Russia amounts to a betrayal of all the principles which hitherto have governed international obligations, and in effect endorse the Bolshevist doctrine and practice."

Says the Morning Post: "The one real menace to the peace of Europe is the combination of Russia and Germany."

PARIS NOT SURPRISED.

PARIS April 18 (By the Associated Press). — The dramatic stroke of the Russians and Germans in concluding their treaty at Rapallo does not fill the French with consternation.

Instead, there is a perceptible feeling almost of satisfaction among the newspapers supporting the national bloc at what they consider a distinct hit against Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain, and at the same time the "clumsy blunder of German psychology," which, as M Sainte-Brice puts it in the Journal, will perhaps "pull us out of the Genoa wasp's nest."

L'Oeuvre holds that the Rapallo affair is incontestibly a setback to the international agreement at which the conference aimed.

Here Are Provisions of Russo-German Alliance

GENOA, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Russo-German treaty signed Sunday at Rapallo by George Chitcherin and Dr. Walter Rathenau, contains the following provisions:

tions on the following basis:

The German government and the Soviet republic reciprocally renounce reimbursement of war expenses as well as reimbursement of war damages and also damages suffered by their subjects in the war territories because of military measures, including requisitions carried out in the enemy's country. Likewise the two contracting parties renounce reimbursement of civil damages caused by the so-called exceptional laws or by coercive measures by state authorities.

(b) All legal relations concerning questions of public or private law resulting from the state of war, including the question of merchant ships captured by either side during the war shall be settled on a basis of reciprocity.

(c) Germany and Russia mutually renounce repayment of expenses caused by prisoners of war, in the same way as the Reich renounces payment of expenses caused by the internment of soldiers of the Russian army. The Russian government renounces payment of the sum Germany has derived from the sale of Russian army material transported into Germany.

Article II—Germany renounces all claims resulting from the enforcement of the laws and measures of the Soviet republic as they have affected German nationals or their private rights or the rights of the German Reich itself, as well as claims resulting from measures taken by the Soviet republic or its authorities in any other way against the subjects of the German Reich or their private rights, provided the Soviet government shall not satisfy similar claims made by any third state.

Article III—Consular and diplomatic relations between the Reich and the federal republic of Soviets shall be resumed immediately, the admission of consuls to these countries shall be arranged by special agreement.

Article IV—Both governments agree further that the rights of the nations of either of the two parties on the other's territory, as well as the regulation of commercial relations, shall be based on the most favored nation principle. This principle does not include the rights and facilities granted by the Soviet government to another Soviet state or to any state that formerly formed part of the Russian empire.

Article V—The two governments undertake to give each other mutual assistance for the alleviation of their economic difficulties in the most benevolent spirit. In the event of a general settlement of this question on an international basis they undertake to have a preliminary exchange of views. The German government declares itself ready to facilitate as far as possible the conclusion and execution of economic contracts between private enterprises in the two countries.

Article VI (Clause 1)—Paragraph B and Clause 4 of this agreement shall come into force after ratification of this document. The other clauses will come into force immediately.

GERMANS BARRED FROM CONCLAVE BY ALLY CHIEFS

The general belief today is that the allies will declare that the treaty violates the Versailles pact and therefore is unacceptable. The Germans and Russians are expected to answer this by saying that the Versailles treaty has proved unfillable. This would be an argument for the revision of the Versailles treaty, to which the French, it is known, would never consent.

MAY PROVE TOO MUCH FOR LLOYD GEORGE.

Looking the facts straight in the face and judging from the tense atmosphere, it is not saying too much in declaring that the conference is now seriously menaced by a gigantic row which may prove too much for even the talents of Lloyd George as a peacemaker.

The British premier is said to have speeded the conclusion of the treaty which is a severe blow to his plans and which threatens to crowd him off the stage as conference manager. When the Germans were isolated and were worrying over the Russo-Allied conferences and the later "friendly luncheon chats," Lloyd George sent them word to be patient—that the French were climbing down and becoming more conciliatory toward the Russians every minute.

The judiciary committee of the conference held a long meeting this afternoon in which there was bitter squabbling over the Russo-German treaty.

SWEDEN AROUSED OVER PROPAGANDA FOR RUSS TREATY

Commercial Alliance With Soviets May Pass Riksdag.

STOCKHOLM, April 18.—Conservative elements here are alarmed over the extensive and well-organized propaganda campaign being made on behalf of the new commercial treaty between Sweden and Soviet Russia, which is before the Riksdag, with a fair chance of ratification.

The treaty provides admittance to Sweden of an official Soviet representative, and the admittance to Russia of a like representative of Sweden. The representatives are to be purely for trade protection and extension and both will agree to abstain from propaganda.

A particular clause of the treaty which conservatives view with alarm provides that commercial delegates from Russia also shall be admitted to Sweden as well as nationals of Russia having commercial business in the country. This, the anti-Bolshevist group fear, will permit an uninterrupted flow of Communist propaganda and Bolshevist organizers to sweep through Sweden, which in time, they believe, will undermine the nation's political system.

Minister of Commerce Svensson has told members of the Riksdag that parliament will either have to accept the treaty as it stands or reject it, as the cabinet has signed the document and cannot accept any amendments.

Lenine Threatened On Trip to Genoa

RIGA, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—A conspiracy among Russian monarchists in central and eastern Europe to kill Nikolai Lenine if he dares to step outside Russia is said by secret service men here to have had more or less bearing on the fact that Lenine has not started for Genoa to attend the economic conference.

According to the secret service men, the plot to assassinate Lenine is being strengthened from the Mediterranean to the Baltic seas. They declare the plot is a well organized one, and that notwithstanding the arrest of White Russians in Italy, Germany and elsewhere the leaders in the conspiracy still are at large.

Easter Dinner at Church Draws 60

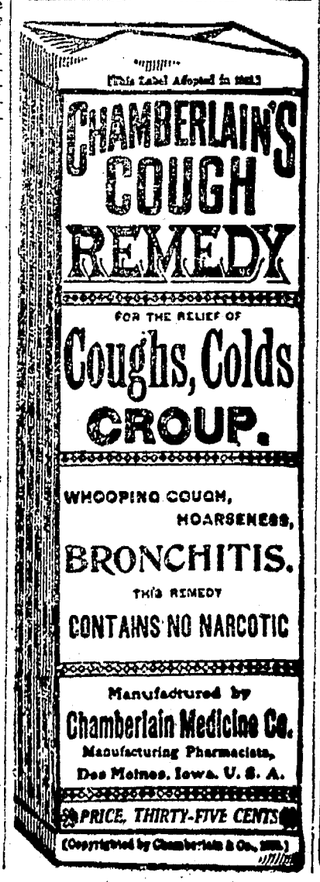

RICHMOND, April 18.—Sixty guests attended the annual Easter dinner of St. Edmund's church last night in the church parlors. Dinner was served by the Edmund Senior Guild. Mrs. J. Lauritzen and Mrs. A. Robertson were in charge. A program of music was enjoyed at the close of the dinenr.

LONDON, April 18.—"Work should be regarded as a privilege and not as an affliction," is the assertion of a famous English psychologist.

U. C. Students Busy In Political Drive

BERKELEY, April 18.—Stump speeches and political propoganda have held the attention of students of the university this week, for open campaigning has been done and public political gatherings have been sanctioned for the first time.

Yesterday, all of the candidates for student body offices were called upon to address a meeting of the collegians. The meeting was presided over by F. W. Tenny, president of the student body, and more than 500 attended.

The new constitution was given the support of all of the college politicians, and the office seekers announced "platforms" in regular form.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Charges of forging internal revenue stamps and later placing them upon bottles containing bootleg liquor are faced here by Frank J. Sullivan, mining engineer; William F. McMahen, cook, and Edward Burns, painter. Pending a hearing bonds were fixed for each at $2500.

HARDING WILL, IF POSSIBLE, ATTEND EDITORS' PARLEY

Convention Will Meet at Missoula, Mont., On July 19 to 22.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 18.—President Harding has indicated that if Congress adjourns by July 1 he will participate in the thirty-seventh annual convention of the National Editorial Association at Missoula, Mont.

Definite dates for the convention have been fixed as July 19 to 22, according to H. C. Hotaling, secretary of the association.

"I am shaping all my plans toward attending the convention," the President is quoted by Hotaling as saying, "and the only possible contingency that could prevent my going would be Congress continuing in session until the middle of July. I expect Congress will adjourn about July 1, however."

Special trains will leave Chicago the evening of Sunday, July 9, taking the party westward and participating in the semi-centennial of the opening of Yellowstone national park, according to Hotaling. Later Glacier national park will be traversed.

Secretary of the Interior Fall probably will be a member of the party.

The itinerary of the special trains contemplate stops at Medora, N. D., where a tribute will be paid to the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in the erection of a monument, with suitable ceremonies. Numerous other stops will be at Montana towns as well as St. Paul and Minneapolis.

A daily newspaper will be published on the convention train, while a complete printing office, including type casting machine (linotype) and a press will be installed in the baggage car, and a copy of this publication will be mailed each day to every daily paper in the United States.

The convention will receive a special message from E. E. Brodie, president of the association, who now is United States minister to Siam. He will cable greetings.

U. S. AGENT IN NEAR EAST HAS POSTS APLENTY

TREBIZEND, April 18.—The only representative of the United States in this far-off corner of Asia Minor is James H. Crutcher of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who manages to keep moderately busy by attending to his duties as director of the Near East Relief, American consul, trade commissioner, food distributor, judge, arbitrator, interpreter, boundary commissioner, political adviser, art critic, and several other odd jobs which he couldn't recall when seen by the correspondent.

"Jimmie" Crutcher, as he is known alike to Turks, Armenians and Greeks, is the only foreigner in town, for the representatives of other powers are not yet welcomed in Asiatic Turkey probably because of a feeling that they have too many political axes to grind. An American, however, is looked up to here, as he is in every part of the Near East, and "Jimmie" Crutcher even carries this respect a little further, for he is both motorman and conductor of the lunch wagon.

U.C. 'Ag' Men Guests Of Montana Faculty

BOZEMAN, Mont., April 18.—Members of the California State Agricultural commission that is making a study of agricultural college systems preparatory to making a report and recommendations for that state, were guests yesterday of the Montana state college. The visitors were Elwood Meade, A. C. Madison, W. S. Gulford, James Hillster, Sheridan W. Baker, S. G. Mortland, R. G. Sproul and R. N. Wilson. They were entertained at a luncheon by President Atkinson and addresses were made by heads of the Montana State college departments. The visitors were given every opportunity to see the methods in vogue at the college here, and discussed with the local faculty members the results attained.

Auto Club to Chart 'Lost Wagon' Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—In an effort to open for motor travel the hitherto unexplored sections of the California desert, the last resting place of the "lost Mormons," who succumbed in their attempt to reach California in '49, a charting party of the Automobile Club of Southern California left here recently seeking the lost wagons and bleached bones of the ill fated party. It is planned to open a road into this desert, far to the north of Death valley, to be known as "Lost Wagon" trail.

Maps are to be drawn of the country and all water holes are to be charted by the club expedition, designated by metal signs which will be anchored in the shifting sands by huge redwood blocks.

Lady Astor Soon To Visit Old Home

BALTIMORE Md., April 18.—Lady Astor formerly Miss Nancy Langhorne of Virginia, is about to make her first visit "back home" since she was elected the first woman member of the British parliament.

She will also deliver her first address outside of England since she spoke at the International Woman Suffrage convention at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1920. Soon after her arrival in America she will come here to attend the conventional of the National League of Women Voters and the Pan-American Conference of Women, April 20-29.

Lady Astor will be one of the speakers at a mass meeting of the conference following the state president's dinner, and will tell what women have brought to politics in Europe since they became active in governmental affairs.

STARLIGHT

by IDAH McGLONE GIBSON

Virginia Fairfax, daughter of the first families of Virginia, rebels against the puritanical rule of her grandfather and lured by Filmland, runs away to become a motion picture actress. Arriving in Los Angeles, she meets Gloria Summers, who is in the movies. They become warm friends. They meet Herbert Richardson, a wealthy young man who has been interested in Gloria. Gloria accepts, for herself and Virginia, Herb Richardson's invitation to a party. Ria and Virginia plead that they must leave early. News came of the serious illness of Kitty Dalton—the direct result of the wild party. Tommy Warner came with the news that Gloria and Herb Richardson were to be married that night. Gloria was then to go out of town to take care of Kitty Dalton. Gloria and Herb were married by Rev. John Storm. With Gloria married, Virginia began to ponder her own future. Her finances were low.

VIRGINIA'S PLANS.

Tommy Warner, manlike, feared the tears that poured down my cheeks more than he would an avalanche. He wanted to calm me, but he misunderstood.

"Don't cry, Virginia! Don't! It would have been a mistake to have given you Gloria's part."

"I know it, Tommy. I couldn't have filled it. It would have been the end of my career had you given it to me."

"Gosh! I wish all the budding young picture actresses were as sensible. But what are you crying for?"

"I am afraid, Tommy. I am an awful coward."

"Perhaps, Virginia. But you haven't shown it up to now. It took nerve to come out here and tackle the movies. It is the hardest game in the world for a girl like you."

"That is just it. I never would have come had I known what I do now. Why, Tommy, I don't know what I am going to do next! Ria is going away and I don't know who I can go to with my trouble. I'm so lonesome," and my tears came anew.

"Here, here, buck up! You have me, you know," reminded Tommy in Alarm.

"Yes, but you aren't a girl."

"No, I am not, thank Heaven! But what worries you?"

"I don't know where I will get another job. I thought this one would take two or three weeks at least."

"It will be easy for you to get a job in atmosphere. Did you call up the Service Bureau?"

"No. I didn't know that I had to do that."

"Well, do it just as soon as you get back to the apartment. And listen, Virginia, if you want anything just call on me. I am going to be awful busy and I may not have time to call on you or come and see you, but I am here. Remember that—and I will help you if you want me."

"I am going to move, Tommy, tomorrow probably, and I will give you my telephone number as soon as I find a place."

"Why are you moving?"

"I'll get a single one somewhere," I assured him.

Tommy, with his usual understanding did not offer to come up to the apartment and I hurried out of the car much comforted by his cheerful: "Call me, Virgie, when you want me. And don't forget to call the Service Bureau immediately—Pico 1101."

As I closed the doors of the electric elevator and pushed the button for the fourth floor, I almost slumped down in a heap. I was tired, so tired. Was it worth it all. I wondered?

Back in my old Virginia home I was certain to have an easy time. Grandfather, tyrannical though he was, never asked me to work as hard as I had today. There I was sure to have plenty to eat and clothes of a sort to wear. It would be a sure, safe life, even though a monotonous one—and grandfather could not live always.

Ria was not in the apartment when I arrived. I called up the Service Bureau and received the comforting message that they had been trying to get me, but, failing, the job had been given to some one else.

I was too tired to think of getting anything to eat and I pulled out my bed from the buffet and dropped on it without undressing.

I felt that I had been sleeping for hours when Ria came in and shook me gently. "Virgie, I know it is horrid to waken you, but you must undress yourself, and besides, I am leaving early tomorrow.

"Kitty Dalton has agreed to go with me to Santa Barbara and I am taking her and a nurse on the morning train. And do you know the little wretch insists that she didn't drink any liquor except at Herb's bungalow. Herb says she is laying a plan for a big damage suit when she gets better. But I'll spoil that some way."

I heard Ria as though in a dream as I, fumbling, undressed myself and literally fell into bed. I do not know whether Ria said more, and in the morning when I awakened she had gone.

"What will she think of me?" I reproached myself. And then I spied a note.

"Virgie dear," it read, "it isn't far to Santa Barbara and I know just how tired you were last night so I did not waken you. Tommy called up and told me that you were finished at his studio and I knew that the kindest thing I could do for you was to let you sleep this morning. If you do not get a job right away, come to Santa Barbara and see me. Tommy seemed to think that you were discouraged. Don't try to go too fast, dear. In this business taking things slowly is better in the end. I have taken a furnished house at Santa Barbara and I will write you the street address and telephone number as soon as I arrive.

"Always loving you,

"GLORIA."

Ensuing Term His Fourth as City Official; Big Crowd Attends Meeting.

SAN LEANDRO, April 18.—Allen E Pelton was re-elected mayor of San Leandro last night at the semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of this city, defeating Mrs. Susie Dalziel, by a three to two vote. Following the announcement of the Board's choice, it was moved that the vote favor.

The mayor, in his speech of acceptance, said: "I have served three terms as mayor of San Leandro, and my re-election is indicative of the confidence you have in me I will try to uphold that confidence." Pelton paid a tribute to Mrs. Dalziel, and L. J. Toffelmier, former city trustee, defeated by a narrow margin at the recent election.

The meeting of the board opened before one of the largest crowds that ever packed the city hall. Fire Chief Bert Rogers raised the question of securing fire-masks for the members of the department, but action was held over to a later meeting.

Expiration of a five year lease on the city dumping ground, located near the San Leandro beach, was discussed and held over for investigation.

Protests from J. A. Gay, and the firm of Dreed and Bancroft, real-estate, regarding the proposed repairs on Lewis and Mitchell avenues, were read. The cause of the objections were stated as the failure of the board to post notices ten days before the time set for hearing, together with the high cost of repairing materials in direct contrast with the low value of the bordering property. Objectors are requested to appear at the next meeting and voice their protests.

Bids for proposed electroliers on Estudillo avenue were heard, the contract being given to M. A. Lopes, local man. The price set was $1149, for thirteen electroliers.

Following a discussion of all old business on hand, results of the past election were thoroughly canvassed and pronounced correct. L. J. Toffelmeir surrendered his chair to Edwin Duck, newly elected member to the board. Both Duck and Pelton were sworn into office by city clerk J. J. Gill, whereupon the election of mayor was held and the results announced.

Mrs. Susie Dalziel, J. J. Gill, J. Allison Bruner, city attorney, and Judge W. J. Gannon, expressed their approval of the choice shown and promised cooperation.

The question of establishing a city park bordering the banks of San Leandro creek, extending from East Fourteenth street to the Foothill boulavard, was presented by J. Russell, Broadmoor resident. Various committees were appointed by Pelton.

SAVANT FORCED TO LIVE WITH FORMER WIFE

KIEV, April 18.—Team work between the Soviet bureau of marriage and divorce and the bureau of housing is not so good as it might be in Kiev.

In the past many young husbands have found it impossible to obtain living quarters with their brides, as no one can move without permission from the housing bureau, and this department invariably frowns upon such applications.

While these young men have complained, they have not been the objects of much concern, for Soviet Russia has many problems of far greater magnitude in the offing. But cold and hunger have not completely banished its ability to sympathize, as was demonstrated recently when the hearts of the populace went out to a young university professor who procured a divorce and walked jauntily over to the housing bureau to get a moving permit.

"Nothing doing," was the gist of the clerk's reply.

The professor made it clear that he was divorced and exhibited documents to prove it. Still the clerk remained obdurate, and the professor and his ex-wife are fighting their battles within the same four walls.

Raising Beer Price Worries England

LONDON, April 18.—The ever-increasing price of beer is worrying England. The foaming mug that once graced even the most humble table is fast getting beyond the reach of poorer families, and a reduction in taxation is the only thing that will bring it back again, according to the chairman of a big London brewery.

By the excessive tax on cigars and sparkling wines the government effectively killed the trade in these commodities, he said, and beer will be the next to go. In 1914 the brewers paid duty on 36,000,000 barrels of beer, while in 1920 the amount had shrunk to 25,000,000 barrels. The estimate for 1921, the brewer said, is slightly less than 21,000,000 barrels.

LUNCHEON SUCCESSFUL.

SAN LEANDRO, April 18.—Success attended the initital "Round Table" luncheon held under the auspices of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce yesterday at the Estudillo House. A large number of local business men attended the midday gathering. The luncheons, an outgrowth of the monthly affairs of the sort presented by the chamber, will continue through an indefinite period, it is said.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER.

DETROIT, April 18.—The body of Ray Besse, who disappeared two months ago with his two small sons, after telling his wife he would "do away with the boys to make her suffer" was found in Detroit river last night. No trace of the boys, who were 6 and 8 years of age, has been found.

BRITISH ESTATE AT BARGAIN

DURHAM, Eng., April 18.—Lord Strathmore has offered to sell his $1,000,000 Streatlam estate for $185,000.

Big Standard Oil Contract Opposed

PRAGUE, April 18.—Serious opposition to the carrying out by the Czechoslovakian government of the contract entered into with the Standard Franco-American Oil Company has developed in the legislature here. The concession in question gives the Franco-American Company the exclusive right to search for and produce oil in the Czechoslovakian oil fields and to export oil after production has surpassed the domestic requirements.

The contract, already approved by the council of ministers, is being held in abeyance because of bitter attacks upon it by political opponents of Premier Benes, especially from the German group in the Czech senate.

WOMAN DEFEATS KING.

LONDON, April 18. — King George entered two retrievers in Cruft's Dog Show, but both were beaten by the dogs of Mrs. Quintin Dick.

BUREAU OF JAZZ CENSORS NAMED IN GEORGIA CITY

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 18.—Establishment of a jazz bureau as a part of the city government to determine the fine line between the vrious syncopated steps as exhibited in the best society the athen the etenenen social-danzants and the abhorpect today following the apodttoday following the adoption by the city council of an ordinance prohibiting the activities of jazz artists in Savannah as injurious to public morals.

The council gave only brief discussion to the subject before fixing the penalty for violation of the new ordinance at $100 fine and thirty days imprisonment, and amending it to include professional dancers.

There have been no applicants for the directorship of the bureau, those qualified evidently being reluctant to proclaim their wares.

Widow Sues Autoist For Husband's Death

SAN JOSE, April 18.—Suit for $25,000 as compensation for the death of the late Theodore William Weeden, local rancher, brought by Mrs. Frances Weeden and her three children against A. A. Azevedo, whose negligent driving, they charge, resulted in an accident in which Weeden was killed, was in progress before a jury of nine women and three men in Judge J. R. Welch's department of the superior court here this morning, the jury having been drawn yesterday.

Testimony in the case is expected to take up today and probably tomorrow, the case going to the jury late Wednesday.

Weeden was killed when Azevedo's car struck him while he was standing by his machine on the state highway, one mile north of Santa Clara, on January 17, this year. The defense contends that Weeden did not have a light on his machine and that he was stopped in the darkness.

The Georgia Casualty company, in which Weeden was insured, is co-plaintiff in the case.

HORSE CAN'T COMPETE IN AGE CONTEST

"Well, well, old man. Glad to see you in the city. Should think you'd be too busy on the ranch to tear yourself away this time of year. How's the cows and chickens?"

"Everything lovely. Just down for day or two. Came with my brother who went back East today."

"Hope you are going up to the house while you're here. Wife and kiddies will be glad to see you. Say, by the way, just before I met you I was reading that the University Farm at Davis is looking for the oldest horse in the state. I thought of that old nag, 'Smoke,' of yours. Couldn't he compete for honors?"

"Well, he could all right but he's been dead a year now. The oldest thing I have is clothes. I could win a lot of prizes on them. That's one reason I'm anxious to get back to the ranch. I keep running on you fellows who try to lure me out to your homes. Can't be done. I haven't any decent clothes with me or anywhere else. Wife tells me I should be ashamed to be seen, but I keep putting off the ordeal of getting some. Hate to spend the money now."

"Say, old man, while you're here why don't you go to Cherry's at 528 13th street and buy a suit on credit and surprise the wife? Pay down what you like and then make monthly payments. You won't hardly notice the money is gone that way."

ANIMAL LIFE ON MARS IS HELD TO BE IMPROBABLE

Scientist Says Venus in One Billion Years Will Be Inhabited.

STOCKHOLM, April 18.—The planet Mars—an old dying world—is reciving altogether too much attention from earthly scientists these days and night, while the up-and-coming young planet Venus is just waiting for a chance to know us better.

This is the conclusion of Professor Svante Arrhenius, Nobel prize winner and one of Europe's foremost scientists and astronomers, who lectured here on the prospect of wheedling from the heavens the secrets of some of our celestial neighbors, and especially Mars, when that planet swings into closest proximity to the earth two years hence.

MARS DYING OR DEAD.

If scientists and long distance radio fans really want to communicate with some celestial neighbor, Professor Arrhenius said, they will not find Mars very cordial, for the old fellow—dying or already dead—is covered with hard frozen sand and is so dry that its only rain is meteoric dust. Perhaps a few sea weeds still exist, he said, but it is highly improbable that even low animal life could find enough to sustain it. He described as "fantastic" the belief that so-called canals observed on the planet were the work of engineers and attributed them to earthquake fissures.

Venus, on the other hand, offers potential possibilities to the patient astronomer, Professor Arrhenius declared. By "patient" he meant about a billion years, he explained. At the expiration of this period, he thought a flourishing colony of intelligent beings might be discovered on the bright little planet.

VENUS DRIPPING WET.

"Everything on Venus is dripping wet," he continued. "The planet is covered by constant rain-cloud 10 kilometers thick, preventing any rays from the sun penetrating to the bottom of the air-strata. Life on the planet of love is short and intense."

Living organisms, he thought, might be found at the polar regions where the temperature was slightly lower than other parts of the planet.

"When the earth is extinguished," he concluded, "it will be Venus, queen of the heavens, that will take over the role as carrier of culture."

PUNCH IN NOSE FATAL.

CALCUTTA, April 18.—A riot precipitated by a punch in the nose given to a millhand by his manager caused a riot at Titagarh in which thirteen men were killed.

LIVE SHELL IN COAL.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., April 18.—A four-inch live shell found in the coal being fed to the gas plant furnace here would have wrecked the plant.

NINE RULES TO GUIDE MEN WHO TRAVEL DESERT

SAN BERNARDINO, April 18.—After more than forty years of southwest desert travel, Earl L. Ames has summed up his experience in nine rules which he declares every desert motor traveler should observe. If they are followed, Ames said, there is little chance of ever getting lost or failing into trouble. The rules are:

1. Always take more water than you need.
2. Always ask how far water is from each station and, even if it is only a few miles, fill all your water receptacles.
3. Always carry a few dozen lemons with you.
4. If you are stalled in deep sand and see you are up against it, let all but about ten pounds of air out of your rear tires. This will give you trackage and get you out.
5. Never leave the road or trail to hunt water as every road and trail leads to water on the desert. Where there is no trail or road there is no water. The Indians found all water holes centuries ago.
6. Never make your bed on the ground if you can help it. The tarantula months are October and November. The little rattler, called the "sidewinder," does his traveling on summer nights. Look out for him.
7. Burn a little sulphur around your camp before going to bed.
8. Always keep a cool head.
9. Don't make friends with strangers on the desert.

JAPANESE POLO COMBINATION OF VARIOUS SPORTS

TOKYO, April 18.—Lovers of almost any popular sport enjoyed in the Occident would find an appeal in Japanese polo or "dakyu," as it is called here, for the game seems to be a combination of golf, lacrosse, billiards, bowling, horsemanship and even football, as it entails considerable risk to the players.

A special exhibition of this game will be played in honor of the Prince of Wales during his visit here, and as the future British ruler is a lover of all sports, particularly horsemanship, he is expected to display keen interest in the contest.

How the game originated is not known, but it has been played since ancient times, and still is reserved largely for young noblemen and officers of the military staff, who are practically the only ones able to acquire an equestrian standard high enough to make the sport exciting.

The contest is held on a regulation course 60 by 30 yards, boarded up at one end by a high fence. In the middle of the field is a small pocket into which the balls have to be thrown. On either side of this pocket are movable discs, which mark the score by being moved up and down. The last two discs are marked with a cross, and it is not until one of these has disappeared that the game is decided.

A number of red and white balls, one of each crossed to correspond with the discs, are thrown in before the game begins. Then the players, eight in red and eight in white, all dressed in old-style native costumes, with saddles and accoutrements to match, ride in alternately in stately procession, salute the distinguished guests and begin the game.

Each player carries a short bamboo wand with a small net attached to the end, and his object is to stoop and capture a ball in this net corresponding to the color of his team. He then rides furiously toward the goal, where he attempts to pitch the ball into the cup from the net.

During the throwing of the first three or four balls there is no serious opposition on either side, but when they have been thinned out somewhat and one side finds itself losing ground, the battle becomes fast and furious. The losing side begins riding and dashing at its opponents from all sides, cutting in front, circling from behind and balking them in every way possible.

The crisis is reached when nothing remains but the last two crossed balls, by which the game is decided.

Berkeley Democrats Will Meet Thursday

Berkeley Democrats have called a meeting Thursday evening, April 20, at the Hotel Whitecotton to organize for the coming campaign. Former Collector of the Port J. O. Davis is to be the speaker.

Officers will be elected to succeed President Hugh W. Brunk and Secretary Mrs. S. Bray. The arrangements committee is Mrs. W. J. Hotchkiss, chairman; Miss Knox and Ed H. Martin, and the committee on publicity is Mrs. J. M. Fernald, James H. Seawell and Frank V. Cornish. The announcement invites all Berkeleyans interested in the success of the party to attend, and it is proposed to cooperate with the Berkeley Women's Democratic and the University Democratic clubs, said to have an enrollment of the more than 1000 members.

San Andreas School Principal Is Dead

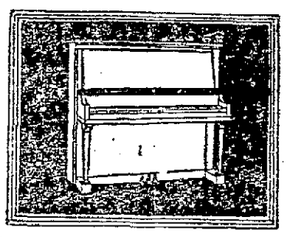

SAN ANDREAS, April 18.—James Keith, principal of the Calaveras union high school, this place, died Sunday night after an illness of some time. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, from the late home, under Masonic auspices.

Deceased was a native of Scotland, aged 61 years. For more than 30 years he lived in this county. He was admitted to the bar many years ago, and between 1907 and 1911 was district attorney. He gave up law, however, to teach school and was successful in the profession he liked best. He leaves a widow and one son.

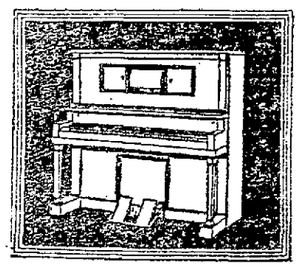

LONG BEACH ELECTION.

LONG BEACH, April 18.—Long Beach voted today on a proposition to acquire municipal ownership of 215 acres of tide lands for $2,000,000. Advocates of the plan assert fewer than ten per cent of the voters have expressed opposition, while seventy per cent have pledged themslve to support a bond issue for this purpose.

'PENROD' WILL BE SHOWN FOR BOYS

The TRIBUNE and the T. & D. theater extended more than 2000 invitations to the Boy Scouts of Oakland and Alameda to be their guests at a special showing of Marshall Neilan's picturization of the famous Booth Tarkington "Penrod" stories, which will be given next Saturday at 10 a. m. at the Oakland T. & D. theater.

Mayor Davie will head the youths in a parade down Broadway to the theater. They will gather in uniform in front of the city hall at 9:30 a. m. A general Scout rally will be held and the lads will be addressed by several prominent Eastbay business men.

The TRIBUNE-T. & D. camera man will take "movies" of the day's doings.

Wesley "Freckles" Barry, a noted Scout member plays the title role of "Penrod." He was selected after long consultations between Director Neilan and Tarkington, but he was finally chosen as the ideal Penrod.

"Penrod" is a delightful story of love, youth and laughter, and should give the boys two hours of pleasing entertainment. It will be the attraction at the Oakland T. & D. theater starting next Sunday.

W. C. T. U. Planning To Aid Wright Bill

BERKELEY, April 18.—Plans for active work in the interests of the Wright bill for law enforcement will be made at a campaign institute to be held tomorrow by the Berkeley Women's Christian Temperance Union, at Epworth M. E. church, Durant and Telegraph avenues.

Sessions will be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon, with a basket lunch at noon. Mrs. C. W. During the luncheon hour Mrs. Melva Green will give a short talk on "Peace," while the main feature of the afternoon will be an address by Mrs. Millicent McCorkle, state lecturer of the department of temperance and missions.

A special invitation has been sent to members of missionary societies to join in the meetings, while a question box will be conducted as a feature of the program.

Girl's Poster for Ad Masque Unveiled at Club Luncheon

MISS PEARL VAN DER VOORT, and the poster she has designed for the Ad-Masque.

Writer and Producer of "Alladin," This Year's Spectacle Outlines Its Main Features

Ad Masque Day was observed by the Oakland Advertising Club at its luncheon, Hotel Oakland, today.

Miss Pearl Van Der Voort, Oakland girl artist, unveiled the Ad Masque poster she had drawn and which has been officially adopted by the committee in charge. The poster discloses a dancing girl outlined against the flame of a Chinese lantern, holding in her hands the magic lamp of Aladdin out of which, in the right hand corner of the poster, appears the mysterious, laughing face of the Genii of the lamp. "Aladdin" is the name of the drama spectacle which will feature the year's Ad Masque. It was written by George Cummings who also will produce it.

DETAILS ARE GIVEN.

Details of the Ad Masque were given at the luncheon. Larry Lund, chairman of the Ad Club, turned the meeting over to Cummings who outlined briefly the main features of this year's event. Cummings originated the Ad Masque seven years ago. Since then it has become a big annual event with the local advertising club and its fame has spread throughout the nation.

Other speakers at the luncheon were George Hughes, veteran of the Ad Club and one of the promoters of the original Ad Masque who discussed, "What the Ad Masque Means to Our Town;" "Pete" Rhinehart who with William Brewer wrote last year's Ad Masque, "The Sleeping Princess"; Fred Blanchard who directed the pageant last year; Charles Chace, manager of this year's event who told of the revival of the Parade of Ads feature and the tremendous support it is receiving from national and local advertisers.

WILSON REFUTES REED CLAIM OF LAUDATORY NOTE

But Senator Insists He Was Praised for Course On Federal Reserve.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—Declaring he had been "insulted" by former President Wilson, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri in a formal statement today asserted Wilson's memory was shown to be "sadly deficient" by his letter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat saying the Missouri Senator had opposed passage of the Federal Reserve Act.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—A letter from Woodrow Wilson last night denied a recent statement printed in Globe-Democrat that he had thanked Senator James M. Reed, Democratic candidate for nomination and re-election, for "great service which the senator rendered him in perfecting and passing the federal reserve bill," which was issued by Lee Meriweather, attorney and supporter of Reed here.

Accompanying Wilson's letter, the Globe-Democrat prints another letter from Senator Reed which contains what purports to be a copy of the letter from Wilson to Reed.

The former president's letter to the editor of the Globe-Democrat under date of April 15, 1922, at Washington, says:

I note in your issue of April 12 that Lee Meriweather is quoted as saying that he had seen a letter from me to Senator Reed warmly thanking him for the great service the senator rendered in perfecting and passing the federal reserve bill. I have no recollection of ever having written such letter. On the contrary, I clearly remember that Mr. Reed interposed every objection to the bill. His objections, indeed, were so many, so varied and so inconsistent that I recall speaking to him about them. Having spoken of reading a certain parody on a well known novel, I told him his course reminded me of the hero in that parody, who, when rejected by the heroine, rushed from the house, mounted several horses and rode off in every direction.

INCAPABLE OF ALEGIANCE.

Statements such as the one quoted from Mr. Meriweather appear to be intended to create the impression that Mr. Reed and I have held the same principles and advocated the same policies and that he is entitled to and may be assumed to have my endorsement as a candidate for re-election to the senate. This is far from being the case. To those who have closely observed Mr. Reed's career, he has shown himself incapable of sustained allegiance to any person or any cause. He has repeatedly forfeited any claim to my confidence that he may ever have been supposed to have, and I shall never willingly consent to further association with him.

A letter and statement given to a Washington representative of the Globe-Democrat by Senator Reed is printed as follows:

I did have a difference with the president over the federal reserve bank bill. The kernel of that controversy was that the president insisted that the bill should be reported out and passed very speedily without giving an opportunity for hearings. I insisted that hearings be granted. It was after these hearings and with reference to them that the president wrote me the following letter. I hand you a facsimile of the letter.

LETTER TO REED.

Senator Reed here produced a printed circular ending with a photographic copy of the president's letter, which read:

I want to thank you very warmly, sincerely, for your statement made through a New York paper. I have felt all along the sincerity, the honesty and judgment you were exercising in this whole matter, and you may be sure that there has never been in mind any criticism except an occasional difference of judgment. I think that things are now shaping themselves admirably and I am quite willing to admit that the processes upon which you have insisted have contributed to that result.

P. S: Pray call upon me at any time you would like to confer about any feature of the matter.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—Lee Meriwether, attorney, and supporter of Senator James A. Reed, today reiterated his statement that he had seen a copy of a letter by former President Wilson praising Reed's attitude on the federal reserve bill, which the former executive last night denied existed, after he read Meriwether's recent statement in the Globe-Democrat.

U. C. Girl Student Goes to National Y.W.C.A. Session

MISS KATHRYN SPRINGBORG, who will present problems of California girls to national meeting.

Miss Kathry Springborg Will Represent 5000 Members at Meeting.

BERKELEY, April 18.—Representing 5000 girls at the University of California, Miss Kathryn Springborg, prominent member of the 1922 class, has left for Hot Springs, Ark., to serve as delegate to the annual convention of the National Y. W. C. A.

Miss Springborg, who was a former president of the University association in Berkeley, will present the viewpoint of California students on problems of mutual interest affecting college girls from throughout the nation. The convention opens Thursday and will continue a week.

The question of a personal or creed basis for membership will probably be the main problem of the meeting.

HUNT CONTINUES FOR VICTIMS OF ESTUARY MISHAP

Police and Civilians Still Are Dragging for Bodies of Sunday Tragedy.

ALAMEDA, April 18. — Police and civilians still are dragging the estuary in an effort to locate the bodies of Thomas Bodycote and Heinie Liskey, victims of the accident of Sunday, which claimed five lives. The body of Mrs. Bodycote was recovered yesterday afternoon by Henry Inch, 104 Eagle avenue, and William Fraser, 638 Lincoln avenue, off the foot of Grand street. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnson were recovered shortly after the tragedy. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Carter of 1308 Ninth street were the only two survivors.

According to Carter and witnesses, Liskey, who was but a poor oarsman, persisted in rowing the boat. When Johnson and Carter protested, and the former had attempted to secure the oars, Liskey rocked the boat, upsetting it.

Fearing that an accident would happen to the party, Severen Johansen, second mate of the steamer Encinal, had kept a watch upon them. When he saw the boat go over, he and his 14-year-old son jumped into a skiff, and with Jack Lewis in another boat, went to the rescue. They saved the Carters.

Arrangements for the burial of the Johnsons were made last night. Services will be held tomorrow and interment will be private. They are survived by a daughter, Della. Mrs. Johnson is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Della Davidson, and two brothers, Stanley and Archibald Davidson. She was a native of California and 45 years of age. Johnson was also a Californian and 43 years of age.

KLAN INITIATES.

Members of State Mothers' Clubs Number 43,236

By EDNA B. KINARD.

California Congress of Mothers numbers 43,236 members, according to the official report of Mrs. Arthur Painter of Berkeley financial secretary. The figures are based on the actual paid-up enrollments prepared preliminary to the annual state convention, which will be held in San Diego May 23-26. A movement is afoot to bring the membership to the 50,000 mark before that date. Within the past year 117 new associations have been organized. The impetus which has been given the parent-teacher movement has resulted in the creation of a new district—the twelfth—which will cover Ventura county. California has contributed $700 to the National Congress of Mothers in recognition of Founders' day, according to Mrs. H. G. Tardy of Oakland, state chairman of the silver anniversary fund.

Mrs. Harry J. Ewing, president of the California Congress of Mothers, will officially represent the important organization at the convention of the National Congress of Mothers, which will be held in Tacoma, Wash., during the first week in May. The executive board is sending their leader that California may be fully exploited at the conference of the mothers of the United States. Local federations and associations are being asked to send their presidents to the state and district conventions, making them the largest gatherings ever held by the organization.

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce, San Diego California Club and the San Diego Business and Professional Men's Club are cooperating with the San Diego Federation of Mothers' Clubs in arranging the entertainment for the twenty-third annual convention of the state body, which has named the southern city as its place of meeting.

That Alameda district, C. F. W. C., annual convention, which will be called to order at noon tomorrow in the Twentieth Century Clubhouse of Berkeley, will move with briskness and keep to time is assured in an innovation which has been made by Mrs. George A. Rigg, president. Timekeepers have been duly appointed with a schedule of each participant's allotted time. Over-talking will be promptly ruled down. Moreover, speakers themselves have received a courteous announcement. Specially printed cards have gone to each man and woman whose name appears on the three-day program, setting forth concisely the time allowed, the place, the date and the hour of appearance.

Mrs. T. C. Coogan will open her Oakland-avenue residence for a musicale-tea which will be hostessed by Section 7 of the Woman's Club of Plymouth church on Thursday afternoon, April 27. A cantilation, "When the Great Guest Came" (Edwin Markham), will be contributed to the program by Mrs. Ralph Seeley. Mrs. Walter Carroll will give humorous readings. Among the musicians who will assist are: Mrs. Rudolph Druhe, soprano; Mrs. Edwin C. Peterson, contralto; Miss Jean Allen, cello; Mrs. Clement Rust, accompanist.

California Writers' Club members who are associated in the fiction section are now engaging in the last contest of the season among themselves. Miss Elizabeth Everetts, curator, announced this morning that the date of the receiving manuscripts had been extended from April 15 to April 20, and that many additional entries would be welcome.

The regular section program has been postponed from Saturday, April 22, to the last Saturday of the month.

The parental school, an institution which is deeply interesting educators and civic leaders, will be discussed tomorrow when the Fremont High School Parent-Teacher Association meets in the Little Theater of the school. H. D. Brasfield, principal, will present the arguments in favor of founding a 24-hour school in this city. A second speaker will present whatever arguments may be against it.

A business session will engage the attention of the mothers preliminary to the program.

Ambitious to send their president to the annual convention of Second district, California Congress of Mothers which will meet in Petaluma next week, the newly organized Daniel Webster Parent-Teacher Association will hostess a large card party in Redmen's hall, 9410 East Fourteenth street, tonight. The benefit marks the debut of the clubwomen in community affairs. The public is invited to cooperate with them and to enjoy the pleasure which is offered.

The executive board of Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, will meet on Saturday morning, April 22, in the Y. W. C. A. building of Oakland, according to announcement made by Mrs. J. V. Toland, corresponding secretary.

AGED FLAGMAN KEEPS MONEY, BUT GETS SHOT

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Benjamin T. Corey, 71 years old, kept fifty cents for which he had been asked, but went to the receiving hospital with a bullet wound in his head, as the result.

Corey, a railroad flagman, was lowering safety gates last night when a roughly dressed man accosted him, drew a revolver and said:

"Give me 50 cents!"

"Don't bother me," replied Corey, "I'm busy."

Then the gunman fired.

Bobbed Hair Was a Fad 2500 Years Ago

BERKELEY, April 18.—Bobbed hair and earpuffs were fashionable 2500 years ago, according to the results of an investigation conducted here by students of the University of California who recently produced "The Vision of Marpesse," a Grecian outdoor pageant.

Several of the girls had demurred at taking part because they feared their bobbed locks would not look sufficiently ancient. An investigation was started and the students and their faculty advisors found that the Greek women of centuries ago bobbed their hair, used earpuffs and also resorted to brilliantine and other beauty aids on occasion.

ENGLISH ACTOR DIES.

PARIS, April 18.—Henry V. Esmond, 52, English playwright and actor, died suddenly in Paris yesterday. He first appeared on the stage in 1885. Some of his better known plays are: "When We Were Twenty-one," "The Sentimentalist," "Under the Greenwood Tree," "The Law Divine" and "Birds of a Feather." He was married in 1891 to Eva Moore, an actress.

NATIVE SONS' AID TO HOMELESS CHILDREN LAUDED

Annual Grand Ball Will Be Held Tonight at Arcadia, 14th and Franklin

ment," went on Garry, flaying the verbal pact, "by which Japan pledged herself not to issue passports to others than students and diplomats, hundreds of permits to come here are being issued by that country for people we do not want.

BRYAN'S VISIT TO SACRAMENTO CITED.

"When President Wilson came here during his campaign in 1912, he said: 'In the matter of Japanese and Chinese coolie immigration, I stand for exclusion.' But later, through him, Bryan was sent to Sacramento to plead with our legislators to let that plank in the Democratic platform go by in deference to the national welfare.

"No Japanese coming into this country can own or lease land, according to the present law, but this is laxly enforced." It was at this point that Garry declared that a Japanese exclusion law was the only salvation of the State and country, and his declaration was greeted with loud cheers and applause from the Native Sons, which lasted for several minutes.

"There are 109,000 Japanese in California today," continued the Japanese Exclusion League official. "The Japanese birth rate here is alarming. In the year 1910 there were 719 Japanese infants born in this State. In 1920 there were 4971, or a ratio of one to 12. During the ten years, from 1910 to 1920, there were a total of 33,000 Japanese born in this State alone, with the same rights and privileges as you and I.

SAME SITUATION IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

"The same situation holds in the Hawaiian Islands. There are 49,000 Japanese there today. In Placer county 15,000 out of 19,000 acres of irrigated land is owned and controlled by Japanese.

"The money the Japanese make here, and they are making millions of dollars, does not go for the good of this country, like the money of it goes back to Japan to compete American citizens does, but instead with our industries, and perhaps to build battleships with which to fight our own."

Garry ridiculed statements credited to those favoring Japanese immigration that Japan was overpopulated, and declared that Japan had 5,000,000 acres of land she could reclaim and thus provide homes and employment for millions of her people.

ROOM IN POSSESSIONS FOR MANY JAPANESE.

"There is room for many millions of Japanese in Japan's possessions," he said. "Let them go there. They come to California because of the salubrious climate and ideal conditions, but let them go elsewhere. We don't want them."

The speaker paid a great tribute to the order of the Native Sons of the Golden West, declaring that without that organization's financial assistance there would be no Japanese Exclusion League in California today. "The Native Sons of the Golden West has been the only organization on which we could rely for help. They alone came to our assistance with funds, and it is the money which they so generously gave for this great cause that has enabled us to do the work which we have done. The Japanese Exclusion League works secretly, because the Japanese work secretly."

Garry paid a tribute to the Attorney-General of California, U. S. Webb, saying that he believed Webb did all in his power and his duty to investigate land transactions involving Japanese.

APPEAL MADE FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.

The speaker concluded by making an appeal to the Grand Parlor for financial assistance, and asked that each parlor contribute a small sum each month to aid in the fight against Japanese immigration.

Last night the annual reception of the Grand Parlor was held in the municipal auditorium. Joseph R. Knowland, a past grand president of the order, was the chairman and delivered an address of welcome, and introduced the speakers.

"We of Oakland and of Alameda county are indeed glad to welcome you," said Knowland. "Alameda county, figures show, ranks second in Native Sonism, and we take great pride in the work of our various parlors, and conceive it a great honor to welcome the Grand Parlor here.

ALAMEDA COUNTY IS ACTIVE IN ORDER.

"However, we of Alameda county not only rank second in Native Sonism, but we pride ourselves in always being to the front in all activities. Twenty-six years have gone by since the last Grand Parlor convened here. Then Oakland had a population of about 55,000. Now she has a population of about 225,000, springing from a small city to one of the largest industrial centers on the Pacific coast."

The chairman outlined the program prepared for the diversion of the delegates while they are the guests of the city, and concluded by again welcoming the Grand Parlor and declaring that he hoped their stay would be a pleasant and eventful one.

DELEGATES WELCOMED BY ACTING MAYOR.

Commissioner Albert E. Carter, acting mayor in the absence of John L. Davie, was introduced by Knowland and welcomed the delegates for the city.

"Fellow Californians," he said, "on behalf of the people of the city of Oakland, I welcome you. As Chairman Knowland has stated, twenty-six years have elapsed since we entertained you, and we hope that it will not be so long again. We are delighted, indeed, to have you with us, and it is our wish that your convention be most successful, that you will gain much through your stay here, and that your parting will be tinged with regret and firm in determination to come back soon.

Carter enumerated a few of the beauty spots of the city and recommended the delegates visit them. He told of the floral beauty of the city hall plaza and the scenic wonder of the skyline boulevard, which he declared was said to be one of the three most beautiful drives in the world.

STATE ISSUES OUST PETTY JEALOUSIES.

In introducing Grand President William I. Traeger of Los Angeles, the chairman said that despite the boosting of various communities and localities, the Native Sons had always stood solidly for California, and that any petty jealousies which might possibly exist were suddenly and willingly forgotten by members of the order when a state issue was at stake.

"As Grand President of the Order of the Native Sons," said Traeger, "I am glad to accept the warm welcome from the chairman and the acting mayor. We, from other portions of the state realize your scenic possessions.

"There is not a city in California today that has not had a wonderful growth. Is there any wonder that the great industries of the east are coming to our state, and is it any wonder that California is making such a record with such possessions as we have?"

PURPOSE OF ORDER TOLD BY PRESIDENT.

Speaking of the order of which he is grand president, Traeger continued: "The order of Native Sons of the Golden West was founded for a purpose, and that purpose to boost California. There is not a man in this order who doesn't boast about his California—not north, not south, just California.

"Another purpose of the Native Sons is to preserve the historic landmarks and records of the achievements of our forefathers, and we have been doing this work and will keep on doing it. We are proud to band ourselves together in the development of this great state."

He touched briefly on the historic research and the homeless children work being carried on by the order, paying a tribute to the persons at the heads of these activities.

LIFE IN ORDER IS ONE OF SERVICE.

"It is my opinion," continued Grand President Traeger, "that every man born in California should have membership in this order Life in the order of Native Sons is one of service. The order demands the best that men have in them to live up to its requirements."

Grand President Traeger's address was followed by some vocal selections.

Dr. Victory A. Derrick, president of the Order of Native Daughters of the Golden West, the next speaker, extended a welcome to the Grand Parlor from the organization she represents.

"We sincerely hope," she said, "that your labors here will be such as to bring your order greatest results. We trust that when the work of your session is completed you will carry to your various homes the pleasantest of memories regarding your visit here.

"We realize you have tremendous work ahead of you, work which may not only affect the destiny of your own order, but of the state.

MEMBERS OF ORDERS FOSTER LOVE OF STATE.

"The Native Sons as well as the Native Daughters are trying to foster and keep alive the fires of love for their native land. We hope that we may all become so familiar with that spirit of the west that we can sing truly, 'I Love You, California,' and add to it a stanza of that latest song, "You're the Land at the Foot of the Rainbow."

Lewis F. Byington, of San Francisco, a past grand president, declared that some day he hopes the cities of the Eastbay would be joined with San Francisco in one gigantic metropolis. "Every city in this great bay region," he said, 'is knit firmly to the heart of California. We love all the cities and above all we love California.

"Wherever people who come here are from, they are no longer citizens of Iowa, Belgium or France, but sons and daughters of California.

PATRIOTISM OF SONS LAUDED BY SPEAKER.

"There is one thing that California should be proud of above everything else, and that is the manner in which her sons responded when the call to arms came. When her president sent out his call for men to flock to the national standard to defend this land against militarism, California gave a greater percentage of her sons to the cause of liberty than any other state in the Union."

Byington flayed radicalism, and declared that people who rant against the government should be driven from every state.

Miss Mary E. Brusie, secretary and manager of a joint committee of Native Sons and Daughters for the work of caring for homeless children, was the next and last speaker. She told of the work being done by this branch of the order.

"The work of placing children in childless homes is constructive," she said, "and therefore closely affiliated with this organization which has always had a constructive program.

WORK WAS BEGUN AT SESSION OF 1909.

"This idea of providing homes for little children who had no parents, or whose parents did not want them was first conceived and put before the Grand Parlor session in 1909.

"The Native Sons," as they always do on right occasions, came quickly to the front and made it possible that this program might be carried on, and then for the first time in history a fraternal organization worked out a plan of benefit for persons outside their own order.

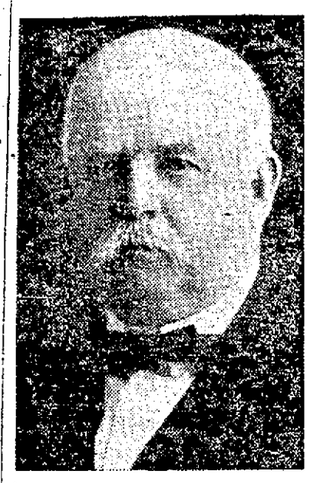

"We have been recruiting a large number of interested members who will investigate conditions and recommend for the good of a child many of the applicants who have applied to us for children. We receive from you on an average of $16,000 a year for this work, and the central committee which has it in charge is made up of three members of the Native Sons, three members of the Native Daughters, one from the Associated Charities, one from the Protestant organizations, one from the Catholics and another from the Jewish organizations. There are about 1600 homes today waiting for us to provide them with children.

After the reception the assembly went into the auditorium's arena, where dancing followed.

Tonight the annual grand ball will be held at the Arcadia, Fourteenth and Franklin streets. The grand march will be led by Grand President Traeger, with other officers following according to rank. The ball will begin at 9 o'clock.

Prior to the ball, a bowling contest between Alameda county parlors and San Francisco parlors will be held in the Ballard bowling alleys, 424 Eleventh street, at 8 p. m. Grand President Traeger will roll the first ball in the game, which will be for the championship of the order.

Native Daughters To Entertain Chief

Dr. Victory Derrick grand president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, is to be the guest of honor at a banquet and reception to be given by the local Native Daughters in the Pacific building on Saturday evening, April 22. Invitations have been sent to the grand officers of the Native Sons and Native Daughters.

Woman's Trial on Booze Charge Set

Accused by a youth, who she declares, is seeking revenge against her, Mrs. Helen Sarett, 1530 Twenty-third avenue, today pleaded not guilty before Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church to a charge of selling liquor to a minor. Her trial was set for May 25.

Thomas Thompson, 19, asserts that Mrs. Sarett sold him a flask of brandy for $1.50.

Mrs. Sarett declares that Thompson came to her house while she was giving a dinner party, at which she was serving liquor to her guests, that he called her names, and that she ordered him away.

Wife Wins Decree On Affinity Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Discovering only last week, she alleges, that her husband J. David Rapken, retired wholesale liquor dealer, 2345 Sutter street, had an affinity, Mrs. Nellie Rapken filed suit for a divorce and was given a decree today by Judge Murasky. The couple married December 3, 1917 and separated April 6. A family allowance of $2500, together with a home at 1645 Golden Gate avenue were given to Mrs. Rapken.

NOTED SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL BANQUET

Event Will Be One of Best in History of Order, Officials Say.

Indications are that the annual banquet which will be held in the Hotel Oakland tomorrow night in conjunction with the forty-fifth annual grand parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, will be one of the biggest and best ever held in the history of the organizations, according to grand officers and members on the committee today.

Last minute arrangements for the affair, which will be attended by every grand parlor delegate here for the convention, it is predicted, were being made late today. The committeemen in charge of the dinner were making final preparations for the speakers, and although the detailed program has not been announced, several speakers of state-wide reputation will deliver addresses.

Governor William D. Stephens was originally booked for the banquet, but the day before the grand parlor opened, was forced to decline the invitation because of previous engagements.

The committee in charge of the banquet, at which Past Grand President Robert M. Fitzgerald will act as toastmaster, is composed of Harold Flood, Tom Fitzgerald, Milton H. Glaze and W. H. White.

The banquet hall will be decorated in bear flags and the Stars and Stripes, flowers and colored bunting.

Y. W. C. A. PLANS DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Leaders in the Young Women's Christian Association drive for $60,000 will be present at the first annual rally of the "Y" clubs, to be held in the auditorium of the Association building in Webster street at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

More than 400 persons will attend, according to estimates today by Association authorities.

The affair will be devoted entirely to social activities, but will be attended by many of the leading men and women who are outlining the campaign for $60,000, to make upthe dificit in the Association's operating fund. It is announced by Leslie Oliver, chairman of the campaign, that the Association is 70 per cent self supporting and that the public will be asked only to make up the remaining 30 per cent will begin about May 1 and continue for a week with all the luncheon clubs and many other organizations participating.

Proposed Canal Is Criticized in Senate

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway and power project was criticized by Senator Calder, of New York, a Republican member of the Senate commerce committee, as of more benefit to Canada than the United States, and designed to increase wheat prices rather than to provide more efficient transportation.

Among other arguments against the project cited by Senator Calder in his address before the Senate were that it would not be under American control exclusively; that it would bring cheap European manufacturers in closer competition with American wares and that it would cost ten times as much as the Suez canal.

Trial of Jeweler Fixed for May 25

Trial of Moses E. Grossman, jeweler of 916 Broadway, on a charge of knowingly receiving stolen goods, was today set by Superior Judge Church for May 25.

Grossman recently was jailed for contempt of court by Police Judge Edward Tyrrell, when he refused to answer questions at the preliminary examination of Edward Graves, who was accused of having sold stolen property to Grossman.

Youth Arrested in Motor Theft Case

Arested while on his way to return an automobile which he says he "borrowed" for the purpose of making a trip to Los Angeles, Frank Whitty, who yesterday celebrated his twenty-first birthday, today pleaded guilty to grand larceny before Superior Judge Church, and asked for probation.

Whitty is alleged to have taken a machine belonging to Grafton Carlisle of 2327 Pine street, Berkeley, and to have driven it to Los Angeles and back. His case was today referred to Probation Officer Leonard D. Compton.

WILSON FUND HEAD NAMED.

Margaret V. Sherlock of this city has been appointed by Annette Abbott Adams, chairman of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation Fund for Northern California and will have charge of the $30,000 drive for funds, according to announcement made today. Her offices will be established at 1032 Merchants' Exchange building in San Francisco.

SCOUT LEADERS TO MEET.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—The Alameda Scout Leaders' association will meet this evening at Native Sons' Hall, Park street and Central avenue. Wiley Windsor will speak. Drill will be under direction of Lieutenant B. A. Palmer.

FORMER LEADERS OF ORDER TO BE BANQUET GUESTS

Entertainment from Tribune Broadcasting Station Will Be Feature.

Every living past grand president of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West is expected to attend the banquet given to the former executives at the Hotel Oakland tonight by Robert M. Fitzgerald, who headed the organization in 1892. The banquet will be in conjunction with the 45th annual grand parlor in session here, and is held every year by the past grand presidents, nearly 30 of whom are still living.

While the former leaders of the Native Sons are sitting at their table, they will hear by wireless the broadcasting program to be sent out by The TRIBUNE. In addition to the regular nightly news and lectures, Elfrida Steindorff will sing from The TRIBUNE'S station, "I Love You, California," and an encore for the benefit of the diners.

The TRIBUNE'S broadcasting station is on the upper floor of the hotel building, and an antenna has been strung across the ceiling of the banquet hall to pick up the waves. This will be something new in radio, according to experts, that of receiving messages transmitted in the same building.

Past Grand President Fitzgerald will act as toastmaster of the banquet and call on various members present for talks. A tribute will be paid to past grand presidents of the order who have died.

Cantua Ordered To Go to Trial

Following the successive rejections of his suit for a habeas corpus writ by the local superior court and the district court of appeals, Arvil R. Cantua, proprietor of the Oakland Piano Exchange, Eighteenth street and Telegraph avenue, was ordered today by Superior Judge Church to face trial May 8 for alleged embezzlement.

It is charged by the district attorney that Cantua sold a piano that had ben consigned to him by the Heine Piano company of San Francisco, and instead of turning the proceeds over to the company, used them to pay off an attachment that had been levied against him. The amount involved is $285.

Gov. Shoup Asks Flood Protection

DENVER, Colo., April 18.—Passage of legislation to build the Moffat tunnel, and of measures to protect the city of Pueblo from a recurrence of the disastrous flood of last year, is "imperative to the welfare of two great sections of the state; in fact, to the entire state," Governor Oliver H. Shoup declared in his opening address to members of the twenty-third general assembly of the state at the opening of the assembly's special session here today.

I. O. O. F. to Observe 103d Anniversary

Odd Fellows will celebrate the 103d anniversary of Odd Fellowship and hold a district meeting at the Temple, Eleventh and Franklin streets, on next Tuesday evening. Karl C. Breuck of Stockton, grand representative of the Sovereign grand lodge, will give the principal address and Past Grand Master Frank D. McBeth will tell the plans of the grand lodge conclave at Santa Cruz next month. The meeting will be in charge of District Deputy Grand Master Walter Staehle.

U. C. ORATORS WILL VIE FOR PRIZE TONIGHT

BERKELEY, April 18.—After a lapse of 54 years, oratory will be revived on the University of California campus tonight, when students will compete in the Woodrow Wilson oratorical contest for a gold medal to be awarded by Chester Rowell, member of the railroad commission and regent of the university.

Preparations have been made to have the winner of the contest broadcast his oration via the wireless telephone throughout the Pacific coast and the winning tribute to former President Wilson will as a result be heard by thousands of persons.

Tonight's contest is interesting because of the fact it is the first time in more than a half century that an oratorical contest will be held on the campus rather than a debate. Other universities having Woodrow Wilson clubs will hold similar contests and a national champion will be elected from the winners of the competing teams.

Among faculty members sponsoring tonight's event, which will be held in room 312, Wheeler hall, at 8 o'clock, and which will be open to the public, are Dean William Carey Jones of the college of jurisprudence; Professors O. K. McMurray, G. M. Stratton and A. M. Kidd, Mrs. B. N. Grimes and Miss Luck Ward Stebbins, dean of women.

BUYS DEVISE TO RAISE MONEY, IS SHY $1280 NOW

John Baukovich, owner of a soft drink parlor at $11 Willow street, today dreamed golden dreams of fortune and wealth, and thereby lost $1280.

According to Baukovich, a stranger went into his place of business today and asked whether he wanted to buy a machine that would transform $1 bills into twenties. Baukovich said he would, but asked for a demonstration. The stranger, who looked like a foreigner, thereupon inserted a $1 bill in a weird looking machine he carried with him and presto! out came a $20 bill after but one turn of the crank.

So Baukovich bought the machine and the stranger departed with his $1280. Then Baukovich let down the blinds, and got busy making $20 bills out of dollar ones. But this time the machine failed to work.

MOROSCO ADMITS BUYING THEATER

Definite announcement that he has secured the Century theater in this city was made by Oliver Morosco in Los Angeles today. Morosco said that he has the Century and Casino theaters in San Francisco, in addition to the Oakland house. Both Century theaters will be renamed Morosco.

The three theaters are now under the direction of Herbert Harris and Charles Ackerman. The local house has been playing musical comedy and is now showing motion pictures. No announcement was made as to the character of the attractions planned by Morosco, but it is understood in theatrical circles that dramatic stock is planned.

Morosco will use the Century in San Francisco for dramatic productions and the Casino for musical offerings.

YOUTH INJURED DOING 'CIRCUS' TRICK AT HOME

BERKELEY, April 18.—A desire to emulate the clowns he had seen at the circus sent William Schmidt, aged 12, to the emergency hospital last evening.

Instead of the proverbial hoops, William used automobile tires as an adjunct to the act he was staging at his home, 1215 Burnett street, for the benefit of a youthful audience. Instead of jumping all the way through one tire, he and the tire got badly mixed.

D. A. R. WILL HELP UNIVERSITY WAGE ILLITERACY FIGHT

Will Present Building to Lincoln College for Use in Education Campaign.

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—One of the most interesting features of the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution opening here today will be the presentation of a building to the Lincoln Memorial University of Cumberland Gap, Tenn., an institution dedicated to the Great Emancipator who inspired its founding.

The pathos of the struggles of the mountain boys and girls who are its students and the picturesque background of their primitive homes will be extremely interesting to the Daughters of the American Revolution for several reasons.

The newest and one of the most imposing buildings on the campus of the institution is the Tennessee D. A. R. hall, a dormitory for boys, erected during the past year by the Tennessee Daughters. Five of the national officers of the D. A. R. are members of the Woman's Advisory Board of the school.

REGION RICH IN HISTORY.

The region is rich in pioneer history, and among the several landmarks of interest near the school is the Boone trail marker placed by the Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky Daughters of the American Revolution.

Beginning in the basement rooms of an old church in Cumberland Gap, the school has grown to a campus and farm of more than 706 acres and a forest tract of several thousand acres, with a number of beautiful buildings, and today it boasts of an enrollment of 750 students.

More than 70 per cent of the student body of the university depend entirely or partly upon the work they do to pay for their board and books. Thirsting for the education at which their forefathers sneered and for the knowledge of accomplishingdaily tasks by modern-day methods instead of the primitive ways which still are in vogue among the illiterate mountaineers, many of the mountain boys and girls forsake their ramshackle homes, walk for miles carrying their "little all" tied up in a handkerchief or in the old-fashioned "telescope" and present themselves at the school without a penny, announcing simply that they "have come."

HAS BIG CURRICULUM.

All the regular subjects from kindergarten through college courses are taught, and in addition the school provides training in carpentry, engineering, dairying, horticulture, farming, forestry, cooking, canning, spinning, sewing, laundry, poultry raising, gardening, music and art. Not only are the students taught these trades, but they are paid by the hour for the work they do in these lines, and when they leave school their minds are trained to think and their hands accustomed to doing as producers, home-makers and patriotic citizens.

NEW U. S. AIR LINE TO OPEN BY MAY 1

By KENNETH HARRIS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 22.—Airplane passengers transportation between Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City—the first commercial airship line in the Middle West—will be an established fact by May 1, promoters of the Aerial Navigation company, as the new commercial airship company will be known, have announced.

The giant ship to be used by this commercial air line is a tandem triplane. It will have a capacity of thirty passengers and will have smoking and baggage compartments. When loaded to full capacity the monster of the air will weigh 14,000 pounds.

The craft has shown a perfect test with a six-foot model in an air tunnel. It is equipped with two 450-horsepower Liberty motors and, according to mechanics, has a maximum speed of 125 miles an hour.

The corporation is planning to charge just twice the fare the aerial transportation that the railroads charge per mile. Thus an airtrip to Chicago from Kansas City will cost the passenger approximately $40.

The airplane cabin is 8 feet 9 inches wide by 42 feet long.

"Back Door" Stores Flourish in Moscow

MOSCOW, April 22.—A "back-door" commerce, carried on through the back doors of private homes, has begun to flourish in Moscow on account of the crushingly heavy overhead costs, taxes, rent license fees, etc., conventional front doors and official show-windows.

Already this unofficial kind of trade has reached such proportions that in some instnaces it successfully competes with the regular stores. Some of the "back-door" establishments have larger and finer stocks, accumulated by combing the markets, than the front-window stores.

The choicest millinery shop in Moscow, many art and antique stores, and the best drug stores are of this character.

They do not advertise, of course. Their trade comes by the friend-quietly-tells-friend route. But in Moscow, probably the greatest whisper-it-about-city in the world, this method is effective.

The stocks in some of these "back-door" stores were large and prices reasonable.

In Paris, women with apartments are most in demand as wives, [illegible] Third.

R. R. EXECUTIVES BACK ANTI-UNION MOVE, IS CHARGE

Owners Conducting Fight for Open Shop, Says Labor Leader.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(By Associated Press.)—The Association of Railway Executives was charged with backing an open shop, anti-union movement, by W. Jett Lauck, economist, representing labor organizations in testimony before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. Lauck declared that Vice-President Atterbury of the Pennsylvania Railroad fostered and was leading, as the chairman of the Railway Executives' labor committee, the fight against unionism.

The witness asserted the anti-policy caused Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific railroad, to resign as chairman of the executive labor committee. The executives Lauck said, now stand committed to Atterbury's policy of opposing a national board of adjustment and standing only for state or single railway boards.

CAPITOL DENIED FOR PROTEST ON MINIMUM PAY

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—Refusal to permit the Sacramento Federated council to use the state assembly chamber to protest against reduction of the state minimum wage for women and minors was made today by Edgerton Shore, a member of the state board of control.

Shore declared that although he was personally opposed to the reduction in the minimum wage, the proposed use of the assembly chamber would be a "serious impropriety." He said he could not grant the use "of the legislative chamber for the purpose of protesting any action taken by a duly constituted state commission under authority delegated to it by the legislature."

POLICE AT FIRE FIGHT TO SAVE VIEWERS' LIVES

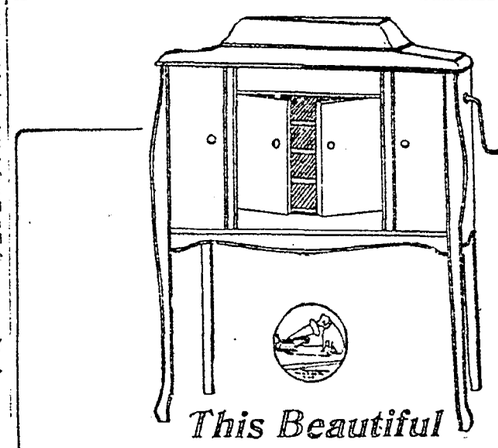

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Endangering the lives of a throng of people who fought with the police in an effort to gain points of vantage despite the fact a big tank of gas was heated so it was liable to explode, a spectacular fire today swept through the big warehouse occupied by the Harper & Reynolds and the Warr Implement companies at the west end of the First street viaduct.

Scores of employees in the warehouse were forced to flee for their lives as the flames spread through the building. The fire was discovered shortly after 11 a. m. and after noon still was burning fiercely. The loss was estimated at approximately $275,000.

One stop was made at Southport, N. C., at 11:11 o'clock after taking off at Palm Beach at 5:48 a. m. The flyers took off at Southport at 12:31, landing at the Columbia Yacht Club in the North River at 5:04 o'clock. Clifford L. Miss Allardt To Wed Senior At University

A beautifully appointed luncheon Easter Monday was the medium through which Miss Elisabeth Allardt told a score of her most intimate friends of her engagement to Thomas Brown, son of Dr. and Mrs. Page Brown of Los Angeles. The honor guest of the interesting affair was Miss Elisa Roeder cousin of the hostess, who last week revealed to her intimate friends and sorority sisters her betrothal to Chester Stewart Stinson. Last evening, at the Gamma Phi Beta Chapter House in Berkeley, Miss Allardt also announced her engagement, at the dance given by the sorority.

Miss Allardt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Allardt of Crocker Highlands and both she and her fiance are in their senior year at the University of California. Both have been prominent in campus activities.

The engagement unites two pioneer families of this state. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late George F. Allardt, who was chief engineer of the Tide Land Commission which made the first official survey of San Francisco Bay in 1872, and who also surveyed many of the old Spanish grants, among them the San Pablo Rancho.

Mr. Brown is the grandson of the late Thomas Brown of San Francisco, for many years connected with the Bank of California.

Miss Allardt is a cousin of Miss Marion Allardt, daughter of the Charles F. Allardts of this city. No date has been set for the wedding.

WEDDING IN CHRIST CHURCH.

Christ Episcopal church in Alameda was filled with guests last evening for the marriage of Miss Carol Higby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Higby of Grand street, and Philip Teller Holden. The edifice, beautiful in its Easter decoration of white and green, was a picturesque background for the bevy of bridal attendants in pastel frocks of pink, rose, blue and green taffeta. Mrs. Howard Bacon was her sister's matron of honor and the coterie of bridesmaids Miss Jane Howard, Miss Helen Conroy, Miss Alice Culver and Mrs. Jocelyn Bates. Earl Breck served as best man and the ushers were Arthur Flint, George Palmer and Lewis Hoeg—close friends of the bridegroom. Rev. Henry H. Shires, rector, officiated.

Little Lois Weinmann was flower maiden and wore a pink frock with overdress of white silk net and carried a basket of flowers. Master Randolph Weinmann in a Fauntleroy suit of white satin was ring bearer.

The bridal gown was of moleskin satin and all-over princess lace. A court train of the satin and veil of tulle was held in place with a coronet of duchess lace, an heirloom in the Higby family. Orchids and valley lilies were in the shower bouquet.

The bride has been one of the most feted brides-elect of the season.

Both were former students of the University of California. The bride is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority.

Holden is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Holden of Alameda and a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

No cards are to be sent out by the Robinsons—even this formality having been dispensed with in the quiet ceremonial.

BELFAST RIOTS INCREASE; FOUR REPORTED SLAIN

Religious Differences Are Blamed for New Outbreak; Houses Burned.

BELFAST, April 18.—Rioting in northern Belfast increased in intensity tonight. Armed mobs were looting, burning and firing.

Although attempts were being made to conceal casualties it became known that at least four persons were wounded in the Marrowbone area, a Catholic section of the city, this afternoon.

Military forces armed with machine guns have intervened. Religious differences are said to have caused the new outbreak.

Snipers were active in the Catholic section of Broadway and Antigua street. Ulster military forces were making frantic efforts to suppress the violence.

During the night several persons received gunshot wounds. Fifteen houses were destroyed in incendiary fires.

Mutineers are still holding several seized buildings, while loyal republican army troops are maintaining a guard over strategic points.

It is considered remarkable here that in spite of the tension between opposing forces, there have been no serious clashes.

GILKEY FORESEES GREAT BOOM TO EASTBAY REGION

Landscape Engineer Tells Soroptimists of City's Park Needs.

Oakland will have greatness forced upon it, according to Howard Gilkey, city landscape engineer, who addressed the weekly luncheon of the Soroptimist Club at Hotel Oakland yesterday. A boom will be forced upon the eastbay cities so suddenly that the things that might be accomplished now will never be achieved because of congestion in transportation, which will result, the speaker said. He urged the business and professional women to spread the gospel of the city.

Park area in Oakland, including the golf course, consists of approximately 500 acres against, an average in other Pacific Coast cities of similar population of 1800 acres, Gilkey pointed out. He urged the interest of the club in the park projects, particularly the plan to purchase the Redwood area of between 150 and 200 acres which will be voted on in the fall.

Among the specific park developments which the speaker cited were the boulevard circling Lake Merritt, which will include a promenade and frequent boat landings and platforms, the widening of Twentieth street, the extension of Madison street, the Elmhurst Plaza, the Cleveland street extension to Lakeshore boulevard with its double stairway and cascades and the purchase of the hilltop east of the lake.

"Oakland is asleep to its beauty," Gilkey declared. "Potentially it is a magnificent city. In the next few months there is an opportunity to preserve its lovely spots which will never come again."

The Soroptimist Club endorsed the project for the purchase of the redwood area within the city limits of Oakland.

Trapped Cat Causes Alarm at Town Club

BERKELEY April 18.—An unidentified cat of the back-fence variety was the center of attraction for residents in the vicinity of Dana street and Dwight Way for a brief period last night.

No one even knew the cat existed until the neighborhood was aroused by prolonged wails of distress coming from the Town and Gown Club building.

Investigation disclosed that the cat had entered the building and, in its survey of the premises, had become tightly wedged in the rafters over the ball room. After several futile attempts to reach the animal fire-fighting apparatus was summoned.

Spurred on by an unceasing stream of feline invective and abuse firemen mounted to the rafters and, after suffering several bites and scratches, released the cat which scorned further contact with humanity and disappeared rapidly in the darkness.

HUGHES UPHOLDS REFUSAL OF RUSS TO OBEY SENATE

Borah Objects to Decision of Secretary, Announces He Will Fight.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Boris Bakhmeteff, the last accredited ambassador from Russia to the United States, is recognized as the representative of Russia in the United States, and as such enjoys the diplomatic immunity which attaches to all envoys of foreign governments accredited to the United States, Secretary Hughes declared in a letter transmitted today to the Senate.

The secretary's letter, addressed to Vice-President Coolidge and read in the Senate, was referred to the Senate labor committee, which subpenaed the ambassador to appear at its Semenoff hearings. The letter declared that Bakhmeteff was "officially received" as Russian ambassador by the President July 5, 1917, and "since that time this government has recognized him in that capacity and has recognized no other ambassador."

Secretary Hughes added that he deemed it incumbent upon him to point out that under established diplomatic custom an ambassador is "not required to respond to process" of a Congressional committee. The Semeneoff hearing was in progress in an adjacent committee room.

After reading the letter from Secretary Hughes, Senator Borah, chairman of the labor committee, dictated the following statement:

"Mr. Bahkmeteff does not represent any government now in existence, and I shall deal with the subject later from the floor of the Senate.

"Even if he was once an ambassador, when he begins to counsel and harbor a murderer, it is time to terminate whatever status he may ever have had, or may have."

Borah said informally that he would have to give the situation "study before any further investigation is made."

NEW YORK, April 18.—General Gregorie Semenoff, "Ataman of the Cossacks," faces at least two more weeks in a New York jail as a result of the refusal of Supreme Court Justice Cohalan today to overrule the order for his arrest, rendered last week by Justice Delehanty.

Justice Cohalan reserved his decision on the hearing of a writ of certiorari for the Cossack general, but he intimated to Semenoff's attorneys that he could not reverse the decision of Justice Delehanty.

Cadet Flier to Be Buried in Newman

SACRAMENTO, April 17—Harry Johnson, former Mather Field cadet, who fell to his death from an airplane here Sunday afternoon, will be buried in Newman, his former home, it was announced tonight. The funeral will be held Wednesday. Three airplanes of a commercial aviation company, piloted by E. J. Moffett, manager of the company, Major Fred Kelly, from whose plane Johnson fell, and Bob Duke will fly to Newman in battle formation. During the services at the cemetery the airmen will shower flowers upon the grave. Johnson was killed when he fell while doing stunts on a ladder attached to an airplane.

IRON WAS TOO HOT.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—When Mrs. M. Foly, 1414 Sherman street, left her house for a few minutes yesterday, she left an electric iron on the wooden ironing board. When she returned the Alameda Fire Department was engaged on putting out the fire which had ruined her ironing board and had filled the house with smoke, but did not otherwise cause any damage.

TENT HOMES OF STRIKING MINERS SAVED BY COURT

Appeal Court Overrules the Order Giving Union Men 30 Days to Leave.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Complete upset of "the plans of the non-union coal companies of Mingo county, West Virginia, to drive the union out of that field" was claimed by United Mine Workers' officials in making public here today the supersedeas signed last night by Judge Martin A. Knapp, senior judge of the United States circuit court of appeals, suspending in part the injunction recently issued by federal Judge McClintick of Charleston to the Borderland Coal company.

Judge Knapp also granted an appeal from Judge McClintic's injunction order.

Under the order of Judge Knapp, the companies are prevented from interfering with or destroying the tent colonies maintained by the United Mine Workers and inhabited by several hundred families of coal miners who lost their jobs by joining the union in Mingo county.

Judge McClintic's injunction ordered that these tent colonies be abolished within thirty days and that the United Mine Workers be prohibited from furnishing food, clothing or other supplies to the people living in the tents.

ANSWER BEING WRITTEN.

HAZELTON, Pa., April 18.—This week and next probably will be taken up by the representatives of the anthracite operators presenting their answer to the demands of the United Mine Workers, said Thomas Kennedy before leaving for New York today to resume the wage negotiations with the mine owners.

TWO NEW MINES SHUT.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 18.—Union leaders today claimed that their efforts in the Fayette county coke region had borne fruit in bringing out more union men yesterday and that additional mines had been closed. Two more mines in the Indian Creek region were also closed.

The union drive against the plants of the H. C. Frick Coke Company continued today. At Leisenring No. 1, fifty miners reported for work as against 120 yesterday. At the other two Leisenring plants and the Trotter plant more men were working than on Monday.

The W. J. Rainey company, most important of the independents, was hit by the strike hard, through the Fort Hill and Paul mines. The company now has one plant working full, one crippled and four closed.

INJUNCTION CONTINUED.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 18.—In continuing for ten days the temperary restraining order against further activities of officials and members of the United Mine Workers in the Winding Gulf field, Judge George W. McClintic yesterday made no decision on motions of operators, who are seeking a temporary injunction, or union members who seek to have the restraining order dismissed.

The operators filed 134 affidavits, many relating stories of violence or threats against non-union miners now working. Arguments were intended to show that the union had entered into a conspiracy with the central competitive field in restraint of the interstate trade of West Virginia mine operators.

rich lands for small buyers

"My Heavens, why don't you give your terms and this project some publicity?" said a man who was looking not long ago at a half-acre piece of apricot orchard on the lands of the Meek Estate at Hayward.

"I have visited about 20 small farm projects from Los Angeles to San Francisco," said J. R. Blackmore of Berkeley. "And there is nothing that can stand comparison with the Meek Estate proposition and I don't understand why it isn't advertised more."

"Anyone who has the foresight to buy a piece of the land you are offering for sale is to be congratulated. Why don't you advertise it?" writes H. C. Cutting of Daisy Farm Inn.

And so it has been for eighteen months.

"Why don't you advertise?"

"Tell the people about it?"

"What's the matter with advertising this?"

And so on and so on.

Well, an honest confession is good for the soul.

We'll tell you why we haven't advertised these properties.

We are farmers. Have farmed this property for over 60 years.

We don't know anything about advertising.

In fact, haven't really cared very much about selling the property and haven't thought about advertising.

Why should we when we have land that produces, for example, strawberry crops that bring gross over $4000 an acre a year?

We've been busy farming while the city of Hayward has been growing up around our orchards.

However, we have been persuaded by our friends to advertise.

So here goes.

We'll have another "ad" such as it is, tomorrow.

If interested in a Suburban Home Site, read it—

It might not be much of an "ad" but whatever we say will be the truth.

HERE IS WHAT WE ARE GOING TO SELL—NOTICE THE TERMS

The Boy Who Started to Town With a Hundred Dollars

The advice they gave him for getting on in the world was simple and familiar enough: "Keep what you have, and build on it. Be careful what you do and it will grow into more."

It's a safe rule—with money or health, but a good many overlook the rule with health, until they have lost what they had. Then it's hard to get a new supply.

Postum is a splendid help in saving health from the very common losses through the drug elements of tea and coffee—whose effects on the nervous system any doctor can tell you.

Thousands of people who think it wise to be as careful of their health as they are of their dollars are users of Postum. They find this famous cereal beverage a delightful drink with any meal, and it's free from any disturbing element.

You can begin with Postum today, with an order to your grocer. The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow. "Save what you have, and build on it," is sound policy for everybody.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages or larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

THE CONSTITUTION.

"Our Constitution is not a mere collection of political maxims to be followed strictly or loosely or occasionally or not at all, as governmental agencies may interpret the majority or even the unanimous sentiment of the moment, but it is, what it declares itself to be, 'the supreme law of the land,' to be adhered to under all conditions and at all times, until it has been altered in the formal manner pointed out by the instrument itself. Self-government, if it means anything, means the exercise of sufficient self-restraint on the part of the people to uphold their own fundamental law against every temptation to subvert it. In the last analysis, the continued existence of the republic itself depends upon the faithful maintenance of that course, and can survive no other, for only thus can we preserve the character of our institutions as a government of laws and prevent their degeneration into a chaos of fleeting and fickle emotion."

—GEORGE SUTHERLAND.
Former United States Senator from Utah.

MEXICO'S RECOGNITION.

Again there are official signs that recognition of the Obregon government in Mexico may shortly issue at Washington. If Washington takes the lead the other great powers will follow suit. Secretary of State Hughes has sent another note to President Obregon which is reported to be cast in an amiable tone and calculated to smooth out the serious differences of views heretofore existing.

The United States has insisted all along that Mexico recognize the integrity of American interests in Mexico established prior to the adoption of the Carranza constitution of 1915, and to guarantee protection for foreign interests established subsequently in accordance with Mexican laws. It also has insisted upon measures being taken for the redemption of Mexico's foreign debt and the payment of damages to foreign citizens suffered during the revolution which succeeded the overthrow of President Madero.

As to the integrity of established foreign interests, the Mexican government, while declining to enter into a formal treaty for the repeal of confiscatory powers resting in the Carranza Constitution, has offered formal assurance of an intention to conform to the law of nations. The Mexican supreme court also handed down a decision holding that the confiscation clause of the constitution is not retroactive. President Obregon has pleaded lack of power to modify the constitution by the negotiation of a foreign treaty—a view for which American citizens believing in the integrity of their own Constitution may find a ready sympathy.

In this connection it is announced that it is the present plan of Senor Adolfo de la Huerta, Secretary of the Treasury of Mexico, to visit New York city early next month to open negotiations for the sale of Mexican securities in this country and for resuming payment on Mexico's defaulted foreign bonds. News from Mexico City is to the effect that the Mexican government hopes to reach an effective agreement by July 1. The government has about $6,000,000 in a special fund from which to begin payments. This money was recently collected from American oil corporations in settlement of back taxes.

Preliminary to the meeting Secretary de la Huerta with the New York bankers in May, a meeting of the European members of the International Committee having charge of the interest of the foreign holders of Mexican securities, is being held in Paris this week. When the May conference is held final agreement with the international committee will be possible if the Mexican Secretary of the Treasury is in a position to accept a practical plan.

The total debt of Mexico on which there has been default since 1914, including her guaranteed railroad bonds, is $322,000,000 gold. Her railroad debt, not guaranteed, is $230,000,000, and she is in default about $250,000,000 in interest and sinking fund on her bonds. The amount of interest in default and direct guaranteed railroad debt was $111,000,000 up to January 1, and her sinking fund payments in default amount to $20,000,000 on directly guaranteed bonds. The passing of the interest and of sinking fund payments has brought her entire bonded indebtedness due automatically.

With questions of principles in the comity of nations—that is, reasonable protection for American and other foreign citizens lawfully engaged in business in Mexico, and recognition of the obligation to reimburse them against loss through activities which the police authority should control—and the foreign debt problem adjusted, there would seem to be no serious obstacle to recognition of the Obregon government. Certainly the present Mexican government has been on trial sufficiently long. And it is due from foreign governments to place a reasonable degree of confidence in its promises and covenants.

SAVE THE FORESTS.

Everywhere throughout California this week the greatest interest should be shown in measures of forest protection. Governor Stephens has proclaimed this week as "Forest Protection and Fire Prevention Week." There is a reason for special emphasis at this season of the year in measures to save the forests from the ravages of fire: it is the preventable fire destruction that has been suffered in the past.

If the children of today are drilled in the value of saving the forests they will be grateful when they attain manhood and are able to get a better understanding of the value to the public of the forested areas. The summer vacation season is fast approaching and every person who goes to the mountains and forests this summer should not only realize the importance of protection for the great recreation grounds, but should also be possessed of a determination to commit no act which might add to the hazards of fire in the forests.

Last year one and one-half million people visited the forests of California for pleasure and recreation. This year the pilgrimage to the open places will be larger; it is growing larger every year.

Half of the merchantable timber remaining standing in the United States is located in the three Pacific Coast States. The forests of California are the source of the streams which supply domestic and irrigation waters. Destruction of these forests by fire means less water for the cities and farms. Grazing and lumbering add to the State's prosperity and the wealth of the people. Forest fires destroy the green trees and the grass.

Everywhere the message of carefulness and co-operation should be spread. The people should talk with one another on the subject of forest protection, so that ignorance and carelessness may be eliminated from the causes of forest fires.

An agreement has been sighed between Germany and the Communist government of Moscow for the full resumption of commercial relations between Germany and that portion of Russia under sovier control. This seems to be one of the results of the recent visit of the soviet delegates to the Genoa conference in Berlin. Germany has given a solid evidence of her co-operation with the soviets. She gives them a support which may be valuable. Presumably the Allied governments gave their consent to the conclusion of the treaty: if not they will be obliged to keep careful watch over the manner of its fulfillment.

In Vinland, Kansas, a candidate for school board who was pledged to support the rule of long skirts, won over the candidate favoring short skirts, by a vote of 118 to 20. There was no candidate pledged to work for the welfare of the schools and the cause of education.

Law officers of the government say it is too late now to punish Seminoff, the butcher, for his crimes against the expeditionary forces of the United States in Siberia. But it is not too late to deport him from the country.

THE RECORD OF THE BANKS.

The Controller of the Currency publishes the facts regarding the record of our banks in the crisis now past. It is surprisingly good respecting some sorts of banks and cautionary regarding other sorts. The failures of national banks were fewer than in earlier years of much slighter trials of their strength. The national bank failures of 1921 were 34, compared with 65 in 1893 and 38 in 1897, those being the years of the largest number of failures in the history of the system. Since 1863 the total of national bank failures has been 637. But in 1921 alone 528 State and private banks were closed, and 365 remained closed. Analyzing these failures it appears that the smallest proportion occurred in the sections where the banks had least assistance, and the greatest in the sections where the banks leaned most heavily on legislative support of several sorts. Only five failures occurred in the Eastern States and four in the New England States, where banking solvency is regarded as matter of assets and administration, and not of legal guarantee. There were nearly 150 bank failures in States where depositors are guaranteed against loss by bank failures. There were 36 bank failures in Texas, 34 in North Dakota, 23 in Nebraska, 22 in Oklahoma and 11 each in Kansas and Washington.

It is obvious that the deposit guarantee system does not prevent bank failures. Neither does it protect depositors against loss. Several of the guarantee funds are exhausted even before the depositors have been repaid their losses.—New York Times.

The Red Toonerville.

There is a new extra conductor on the 5 o'clock of the Red Toonerville series and instead of the prosaic "Fare Please" he chirps "Transportation!" What does he mean? How does he get that way? And why hasn't Gus Vollmer secured him for his trained fleas force?

A contest in extemporaneous speaking is soon to be held at Medicine Lodge, and each contestant is to have seven minutes' notice of his subject before he begins to speak. "There is some sense to that," comments E. E. Kelley. "Too many extemporaneous speakers have no knowledge of the subject until about seven minutes after the speech is finished."

The Nature Club.

The Nature Club will be interested in the discovery, by Jay Weber of the American Museum of Natural History, of singing frogs in the State of Louisiana. The singing frog is what the nation has been waiting for these long years. Time was when every barber shop and every rear platform of the street cars had its quartet. Every quartet, in those days, had its bass. For an unaccountable reason the bass crop has not been satisfactory. There are too many tenors. Quartets have gone out of fashion and singing has disappeared from the unexpected places. The singing frog of Louisiana promises to fill the shortage. All that is needed is a little training that he might carry the tune. He need not learn the language, for no one ever understands what a bass singing is growling about, anyway.

Sir:—Immediately we get the question of the new skipper settled comes something else to disturb the equanimity of the neighbors on the Red Toonerville.

This morning some vulgar person, low, unprincipled drab-souled son of iniquity, slipped Ham the genial gypper for Mr. Espee, a bum nickel. In fact it was not even a thing resembling a nickel. It was one of those telephone slugs.

Ham wouldn't have minded it so much had it been a beer slug or something which had a monetary value at any remote period, but this was going too far. He informed the neighbors of the outrage and I regret to say that no one responded.

Kindly announce, respected sir, that he who slipped Ham the bum jitney is known, and unless he disgorges, trouble will ensue.

FOREST PROTECTION AND FIRE PREVENTION WEEK—APRIL 16 TO 22.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Sacramento Union makes effort to wake up its town: "They're all talking about the 'Days of '49' back in Omaha, El Paso, St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Albany, Portland, Me.—but not in Sacramento. They're discussing the 'Days of '49' as the greatest national historical celebration in many years back in Salt Lake, Minneapolis, Tucson, New Orleans, Savannah, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Jersey City—but not in Sacramento. They're visualizing a great reproduction of those romantic days of the '49 gold rush in the 'Days of '49' back in Denver, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, St. Paul, Detroit, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Memphis, Providence, Scranton, New Haven—but not in Sacramento. Down in Oakland they've got a 'Talk Oakland' campaign on. Commencing today, and continuing until the mining town closes, June 17, let us talk 'Sacramento's Days of '49.'"

The New York World discusses what has some appearance of a finicky decision: "The athletes declared ineligible for college games at Princeton are not barred under charges. There is not even an allegation of professionalism. The five men suffer as individuals under the exact application of a rule framed for the large purpose of making student athletics clean beyond dispute. They are credited with doing earnest work in their classes, and there is published concerning them only the fact that they failed, possibly through neglect, to file the required statement of the sources of their outside assistance in working their way through college."

Salt Lake Tribune on spite fences: "The Governor of New York recently signed a bill which makes it illegal to erect a so-called spite fence more than six feet high between dwellings. Evidently the venting of spite in this manner is more common in New York State than would be presumed by one residing in the more open spaces of the west. At first consideration the spite fence would seem to be cutting off the nose to spite the face, but where it serves too well to shut out sunlight and view, the practice most certainly does become pernicious and deserves to be curbed."

Deseret News on unemployment: "Wholesome advice is that given to ex-service men by Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion. He urges them to go back to their home towns and look for employment there, instead of flocking to the large centers of population, where unemployment is daily becoming worse. The Legion's task of finding employment for 700,000 jobless men, Mr. MacNider says, is greatly complicated by the 'floater,' who rushes wildly from place to place, following rumors of work to be had almost anywhere away from where he happens to be."

The Chicago Tribune discusses "a hanging a day": "A proposal to hang a murderer each day in the year would horrify most of us. Opponents of capital punishment would denounce it as an atrocity. The average man and woman would flinch from it at first as a grewsome thought. Yet is a hanging a day worse than a murder a day? Do we cry out against that grewsome toll? We average a killing a day. Why not a corresponding rate of punishment? If there were a hanging a day, there would soon be a drop in the murder rate."

New York Herald on warnings: "The book of do's and don't's issued by the police department to teach honest citizens to protect their property and their persons against thieves is a primer for the careless. Not one of these counsels of ordinary cautions is new; not one of them is superfluous. Since policemen first went on duty they have been telling citizens to lock their windows, to report suspicious characters, to beware of plausible strangers displaying curiosity about neighbors' habits, to keep handbags in their hands, to watch their valuables."

The Oregonian gets it wrong as to the first half, and perpetrates a sad joke as to the second: "Most of the Southern California orange crop has been killed by cold weather. JUST FOLKS

—By EDGAR A. GUEST—

THE RADIO.

Since Pa put in the radio we have a lot of fun,
We hustle to my room upstairs as soon as supper's done
And Pa he tinkers with the discs to get it loud and clear,
Then says: "Whit just a minute now, there's nothing yet to hear.
Oh, now it's coming! Silence there! Now don't you move a thing.
Say Ma, this is a marvelous age, a lady's going to sing!"

Then Ma she listens for awhile, as pleased as she can be,
And when I want to hear it, too, she says, "Don't bother me!
Your turn comes next and sister's, too; don't jump around that way,
I want to hear the orchestra—it's just begun to play.
I wish you children wouldn't fuss, I'm sure I cannot hear
While you are trying all the time to snatch it from my ear."

A man is telling stories now. You kids will have to wait.
It's wonderful to think his voice is floating in the air
And people sitting in their homes can hear it everywhere—
You youngsters how you should behave. A parson's going to preach."

Pa put that radio in for me—at least he told me so,
But if it's really mine or not is something I don't know,
'Coz Pa he wants it all himself, to hear the funny things,
An' Ma must hear the concerts through when some great artist sings,
But when the parson starts to talk on Selfishness an' Sin,
Pa says: "Now it has come the time for you to listen in."

About YOUR HEALTH

What You Can Do About Acute Catarrhal Bronchitis

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

One of the most common ailments among children and frail adults is acute catarrhal bronchitis.

In children, adenoids and diseased tonsils may have much to do with the tendency to repeated attacks. In adults there appears to be a peculiar weakness of resistance to this condition.

I am surprised that so many persons disregard chronic nasal catarrh and go on suffering all the annoyance of this trouble without making any particular effort to remedy it. The popular idea is that catarrh is an inevitable thing. The regular excuse is:

"This climate"—no matter where the victim lives—"is bad for catarrh, and it cannot be cured here."

There is always a cause, many times a local trouble, which can be removed. So long as the catarrh continues there are myriads of germs ready to slide down the throat into the bronchial tubes and set up housekeeping there.

Exposure to cold from neglect of proper clothing or wrong use of outside wraps may be followed by bronchitis.

Too many persons, especially women, wear their coats and mufflers indoors, and, no matter how long they remain, do not loosen or remove them. This practice excites perspiration, and, on return to the open air, there is evaporation of the moisture and chilling of the body surface. Chilling causes the blood-vessels of the skin to contract, and this forces the blood to the deep parts of the body. The bronchial tubes take part in the internal congestion.

Along with the chilling is a lowering of resistance and the alert little germs have a chance to break through the protective tissues. Then comes the bronchitis.

Bronchitis is a common symptom, also, of measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, influenza, typhoid fever and other infections.

When once there is universal appreciation of the importance of well-ventilated sleeping rooms and a reasonable amount of out-of-door life, there will be less bronchitis. The latter—life out in the open—is vital. On this account a milder climate in winter is a favorite form of treatment for those who can afford to travel. Most of us must stay home, so we should arrange our homes to get the maximum of fresh air without cold drafts.

During the attack, while there is fever, the patient should be in bed.

If there is great difficulty in breathing the croup-kettle and tent may be used. An open umbrella may be placed over the crib or bed, a sheet spread over this, and draped around the head and chest of the patient. A kettle of boiling water to which has been added benzoin, turpentine or creosote is placed under the tent. The steam vapor gives great relief.

The doctor should be called and he will administer the remedies.

HEADS OF BOYS' WEEK DRIVE TO MEET TOMORROW

A call for a full meeting of committee chairmen to clean up the details of the Boys' Week campaign of the Rotary Club was issued today by Joseph J. Rosborough, general chairman. The meeting will be held tomorrow noon at Hotel Oakland, when it is expected that the principal arrangements for the big demonstration will be completed.

Boys' Week will be held by the Rotary Club frm May 1 t May 7, with the object of centering the attention of the public upon the boy problem. It will be in line with the international policy of the Rotary clubs and will be similar to the one held last year in New York.

Rosborough today announced that George Harris of the Key System had been made chairman of the transportation committee, to be aided by Floyd Gray, Rodney Kenyon and Lance Richardson, in the work of bringing boys in on special cars from the outlying districts for the big parade on Thursday, May 4.

Homer J. Demiss, Scout executive of the Oakland Boy Scouts, was made chairman of the Back to School and Good Turn day on May 2, and will be aided by Thomas Bridges, Lewis Avery and Louis Aber.

Co-ed Dress Reform Interests U Paper

BERKELEY, April 18.—Dress reform for co-eds has captured the interest of the editors of the "California Pictorial," and the collegians have announced that the beauty contest of last month's issue is to be followed next week by a number of photographs of college women in proper garb.

Cautious measures have been adopted by the student editors in their newest venture, for the beauty contest created a strenuous controversy at the university, and some of the girls had the editors called before the dean of women because they thought the contest was a "publicity stunt."

The winner of the beauty contest will also be announced in the April issue, which will appear on April 26.

"Garden City" to Be Removed From Run

ALAMEDA, April 18.—Word that the ferryboat "Garden City," the oldest craft afloat on San Francisco Bay, will be taken off the Southern Pacific run on May 17, was received today by City Manager C. E. Hickok, of Alameda, from Charles Heath, superintendent of steamers of the Southern Pacific Company. The steamer "Piedmont" will take the place of the "Garden City," which has transported millions of commuters during the many years she has been in service. This decision constitutes a victory for Councilman A. C. Latham and his associates who have led the fight for the removal of the vessel.

New Trustees of Albany Are Seated

ALBANY, April 18.—Frank J. Roberts, employee of an oil company, and Louis White, contractor, took their seats on the board of trustees last evening. They were elected last week to places held by John Gill and H. P. Hoyt.

O. C. Marr, mayor of Albany for the last two years, was unanimously re-elected to the chairmanship of the board. Committees were named for the coming year and other plans made for municipal activities.

EXCURSION OF TRADES IS IN MODESTO

C. of C. Members On Tour Find Town and County Make Good All Boasts of Expansion and Prosperity

Special to The TRIBUNE.

MODESTO, April 18.—Members of Oakland's trade extension excursion who left the home town in the middle of the night awakened this morning in the San Joaquin. In the early hours the train had been parked on a side track in Modesto. With the sun came the welcome.

At this writing the party has not assembled its reactions. It has seen Modesto and a bit of Stanislaus county—the Stanislaus of staggering statistics! In a way every one had sensed the possibilities of this county, had talked and speculated concerning a future when the San Joaquin would house some of the millions it now feeds, and had given out familiar generalities concerning the empire beckoning at the gates of Oakland. Shamefacedly, most of the members of the party today are admitting their ignorance of the glorious present, the riches that are here right now and the opportunities for service and cooperation.

COUNTY OF DAIRIES.

Stanislaus county is the banner dairy county in the state. If the roll of dairy cows within its borders were to be called 50 000 would answer "Here." In figures the county produced 9,951,685 pounds of butter fat last year, valued at $1,467,000. Butter, cheese, milk and cream from this county goes through Oakland. The cheese is shipped to all parts of the country and is considered the equal to any. Perhaps there are other Californians who have thought that the eastern or the Oregon trade mark was necessary. Scores changed their minds here today and as a result an "Eat California Cheese First" movement has been started. It is an easy and appetizing way to aid the home productions.

More staggering statistics! Here in Modesto there is an ice plant which refrigerates 8000 cars of melons a year. There are two canneries and a great condensing plant. Wine and table grapes, peaches, figs, apricots and almonds are grown and are being set out. The total value of produce in a year is $40,000,000. Forty million for one county, a county which could support thousands more and which is in the early youth of its development!

GROWTH IS AMAZING.

What impresses the visitor most is the foresightedness and progress of Modesto. Here is a place which government census figures show grew from 4034 to 9241 and one which is continuing at the same rate. Chances are there are close to 13,000 persons here today. It is in the heart of 400,000 irrigated acres.

When the irrigation possibilities became apparent to the few who had vision, Stanislaus county men organized the first irrigation district under the Wright irrigation act. The big Turlock district was formed later, and the two built the La Grange dam, the first irrigation diverting dam in the West, in 1894. Don Pedro dam, now in course of construction on the Tuolumne river, thirty-eight miles to the east, by the Modesto and Turlock districts, will be the largest impounding irrigation dam in the world. It is expected to be completed in 1923 and will hold 260,000 acre feet of water for irrigation purposes.

The foresighted districts are preparing for the thousands who will come to the San Joaquin. The $6,000,000 dam, nearing completion, will write another great chapter for Stanislaus.

Speaking of foresight, away back in 1912, when the Modesto charter was being redrawn, provision for an aviation field was included. The country, particularly large newspapers in the East, took delight in ridiculing a Western city so optimistic to believe that aviation fields would some day be necessary. Modesto built the field and laughed last.

CIVIC GROWTH.

The most casual observer will see the evidences of new construction, the fine streets and schools. Records show permits obtained for twenty-five new homes a month. Two new theaters, an annex to the Hotel Modesto, a new hotel, telephone building P. G. & E. building, three new store buildings and a postoffice are some of the larger structures recently built or under way.

The postoffice is another example of the spirit of the valley, where men are not content to wait for promises to be fulfilled. Modesto went after a postoffice and got an assurance. Then the town chipped in and enough private capital was forthcoming, so that Modesto, and not Uncle Sam, is building the structure. It is on government ground and will serve until the federal authorities act. In the meantime Modesto will have a $25,000 postoffice in place of the one it has outgrown.

Motor buses bring high school students here from all parts of the county. There are more than 1000 enrolled. The Oakland party saw two modern hotels, five banks with combined resources of more than $12,000,000, modern structures everywhere, and miles of paved streets. Within the city limits there are twenty miles of asphalt.

PLEASANT INTRODUCTION.

It is agreed that Stanislaus as an introduction to the San Joaquin is one to bring the realization of the valley's wealth home to the visitor at the start of his trip. With this realization already has come one of the mutual problems and the complementing functions. Oakland is marketing goods for Modesto. Alameda county can help Stanislaus county when there are roads to be built or local puzzles to be solved before a legislature. We can give more of our money for the development of resources and we can tell the world of the opportunities in the irrigated lands of the valley. There is no reason in the world why Modesto and Oakland should not work side by side for a common goal. That is agreed. All that was needed was a better acquaintance.

Those members of the party who are Rotarians were guests of the Modesto Rotary Club at luncheon. Others were taken in tow by the Chamber of Commerce. Events moved happily and with precision. This afternoon the train pulls off for Merced, Madera and Fresno.

Women in Discussion

The twenty-first annual convention of Alameda District, C. F. W. C., will assemble scores of club leaders in the Twentieth Century clubhouse of Berkeley tomorrow. Among those who will have a prominent part in the three-day session are: (Upper), MRS. W. A. FITZGERALD, state president; (lower), MRS. J. C. LYNCH, chairman of the resolutions committee.

WOMEN'S CLUBS OF DISTRICT TO MEET TOMORROW

ECONOMIES FOR SCHOOL WORK URGED

Hunter Proposes Saving During Remainder of Year; Objections to Plans Laid for New Building Heard

The Board of Education last night listened to an economy plan by Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter, accepted general contract bids for University High School, discussed the authority of the building chiefs concerning emergency changes, and heard the pleas of East Oaklanders against the proposed situation of the Theodore Roosevelt High School.

The East Oaklanders want the building to face to the south, to catch the sun. The present plans make the building face to the westward.

"Burn those plans or bury them," said Mrs. Nellie C. Lane. "If you need any help, I am bringing the coroner of Alameda county. The building will be inadequate anyhow."

DECISION RESERVED.

Coroner Grant Miller made a short talk on the advisability of changing the plans and it was finally agreed that all parties concerned will meet with the heads of the construction department on Thursday and discuss the matter from every angle. The building is on Nineteenth avenue and Independence square.

Contractors on the Alexander Hamilton Junior High School asserted that quick changes in plans are often necessary, and suggested that the building department be authorized to change those plans without waiting for Board of Education authority. At the Hamilton school, for instance, an unexpected soil condition caused big changes to be made. The board finally agreed to abide by the present law, which allows only changes under $200.

Bids were opened for the general contract on the future University High School, the bids running from $325,000 to $375,000. The completed school will come to about $600,000, including plastering, heating, plumbing, wiring, furniture and all the other elements.

SAVINGS URGED.

A discussion of the liability of the board in the case of employees injured going to and from work ended when the board decided it operated under the same rules as the State, and there is no liability.

Superintendent Hunter, in introducing his economy plan, recommended drastic savings in many departments and the curtailment of all departments not absolutely necessary. He also recommended that there be no further purchases of equipment. As these matters are mainly within his department, the communication was filed.

Hunter's economy program follows:

"For the remainder of this school year, I recommend that there be no further purchase of instructional supplies and no further high school outlays, such as equipment, alterations and improvements to grounds; and, further, that there be no further revolving fund expenditures, except where classes would otherwise be unable to complete their year's work.

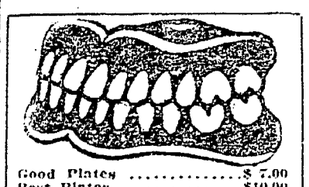

ECONOMIES SOUGHT.

"That the action of the superintendent's council be approved requiring that high school principals schedule all laboratory subjects for seven periods only, the minimum permitted by the requirements for university credit and admission, and that physical education be scheduled for the minimum required by the State law, thus saving approximately five teaching positions for the ensuing year.

"That all principals be requested to schedule classes as economically as possible, eliminating every possible waste in programming. It is estimated that by careful elimination of small classes and careful programming of pupils' time, six to eight additional teaching positions may be saved for the ensuing year."

NEW RECORD FOR PERMITS ESTABLISHED

805 Permissions to Install Electricity Are Issued in March, as Against 700 in the Same Month in 1916

The number of electrical permits issued in March surpassed all previous records for the city of Oakland, according to a report just issued by Electrical Inspector Carl Hardy.

During March there were 805 permits as against about 700 issued during a month in 1916, the latter record never having been broken until now.

"The number of permits," says Hardy, "may be taken as an indication of prosperity in the building industries, though of course many of the permits are small ones and the total value may come under that of previous months. The number of permits, however, is a gratifying sign of business recovery."

BURGLARS RANSACK HOME.

The home of Harriett M. Albrecht, 1666 Excelsior avenue, was ransacked last night by burglars. The entrance was gained through the rear door by using a pass key. The thieves took two gold rings, an electric grill and $7.50.

Police Fear Bombs As Japanese Booze Explodes in Office

Bang! Bang again! It was Japanese moonshine, seized in a raid and stored in the desk sergeant's office.

Desk Sergeant Jack Thornbury and Wagon Officer Albert Dieke were sitting peacefully in the office. It was 6 o'clock in the morning and they had two more hours to work.

There was a loud explosion and glass flew all around the room. Thinking a bomb had been thrown into the office, Dieke seized his revolver. Then the second five gallon jug of Japanese bootleg liquor exploded.

"I guess I need a mop instead of my revolver," said Deike.

The floor in the office was covered with liquor, and it took two janitors about half an hour to clean the place.

The liquor was seized when the officers arrested Tojara Kaniga and Schiga Kiuchi at a soft drink parlor at Eighth and Webster streets.

PAYS FOR BAD WORDS.

Joseph Botelho, owner of a soft drink parlor, was fined $10 today by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell after he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of using vulgar language to Policeman E. A. Yannke. He was arrested on the warrant sworn to by the officer.

Furs of the value of more than $2,000,000 were sold by Saskatchewan trappers in 1920.

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNS MAKE APPEARANCE

Enforcement of New Rules Inaugurated; White Paint on Streets to Disappear; Broadway Will Be 'Wider'

The new downtown traffic signs started to appear today, inaugurating the enforcement of the latest traffic ordinance. The signs first were posted along the east side of Washington street and will soon be put up throughout the city, taking the place of the painted white signs which now cost the city about $5000 a year.

As soon as the signs are all up, enforcement of the new law will be rigid, according to Traffic Sergeant Charles Hemphill. The traffic squad has been conducting a campaign of education, placing tags on the steering wheels of automobiles and reminding the drivers of the new law. It is asserted by police officials that there will soon be no reason for any misunderstanding of the law.

"A great difference will be seen on Broadway as soon as the parallel parking is enforced," says Hemphill. "It will be found that this street will seem broader and capable of handling traffic quicker and better than before."

COMIC OPERA TO RUN IN OAKLAND DURING SUMMER

Ferris (Teddy) Hartman and Paul Steindorff Will Sponsor Season Here.

Comic opera is coming back to Oakland.

On May 28 a summer season will be inaugurated at the Municipal Auditorium.

Ferris (Teddy) Hartman, beloved of Eastbay lovers of the best in music, and Paul Steindorff, choragus of the University of California and leader of the municipal band, will be in charge.

The partnership and friendship of Hartman and Steindorff dates back to 1889, when they made their first appearance on the coast and established a unique place for themselves in the hearts of music lovers.

STARS SPONSORED.

Since that time many seasons of music have been provided by the pair, and stars of all magnitudes have shone under their tutelage.

It was at the Tivoli Opera House that the Hartman-Steindorff combination became noted, and it was later at the Idora park theater that they endeared themselves to the local public.

Later Hartman went into the motion picture field as a director of comedies and Steindorff assumed his place at the University of California and at the head of the municipal band. Recently Hartman left the picture business and returned to his first love.

The plans of the pair are still nebulous, with the exception that the season has been definitely decided upon and the date for the opening set.

LEADERS FROM ABROAD.

No decision has yet been reached as to the cast, with the exception of Arthur Cunningham, who needs no introduction to the music followers and who is scheduled to take his place with the new company. Cunningham has had many triumphs since he left this city and has broadened out into one of the notables of the comic opera world.

The tenor of the company has not been selected, but it is probable that a tenor who recently created a stir in Australia will be imported for the chief roles. The prima donna will also be selected from abroad, according to Hartman.

Concerning the operas to be produced, Steindorff and Hartman have decided not to revive any of the Gilbert & Sullivan pieces or other light operas which have been revived in recent years. The plan is to select favorites of yesteryear and in all probability "The Idol's Eye," which ran for thirteen weeks in San Francisco some ten or fifteen years ago, will once more grace the boards.

Son Moves to Set Aside Mother's Will

John S. Frazier, 823 Fifty-fifth street, today filed with County Clerk George Gross a petition to the Probate Court to set aside the will of Mrs. Lottie A. Lewis, his mother, charging fraud and undue influence against Jewell B. Frazier, his brother; Mrs. Lulu Russell, his sister, and Charles J. Russell, administrator of Mrs. Lewis' estate. Mrs. Lewis, who lived at 731 Sixth avenue, died on March 11, 1922. Her will was made on February 23, 1922.

Frazier in his complaint alleges that just a few days before her death his mother was persuaded to deed the property at 731 Sixth avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Russell, and also to "deed away" other property at 727 Sixth avenue, and that she also was influenced to sell a $3000 mortgage for $2800, with the result that the estate remaining amounted to only about $2500 cash. Frazier was bequeathed $100 and his children, Irene and Kieth, were given $250 each, the balance of the money being given to Lulu Russell and Jewell B. Frazier, who lives in Dallas, Tex.

Spanish Center to Discuss Cervantes

In commemoration of the death of Cervantes this evening's meeting of the Oakland Spanish Center will be devoted to a discussion in Spanish of the life and works of the great Spanish author.

The discussion for the evening will be led by Senora Luisa Laruelo. The members of the club are looking forward to the evening as one of special interest to students of the Spanish language. A cordial invitation is extended by the club to all persons interested in Spanish. The presence in the club of a number of persons of Spanish descent affords an exceptional opportunity to hear the language as spoken by natives. The meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Alden Library, Fifty-second and Telegraph avenue, Oakland.

Scouts Cooperate in Forest Guard Week

Oakland Boy Scouts are co-operating in the observance of Forest Protection Week at the request of W. B. Greeley, national forester, and under a proclamation issued by President Harding.

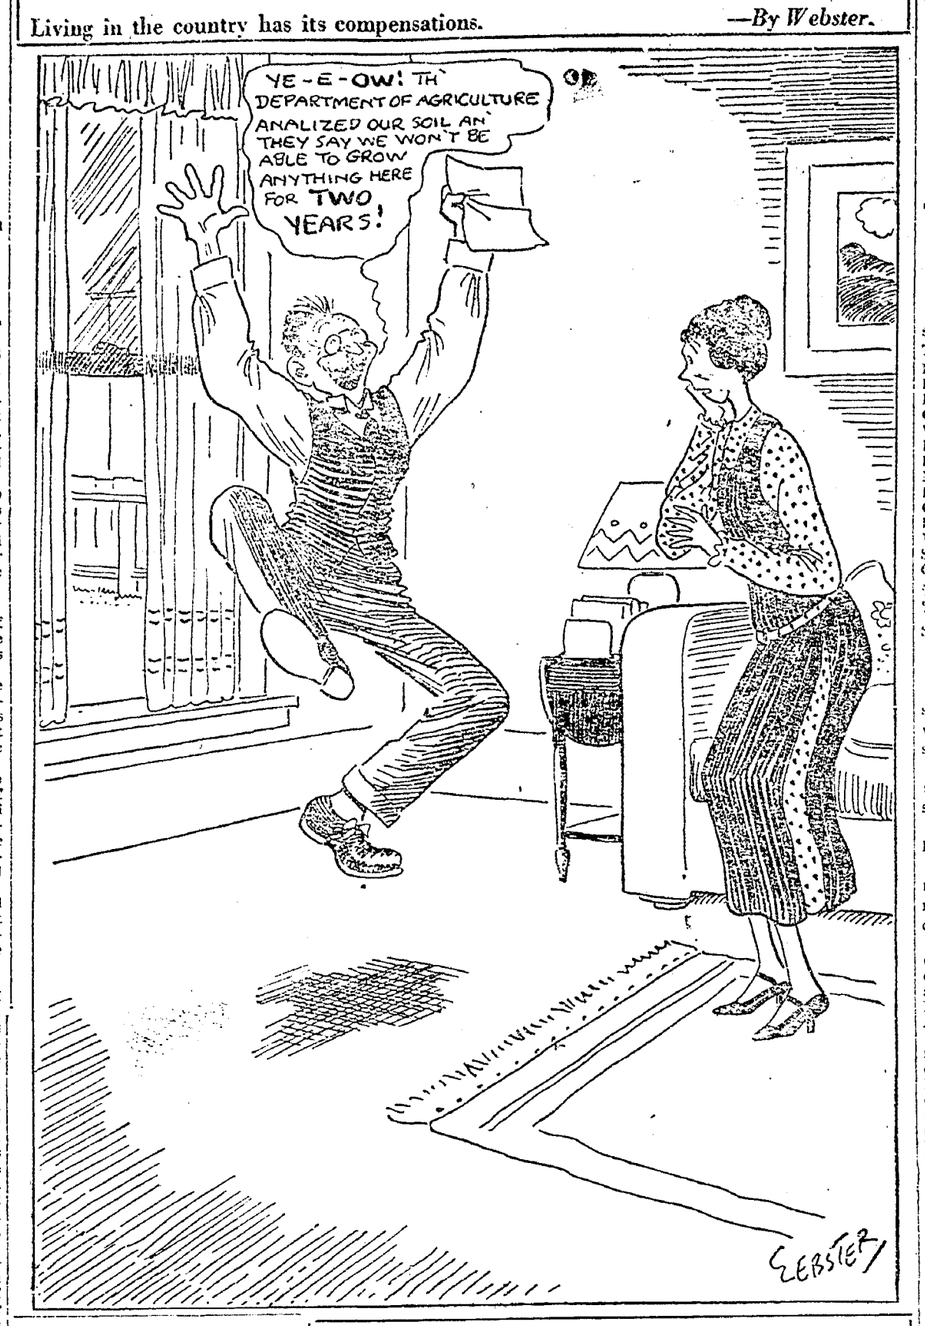

Special attention will be given to forest work on Saturday, the last day of Forest Protection Week, and the golden anniversary of Arbor Day.

Plans are being made for schools and clubs to hold special programs of observance on Saturday with the Boy Scouts participating.

FIRM WILL PAY FOR PAVEMENT TRUCK RUINED

As a result of the smashing of a pavement by a heavy truck, and a consequent talk with city officials, the Higgins Hardware company of San Francisco has agreed to pay for the repaving of part of Lakeshore boulevard, just north of Twelfth street, according to announcement by Commissioner Harry Edwards today.

Edwards say he saw the whole affair himself and had the driver of the truck arrested.

"In the first place, trucking is prohibited in that district," said Edwards. "The paving on that street is oil macadam and the truck got near the curb, where the paving is thin, and went down clear to the hubs. The truck was excessively overloaded. In order to get it out we had to tear away a lot of street surface.

"Last year we spent $15,000 repairing paved streets ruined by overloaded trucks."

BLOW CAUSED WIFE TO SIGN CONTRACT, PLEA

Asserting that she was influenced to sign a contract with the Bay City Investment company while ill from the effects of a blow on the head struck by her husband, Mrs. Sallie Landrum today started suit before Superior Judge T. W. Harris for the rescinding of the contract, naming her husband, Oscar Landrum, as one of the defendants.

Mrs. Landrum says the contract provided for the sale of a lot at Thirty - fourth and Magnolia streets to the company by the Landrums. A provision by which she and her husband were to be permitted to buy back the property within a certain length of time has been violatd, she declares, by the company, with the aid of her husband. E. B. Gray, manager of the company, is named as a co-defendant in the suit.

The feminine leads will be taken by Edythe Baylis and Geraldine Watt. The ast was picked by Coach Lester Sieb after a series of tryouts lasting several weeks. The rest of the cast will be made up of the following: Ivo Copeland, Warren Lewis, Nelson Valjean, Fred Hughes, Willard Schlinder, Stoddard Atwood, Helen Whitney, Foresta Hodgson, Peggy Richardson, Mary Jane Clark, Norma Meads, Mildred Hoover, Doris Bailey, Beatrice Broughton, Dorothy Gardner, Kathleen Evans, Mabel Ferry, Lura Spangler, Margaret Younglove, Barbara Bledsoe, Alice Roth, Wanda McMurtry, Jeanette Booksin, Martha Spangler, Gerald Powell, Roland Tognazzi, Charles Chandler, Charles Parks, Robert Cavanaugh, Edward Clancy, Howard Wilson.

Best Sellers Linked in Pebble Beach 'Fivesome'

By KATHERINE COOKE.

MONTEREY, April 18.—Saturday afternoon last was a field day forfor famous authors on the Pebble Beach Golf course. A fivesome, if there is such a word in the golf vocabulary, that would be almost impossible to duplicate anywhere else in this country made a joyous way around the course.

Just feature these all in one group, five of the best little sellers:

Harry Leon Wilson, creator of Ruggles of Red Gap and author of Merton of the Movies, which has just concluded its serial run; Joseph Hergesheimer, among whose able works "Java Head" still stands first with the critics as one of the really great American novels; Samuel G. Blythe, famous publicist, without whom no presidential convention is complete and whose political novel "The Mannakin Makers" made a stir after the last presidential campaign; Hugh Wiley, creator of the immortal "Wildcat" and "Lily" the goat of short story fame, and also responsible for a series of colorful and gripping Chinese stories, the last of which is "Manchu Blood"; Frank Condon, author of a flock of humorous stories, who now is doing scenarios with the Lasky studios.

These celebrities are not too much wrapped up in weighty literary matters to be great golf devotees, in fact they have even been alluded to as "golf bugs." Saturday was, however, the first time they have played the Pebble Beach course together. Excitement ran high when Wiley and Wilson had a five dollar wager on the last hole; they were even, stroke for stroke, until they reached the green; then Wiley proved that he, too, has a stand-in with "Lady Luck" by making a 15-foot putt and carrying away the laurels—and yet more important, the five-spot.

DENIES VIOLATION OF MANN ACT

Mrs. Frederick Humphreys, of Victoria, B. C., who accompanied Robert Redhead, 65 years old, to Oakland with her four children, today declared that there was no reason for his arrest on a charge of violating the Mann Act. Mrs. Humphreys said:

"Redhead came to live with my husband and me in Victoria, B. C. The old man, he is over sixty-five, daily witnessed the abuse and the cruelty meted out to the children and myself. Frequently he bought food and clothing for the children. Then, one day, he told me that he was going to Oakland. I pleaded with him to take me and the children with him, and not to leave us unprotected. To this he consented."

Redhead is in custody of the federal authorities in San Francisco.

Noted Writers Will Be Reception Guests

Charles G. Norris, author, and his wife, Kathleen Norris, also a writer, will be given a reception tomorrow night in Ebell club house at 8 o'clock. The affair will be informal and is under the direction of Mrs. Laura P. Ball, Mrs. Walpurga Beltink and a reception committee.

Leading California authors and the full quota of Eastbay writers will occupy the section reserved for writer-folk. Norris will give "A Talk to Young Authors," following her introduction by Miss Florence Bingham Livingston. Mrs. Elizabeth Birdsall Darling will present the authors attending.

Burglar Suspect to Get Trial on April 25

Carl Martin, alias Charles Walton, was arraigned today before Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell on a charge of burglary. The preliminary examination was set for April 25. He was arrested Saturday afternoon as he was getting on the creek route ferryboat by Policeman Charles Jorgensen. He is alleged to have broken into the homes of Mrs. Nellie Green, 397 Forty-third street, and Peter Curtaz, 3827 Howe street.

BOY HURT WHILE PLAYING IN ROAD

Albert Sernale, seven years old, 5305 Broadway, Oakland, was badly hurt yesterday when knocked down by an automobile driven by C. L. Walters, of Oakland.

The child was playing in the street at Broadway and Hudson when the accident occurred. Walters rushed him to the hospital, where he was treated for a fractured leg and jawbone.

Five persons were slightly injured when a Peninsula Rapid Transit motor bus, in which they were passengers, was struck by an interurban car at Burlingame yesterday. The injured, who were taken to Mills hospital, San Mateo, are: Mrs. J. E. Ryan, Daly City; Mrs. F. Desnos and Miss Eva Desnos, 2218 Hopkins street, Oakland; R. L. Carson, Menlo Park; Stephen Lamb, San Francisco.

Chinese Held for Dope Charge Trial

Police Judge Mortimer Smith today held Yick Chung, an alleged owner of a dope den, to answer to the superior court on a charge of violating the state poison act. According to the police record this is the second time that he has been arrested for violating the poison act, which makes it a felony.

He was arrested by Sergeant E. W. Brock and J. T. McInerney, an inspector for the State Board of Pharmacy. A large quanity of dope and several pipes were seized in the raid.

Nurses to Paint Baby Hospital

Tinting and painting the walls of the clinic building in the Baby Hospital has been undertaken by the nurses in their rest hours. The work started this week. A nurse advanced the $75 necessary for the materials.

A card party to cover additional costs of material will be given by the nurses in the Orthopedic clinic building on Wednesday, May 3. All women interested in the Dover street institution are asked to make their reservations at the hospital.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Fifty-seven killed and hundreds injured was the toll today of cyclones that swept the Middlewest.

Indiana and Illinois were the hardest hit.

Property loss will reach several millions of dollars, according to reports coming through on badly crippled wires.

High winds, accompanied by cloudbursts, raged through an area extending from Nebraska to Ohio, and from the southern end of Lake Michigan to Northeastern Arkansas.

Winds added to the havoc already caused by overflow of dozens of rivers and streams in Indiana and Illinois. Inhabitants of scores of towns were left shelterless when their tents, erected on high ground after their homes had been swept down rivers, were blown away.

WIRES AND ROADS HIT HARD BY STORM.

Telephone and telegraph wires were hurled together in a hopeless tangle. Miles of hard roads and railroad track were demolished. Early crops and thousands of head of livestock were destroyed. Farm buildings, homes and railroad stations were carried away in the path of the tornadoes.

Couriers from small towns risked their lives to rush to larger communities and beg for aid. Many of these reported their localities were "nearly wiped out."

The series of twisters originated in Northeastern Arkansas. Several miles of farm lands were swept and the wind suddenly lifted. All was calm when the fury hit Irvington and Centralia, Illinois mining towns. At Irvington seven were killed.

ALL BUILDINGS EXCEPT ORPHANAGE DESTROYED.

Every building at Irvington but a Baptist orphanage was destroyed. The Illinois Central station was carried away in the storm.

The greatest fury of the storm was felt when Hedrick, Ill., was wiped off the map. Ten persons were killed. Sloan, the home of George Ade, the humorist, was also seriously damaged.

Plainsfield, Ill., was literally picked up and blown away. There were no reports of death, however.

Twenty square miles of territory was devastated when cyclones hurled eastward across the Indiana border.

Snow and sleet covered Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska. Missouri and Iowa were pelted with hail, which caused great damage to property and crops.

EIGHTEEN ARE KILLED IN WESTERN INDIANA.

ATTICA, Ind., April 18.—National guardsmen patrolled the storm-stricken areas of Western Indiana today, where 18 persons lost their lives and scores were injured.

Red Cross relief from Chicago was being administered and temporary shelter was being erected for hundreds made homeless.

Ten were killed at Hedrick, nine at Williamsport, two at Sloan and two at Brook. Nurses and physicians were checking up on those injured and frantic relatives were rushing from one place to another searching for dear ones lifted up in the winds and carried away before their eyes.

Homes and business buildings at Williams in the path of the twister were laid flat. Hedrick and Sloan, smaller towns, were affected similarly. Buildings left standing were convertec into morgues at Hedrick and wagons were commandeered for ambulances.

A company of National Guards was sent to Attica on orders of Adjutant General Smith at Indianapolis.

GREAT HAVOC WROUGHT WHEN SECOND STORM HITS.

The storm did the most damage when it struck this community at dusk last night. It was the second of the day. It struck the state near the Indiana-Illinois line and lifted soon after it left Williamsport.

Beds, chairs, carpets, shingles, boards and even stoves were scattered along the countryside. Livestock carcasses were lying in the roadways and fields. Trees were laid flat across the roads, blocking traffic.

Impales Herself on Ax After Murders

COLUMBUS, Ky., April 18.—Mrs. Arnold Holt, in a sudden fit of dementia at her home in Russell Springs, a village near here today, slew two of her children, attempted to kill a third and then, fastening a hatchet in a fence with the blade toward her, backed off 20 feet and ran into it head-on. Physicians say she will die.

COLLEGE YOUTH WINS DEGREE IN EGGSAMINATION

MOSCOW, Ida., April 18.—Believe it or not, J. Arnold Cobley of Vancouver, B. C., a University of Idaho student, ate 30 eggs for breakfast and a hearty chicken dinner later in the day, and was able to attend classes. The feat was performed at the annual easter morning breakfast of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Close seconds to Cobley were Arthur Guerin, of Spokane, and Thomas Rocklin, of Idaho Falls, who each ate 22 eggs. The breakfast was served at 8 o'clock and by 9 Cobley had called for time.

Prior to this year 18 eggs was the record mark.

Chinatown Guard Accidentally Shot

SAN JOSE, April 18.—William Dorsey, guard employed by the Hip Sing tong in the local Chinatown, is today nursing a seriously injured hand as the result of an accident which narrowly averted proving fatal to the young man, well known here as a pugilist.

Dorsey incidentally nearly started a young revolution in Chinatown.

While seated on a bench near a fire kept up by the Chinatown guards during the long hours of the night, Dorsey accidentally dropped his 45-calibre revolver, the result being that in some manner it discharged. Fortunately the bullet, a heavy, steel-jacketed one, struck only the young man's left hand.

The hand, however, was badly injured. It was closed as the bullet struck it, tearing the thumb and middle finger and then penetrating the inside of the hand just at the lower knuckle of the middle finger, going out the back of the hand. Dorsey was treated at the emergency hospital by Dr. Paul Sanford, city physician.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 18.—Armed with revolvers two negroes today forced a messenger for the Southeast State Bank to leave a crowded street car, enter a motor car and accompany them for several blocks while they robbed him of $4000 in cash and $7000 in checks. Few persons on the car were aware of what was taking place until the negroes, pushing their captive ahead of them, climbed off and boarded the automobile which contained a negro and a white man and which had followed the street car for several blocks.

GARVIN HEARING TO END TONIGHT

The final hearing concerning Patrolman James Garvin will be held tonight before the civil service board, Garvin having appealed recently against dismissal.

The case is admitted to be a crucial one and is being watched with interest by the whole police department.

Garvin was accused of being involved in a bootlegging episode and was temporarily suspended, pending a hearing of the case by the federal courts. He appealed against the suspension. The federal courts found no evidence against him and it was expected that the suspension would be cancelled. Garvin was called to the office of Chief of Police Drew. He refused to go unless accompanied by an attorney. Garvin was then dismissed for insubordination.

Garvin asserts that he did not know that his suspension had been terminated and therefore felt that he was not under the orders of the chief of police. The chief, on the other hand, maintained that Garvin's attitude was insubordinate and somewhat contemptuous. This is denied by Garvin.

One of the points to be decided by the civil service board in this case is whether or not a patrolman is under the jurisdiction of police officials when under suspension.

1000 MEN STRIKE IN S. F. SHIPYARD OVER PAY SLASH

Bethlehem Plant Hit by the Walkout; Eastbay Not Yet Affected.

Approximately 1000 union boilermakers, blacksmiths, steamfitters, carpenters and patternmakers are out on strike in the yards of the Bethlehem shipbuilding plant in San Francisco as a protest against that concern's 10 per cent wage reduction, according to Frank C. Miller, secretary of the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council.

This, however, is the only plant thus far affected by the strike, it being the announced policy, for the present, of the unions to only have their men walk out from shops where actual notice of the wage reduction is posted. As the wages of molders were not affected by the cut they continued at work in the shipyards.

The executive board of the Machinists' Union is reported to have decided upon a strike of the machinists. This is to be submitted to the entire membership for ratification, however.

The Moore shipyards and the Bethlehem shipbuilding plant in Alameda report that their yards have not been affected by the strike and only a limited amount of work is reported going on at these yards. No wage reduction notices have been posted at the Eastbay yards except at the Bethlehem yard in Alameda.

Union officials declare that none of the commercial shops have posted wage reduction notices. The secretary of the Employers' Association has declined to issue any statement on the situation.

COOLIDGE WRITES TO OAKLAND C. C.

The following letter was received yesterday by Blanks Everett, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, from Vice-President Calvin Coolidge, in response to an invitation asking the Vice-President to visit this city:

My Dear Mr. Everett: The people of Oakland have been most kind in inviting me to visit that city during my stay on the Pacific coast, and I hope that it will be possible for me to arrange it. At present my plans are more or less vague on account of the state of public business. I shall certainly bear in mind this kind expression from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

Berkeley Moves to Pave Telegraph Ave.

BERKELEY, April 18.—The city council today instructed City Engineer Huggins to prepare plans and data as to the cost and methods of paving Telegraph avenue. The plans also are to include the estimated cost of installing a sewer.

The council's wish to obtain information on the proposed paving of Telegraph avenue is the outgrowth of a recent announcement by Commissioner Edwards of Oakland that the latter city is prepared to pave the avenue from Fifty-second street to the Berkeley city line.

No deficit exists in this city's finances, according to a report submitted by Councilman Carl Bartlett. He declared that the finances are about evenly divided between the amount received and the amount paid out. It also was brought to the attention of the council that the city garbage collection plan instead of constituting a loss to the city is a source of income.

Mayor Bartlett refused to sign a warrant authorizing the payment of a bill for several hundreds of dollars submitted by H. F. Howard,

WOMAN DROPPED FROM JURY LIST BY COURT ACTION

Mrs. Katrina Wassman Is Found Guilty of Contempt; Barber Fined $200.

Mrs. Katrina Wassman, 538 Elsie street, San Leandro, was dismissed from the jury panel and Robert Jarvis, barber, of 468 Twelfth street, was ordered to pay a $200 fine today as the result of their conversing in the courthouse corridor concerning the burglary trial of Peter Martiolli, while the trial was in progress. Mrs. Wassman, who was a juror in the case, and Jarvis, who was the complaining witness, were pronounced guilty of contempt of court by Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church. Jarvis secure a writ of habeas corpus today in Federal court in San Francisco, returnable Monday.

Following an investigation of several days Judge Church declared today that he was convinced that Mrs. Wassman had first spoken to Jarvis concerning the case, and that Jarvis, in the course of the conversation, had advised her to acquit Martiolli.

Mrs. Wassman protested to Judge Church against the ruling by which she was summarily dismissed from the jury list, and was finally led weeping from the courtroom by Bailiff Tom Egan.

The investigation, which ended today with the punishment of Mrs. Wassman and Jarvis, was begun by Judge Church as the result of charges made to him by Mrs. Wassman that Jarvis had approached her and asked her to acquit Martiolli.

Martiolli, a bootblack, was on trial for the alleged burglary of Jarvis' barber shop. After the charges against Jarvis were made by Mrs. Wassman, he was convicted by the jury, of which she was a member. He was recently granted a new trial by Judge Church on the ground of jury misconduct in connection with Mrs. Wassman's charges.

Concord Notes

CONCORD, April 18.—State Representative of the United Y. M. C. A. Schools Hollabaught, and C. A. Lockwood, district representative, located in Concord, have been present at the meetings of several posts of the American Legion, the last week, in various towns of Contra Costa and Solano counties. Hollabaught has addressed the members of the Legion in regard to the plan, whereby ex-service men can obtain correspondence courses through the Y. M. C. A. schools at very low cost to them.

At a "shower" given in honor of Miss Ethel Smith, bride- elect, the betrothal of Miss Elaine Gehringer to Prosper Oliveria was announced. Oliveria is a prominent rancher of this district.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, April 18.—Public interest in Eden Township centers today on the mass meeting to be held in Native Sons hall tomorrow night at which the fate of the proposed Eden Township Farm Products show will be decided. Members of the publicity committee, the general committee and the site, financial and plans and specifications committees are busy today making last arrangements and giving out final notices of the meeting.

Tomorrow fifteen members of the general committee will telephone to every number in the township in a last endeavor to secure the largest possible representation at the meeting. "We want this meeting to be representative of the township," Judge Jacob Harder, chairman of the general committee, said today, "and we intend taking every measure to make it so."

At 2:30 tomorrow afternoon boosters of the project will start out on an automobile parade which will include the entire township, running from Hayward to Castro Valley, thence by the foothill boulevard to San Lorenzo, then through Mount Eden and to Valle Vista and back to Hayward. The matter will be the main business at the meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce meeting at noon tomorrow.

M. J. Madison, chairman of the financial committee and president of the Farm Products Show committee, has promised to submit three plans for financing the proposal to the citizens of the township Wednesday, and Captain D. W. Pierson, chairman of the plans and specifications committee, will exhibit detailed plans and specifications. Madison says that the entire cost of the building and site will amount to $50,000. Pierson has promised to submit an estimate of cost to be within five per cent of the total cost of construction.

BUYERS JOIN CAMPAIGN.

HAYWARD, April 18.—Buyers have joined with growers and county agricultural agents in backing the campaign for pure bred seed planting now being carried on by the Alameda County Farm Bureau, and to further the interests of which Carl Nielsen, noted potato grower of Sebastopol, will speak to potato growers in Alvarado tonight.

F. J. Cunha, of the Farm Produce Sales company, in speaking of pure bred seed planting, said: "If the planting of carefully selected, certified seed is important in anything it is important in potato planting. Potatoes must have good seed, even more than other plants.

"Last season we urged careful seed selection upon the farmers here, and the result in the early potatoes now coming in has fully justified our urging. Buyers are as anxious as farmers to see a good yield. We want good crops, and are willing to pay for good produce. I am heartily behind the move of the farm bureau in attempting to create a better yield here."

Russell T. Robinson, county agricultural agent, and instrumental in bringing about tonight's meeting and one held last Wednesday at which B. H. Crocheron, head of agricultural extension service in California, and E. B. Babcock, dean of the department of genetics of the University of California, spoke, said that support being given the move for better seed planting promises success for the campaign. "Farmers are realizing more and more each day," he said. "The need of making the best of their land. The best can be secured from the land only when the best possible seed is put into the land."

TRUSTEES SWORN IN.

HAYWARD, April 18.—Hayward is officially in possession of its first woman trustee, Mrs. Ruth L. Rogers. Mrs. Rogers and F. J. Cunha, successful candidates in the recent municipal elections for town trustees, were sworn into office last night following a canvass by the board of trustees of the vote cast Monday, April 10.

Last night, too, A. E. Manter and Lester Perry, retiring trustees, performed their last duty as members of the board. Manter, who has been chairman of the board, completed 12 and Perry 6 years of service. The two will be banqueted by the chamber of commerce shortly.

The first and most important business facing the new board at its meeting Wednesday will be the selection of a chairman. Any one of the five members may be chosen, although choice apparently lies between R. A. Kolze, Mrs. Rogers and H. E. Brunner.

SHORT ON SONS.

HAYWARD, April 18.—A shortage of sons impends in Hayward.

The shortage is brought about in this way. On Thursday evening, April 27, the Hayward Brotherhood, an organization recently created to bring about a spirit of community loyalty and friendliness, community betterment and to increase the Christian influence here, held a father and son banquet in the Congregational church. No one who is without a son, either his own or someone else's, will be allowed to attend. The son, too, must be a juvenile son.

Grandfathers are fighting with sons over the right to take sons to the dinner. Who has the right? Does it belong to the father, or has the grandfather a prior claim? More peaceful brothers are busy hunting substitute sons.

ARMY PLAN DELAYED.

HAYWARD, April 18.—The proposed formation of a machine gun company of the National Guard here received a set-back yesterday following word received by Russell T. Robinson, acting head of the move, from General J. J. Borreo, saying that because of financial conditions nothing can be done on the matter until after June 1. Hayward has several machine gun men who served during the late war and who have expressed their willingness to join the proposed new company.

It is understood that the announcement from Borree will only mean a delay in the plans, and that the company will probably be formed here. Its proposal met with enthusiastic support from former service men and from others interested in the proposal.

TO ELECT ADJUTANT.

HAYWARD, April 18.—Election of an adjutant to replace C. B. Bradford, who tendered his resignation at the last meeting of the post, will form the main portion of business at the meeting of the Hayward American Legion Friday night. Bradford, who has moved to Oakland, was, he said, unable to keep up the work because of his absence from Hayward.

Following a short business meeting, the Legion will officially open their new headquarters in the Bank of Hayward building with a reception to the Hayward Veterans' League, an organization of Civil War heroes, and to the Women's Relief Corps, the War Mothers, the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, and the Spanish War Veterans. A life full length portrait of General U. S. Grant will be presented to the Civil War veterans by the post.

CASEYS TO CELEBRATE.

HAYWARD, April 18.—The tenth anniversary meeting of the Hayward Council of the Knights of Columbus, to be held here tonight, will be old-timers' night. All charter members of the council will be present.

Rev. Father Thomas O'Connell, overseas captain, and Grand Knight Cox of the Oakland council will be the principal speakers of the evening. Frank Mitchell, deputy district attorney, John F. Geary and J. J. Gill are charter members serving on the committee of arrangements. The Knights' orchestra will play for dancing.

NOVICE IS FINED.

HAYWARD, April 18.—S. Yamasaki, a grower of strawberries, began driving a car with a jinx, if not upon him, at least close in the rear. Yamasaki had just graduated from the hands of an instructor, and was delicately steering his machine about the city streets when he was hailed by Joseph Brandon, traffic officer, and haled before Judge Jacob Harder on a charge of disobeying traffic rules. Yamasaki cut corners. Yamasaki explained his condition as automobile novitiate, and was consequently let off with a $2 fine and a warning.

M. Crowell, 1205 Peralta avenue, Berkeley, appeared in court minus an operator's license. Upon explanation that he had misplaced it, his case was put over. M. T. K. Rogers, W. Gleadell, Charles Coates and David Curtis failed to appear before Judge Harder to answer charges.

MINISTER UNFROCKED.

LOS BANOS, April 18.—Rev. K. K. Allen, whose license has been revoked by the Southern Methodist conference, Los Angeles, because he had been serving as "chaplain" for a dance hall and performing marriages on the dance floor at Long Beach, is a former minister of this place. While here he served as pastor of the Methodist church, and by his utterances caused considerable ill feeling among residents of the town. His popularity gradually waned.

NEWMAN MAN BURIED.

NEWMAN, April 18.—The funeral of the late Antonio V. Souza, who died at Turlock last Friday, was held from the Newman aCtholic church yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Mothers' Talk Gets Probation For Auto Thief

As the result of an interview between the mother of 20-year-old Arthur Golden, who was facing a prison sentence for stealing an automobile, and the mother of Mrs. Clarence W. Ellsworth, whose car he had stolen, the youth was released on probation today by Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church.

Golden, in pleading guilty to the theft charge several weeks ago, asserted that he had taken the car for the purpose of visiting his mother in Glendale, near Los Angeles, who was ill with the "flu." He said he was the son of Joseph H. Golden, a Los Angeles hotel owner.

Mrs. Ellsworth, who is the wife of an official of the Western Aluminum Manufacturing company of Emeryville, wrote to her mother in Los Angeles, asking her to have a talk with Mrs. Golden. Mrs. Ellsworth's mother wrote back that he had found the youth's story to be true, and that she believed he ought not to be prosecuted. Mrs. Ellsworth then asked Probation Officer Compton to recommend Golden for probation.

The probationary period was fixed by Judge Church today at four years, with the condition that Golden go home to live with his mother.

CONTEST LOOMS IN ELECTION OF SCHOOL OFFICERS

R. S. Stewart Wins Washington Township Election by One Vote.

CENTERVILLE, April 18.—Whether or not the election of trustees of Washington township union high school district will be contested remains a moot question as the result of the announcement today by the retiring board of trustees that only one vote elected R. S. Stewart, of Alvarado, and defeated F. V. Jones, of Niles. Fred Dusterberry, of Centerville, won his place on the board by an overwhelming majority.

The board canvassed the votes at a meeting last evening, finding verification that the election three weeks ago was marked by several irregularities.

Ballots were received at one precinct for an hour and a half after the others had closed, charges were made that ballots had been opened before the polls closed, and that other ballots had been lost.

While the members of the board which canvassed the votes refused to state instances where several of the charges were verified they did say that irregularities in voting proc-dure had been noted.

F. V. Jones, the Niles candidate who lost by one vote, said yesterday he would not contest the election, but it is rumored that a group of his friends in Niles were planning to circulate a petition calling for a contest.

Retiring members of the board of trustees are J. C. Shinn, of Niles, and F. T. Hawes, of Centerville, both of whom have given many years of meritorious service to the community. They refused to be candidates for re-election.

Retail Fuel Dealers to Meet at Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ, April 18.—The ninth annual convention of the California Retail Fuel Dealers will be held in Santa Cruz, April 20, 21 and 22. The various committees in charge of the holding of this convention have been busy making preparations for some months past. Business items of big importance to the retail fuel dealers of the state and also to the people of California will come before this convention for discussion, and it is hoped that the action of this convention will have some effect in reducing the freight rates of coal to California. It is also hoped that the action of this convention may have influence in the reduction of mining prices of coal in the near future. The fuel dealers of California are lending all their energies toward the reduction of the prices of coal as nearly as possible to a pre-war basis and it is hoped that by the cooperation of the railroads, the mine operators and the retailers that the prices of coal this summer will be $3 or $4 a ton cheaper than it was last year.

It is proposed that a permanent advertising committee be appointed which will carry on a campaign of advertising throughout the state during the year, setting forth to the public the healthfulness and economy of burning solid fuel in the home. It is also proposed that a legislative committee be appointed for the purpose of obtaining legislation which will compel contractors and builders to erect chimneys in apartment houses and all other buildings where people have to make their homes, that the health of the people may be fully guarded. During the summer an advertising campaign will be carried on pointing out to the people the advantage of buying their supply of coal in the summer months, because of the fact that during the summer prices will be lower and also the dealer can give the consumer a much better preparation of coal than can be had in wintertime when the demand is so large. In this campaign it is the intention of the campaign committee to show the people that the smaller sizes of coal are not only cheaper, but in many cases much more economical than lump coal, for which they pay an additional price.

The chairmen of the various committees are:

Committee on credentials, A. L. Bullerdick, San Francisco; resolution committee, Ralph Wilcox, Stockton; grievance committee, John C. Mullen, San Francisco; entertainment and banquet committee, J. T. SUMMER GRASS FIRE PREVENTION ASKED BY BUREAU

Supervisors Asked to Make Provision to Combat Fire Losses to Cattlemen.

MARTINEZ, April 18.—Acting upon requests from the Cattlemen's Association of this county and the Farm Bureau, the supervisors have under consideration today methods for dealing with grass fires during the summer months, and they expect to work out a plan by which these costly fires may be prevented.

Cattlemen claim that the fires are costing them much feed and that their cattle are endangered. The Farm Bureau has been working on a fire prevention plan for many months and it is hoped that cooperation by these forces with the supervisors will result in a definite scheme whereby fires might be held in check and the losses of other years prevented.

Many of the fires against which the Farm Bureau and the cattlemen complain result from the dropping of lighted cigarettes or cigars from automobiles by motorists.

Four to One Odds Against You

The chances are four to one you will contract Pyorrhea after you pass the age of forty unless you take proper precautions.

Thousands younger also suffer from this unpleasant disorder of the mouth and gums.

Pyorrhea starts with tender, bleeding gums.

That is the way Nature warns you of your danger. Heed that warning!

If you ignore it, you may pay the penalty by loss of your teeth and serious illness.

Pyorrhea works fast. It loosens the teeth in their sockets until they fall out or must be pulled. It forms pus pockets at the roots of the teeth and feeds disease germs into the system.

At the first danger signal, see your dentist and start using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's, if used consistently and used in time, will prevent Pyorrhea or check its course.

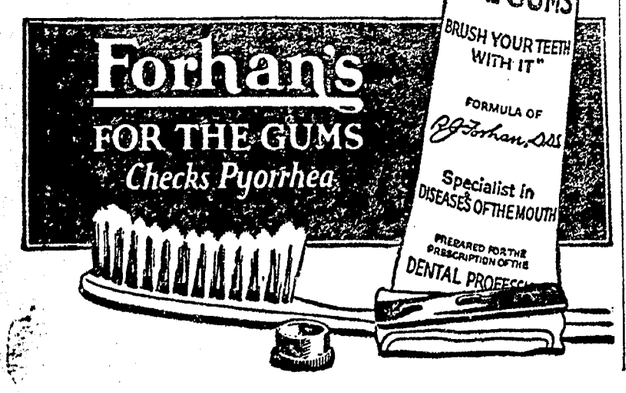

It is the time-tested formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S.

Use Forhan's regularly as a dentifrice. It keeps the teeth and gums in a clean, healthy condition and wards off Pyorrhea.

Don't wait until tomorrow. Four out of five contract Pyorrhea because they wait too long. 35c and 60c tubes at your druggist's.

Abrams Addresses Legion Luncheon

The regular weekly luncheon of Oakland Post, No. 5, American Legion, was held yesterday at Young's restaurant. Ira Abrams of the Oakland Title Insurance Company gave a further description of the method of tracing land titles in California.

Abrams described in detail the procedure followed in the purchase of property and showed the importance of the abstract of title and the certificate of title insurance. He described the details involved in the tracing of titles and explained the differences between the abstract system and the Torrens land title plan, together with what he considered the disadvantages of the latter.

An innovation in the luncheon program was the "roll call," each legionnaire stating to the others his name, address and occupation. The popularity of the luncheons and the increasing attendance each week was the reason for this, many men being present who have not before attended.

"Orphans of the Storm" to Set Attendance Mark at Century

Griffith Masterpiece Draws Huge Throngs; 12,000 Support Lillian, Dorothy Gish

"Orphans of the Storm" gives promise of breaking all box office records at the Century theater, according to the announcement of the management following the first two days of the two weeks' run.

The celebrated David Wark Griffith adaptation of "The Two Orphans," with Lillian and Dorothy Gish in the principal roles, supported by a cast of 12,000, is proving one of the biggest drawing cards of the season.

In "Orphans of the Storm" Griffith has set a new mark for himself in the grandeur of his scenic investiture and the tremendousness of his mob scenes. The big scenes depict the fall of the bastile with the scenes of revolution attendant and the race of the cavalry to save one of the orphans from the guillotine.

The picture is an adaptation of "The Two Orphans," but the theme of this play, famous in former years through the work of Kate Claxton, is merely incidental in the Griffith production, which deals in the main with the events of the French revolution.

"Orphans of the Storm" is marked by clever acting and splendid direction. Performances continue throughout the day, with special orchestral accompaniment. The run is scheduled for two weeks only at popular prices.

Mrs. Mabel Boyle Is Said to Have Confessed to Killing Husband.

SUSANVILLE, April 18.—Charges of having killed her husband were to be placed today against Mrs. Mabel Boyle, formerly of Oakland, according to Thomas Massey, city marshal.

RAT CATCHER IS NAMED TO HALT WAVE OF THEFT

MONTREAL, April 18.—An official rat catcher has been appointed for the Montreal court house. Official stenographers had their notes eaten by rats during the night. A judge lost his gown and silk hat from the closet in his chambers. Civil suits involving valuable property were delayed through the disappearance of records. Finally when "exhibit A" in a murder trial was eaten, and the prisoner had to be liberated from lack of evidence, the authorities decided it was time to take action.

April 18.—Fire of an undetermined origin in the basement of the Lundquist building in the heart of the wholesale mercantile district today destroyed the building and partially destroyed the adjoining seven-story Club building with a loss variously estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. Many outside firms maintaining Denver headquarters in the Linquist building were among those who suffered the greatest loss.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE
It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.—Advertisement.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

Embarrassing Hairs Can Be Quickly Removed

(Beauty Culture)

Hairs can be easily banished from the under-arms, neck and face by this quick, painless method: Mix into a stiff paste some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and in 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. Excepting in very stubborn growths, one application is sufficient. To avoid disappointment, buy the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.—Advertisement.

Try This if You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS
Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backaches and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidney and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you.

CONTEMPT CASE SEQUEL TO DRY CHARGE HEARING

Attorney Persists in Using "Frame Up" Despite Court Ban.

The hearing of four men on a charge of bootlegging before United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie at Oakland yesterday led to the placing of charges of contempt of court against E. T. Harnden, attorney, by the commissioner. Hardie said:

"Harnden has insulted this court and disobeyed its orders and I will not permit such conditions to go unchallenged. As soon as the affidavits, which are now in my hands, are sent to the United States district attorney in San Francisco Harnden will be cited to appear before that court."

The commissioner states that he requested Harnden to refrain from declaring a condition a "frame-up" when questioning a police officer in the trial of John Ely, Charles Parent, William Cameron and Angus Foster.

Harnden is reported to have replied to the court that he would use the term "frame-up" whenever he pleased, and that, on being ordered from the courtroom, he refused to leave.

Today Is 16th Anniversary of Great S. F. Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Sixteen years ago today San Francisco was a raging holocaust. Fire following the earthquake wassweeping the city.

City officials today estimated that a total of $503,800,000 has been expended in building construction and improvements during the sixteen years of reconstruction, which have effaced all but the memory of the great disaster. The annual Press club dinner was the only observance of the anniversary.

NEW YORK, April 18 (By International News Service).—A mother and two children who were spending their first night in their new home were burned early today when fire swept the apartment house. The superintendent was unaware they were in the building and after rousing four other families believed all were safe. Later three charred bodies were found in the debris.

Mrs. Florence Helms, 23, and her two children, Harold, 5, and Florence, 3, were the victims.

DUMBARTON PLAN GIVEN APPROVAL BY SAN MATEO

Supervisors Vote to Launch Proceedings Toward the Highway, Bridge.

Proceedings toward the construction of a peninsular highway and vehicular bridge across the bay near Dumbarton Point were inaugurated yesterday when the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, at its session in Redwood City, decided to take steps toward the formation of a joint highway district with San Francisco.

The exact location of the bay crossing was not stipulated. Some residents of the peninsula prefer a bridge at Coyote Point, instead of at Dumbarton.

It is proposed to establish a highway district, the officials of which will be appointed by the San Francisco and San Mateo supervisors, and that this board will have power of assessment for the purpose of financing both the proposed highway and bridge.

According to present plans, the proposed highway will run from a point near Potrero avenue and Army street through San Francisco and San Bruno, and thence paralleling the Southern Pacific tracks, to Dumbarton.

The plan as outlined was also endorsed yesterday by a meeting of the bridge committee of the Peninsular Bureau of Chambers of Commerce.

The Three-Cities Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the Coyote Point bridge project, wrote to the San Mateo supervisors, urging the appointment of an impartial body to determine the best location of a bridge before taking final action. A resolution endorsing the proposed continental bridge between San Mateo and Alvarado in Alameda county was also adopted yesterday by the San Mateo Board of Trustees.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—The candy concession of Neptune Beach was robbed by five youngsters last night. According to the report made by Robert Strehlow, manager of the beach, 116 packages of sweets were taken.

AUTOMOBILE BURNS.

BERKELEY, April 18. — H. T. Machell, special officer in the Thousand Oaks territory, is minus his automobile today as the result of a blaze which almost destroyed the car last night. The fire department arrived in time to save a portion of the machine. The accident occurred at Hopkins and El Dorado streets, the blaze being caused by back-firing.

The Right of Way to Tire Leadership

A year or so ago, the American public placed the leadership of the tire business in the hands of the men who make U. S. Royal Cords

THE first Royal Cord Tires were made and sold in 1916.

No cut-and-dried story could possibly account for their position of command today—earned in a short six years.

It mostly comes down to the car-owner as an out and out human being. Forget him as a mere tire customer and consider him as a personality. With an inborn instinct for quality. With a pride in demonstrating his quality beliefs.

How many tire manufacturers, would you say, have even guessed that American car-owners were shifting so fast to better tires?

Certainly U. S. Royal Cords have proven this fundamental thing—

For every low-grade tire made there is arising some motorist with a fine, human indifference for it.

He and his kind have become out and out loyalists of Royal Cord Tires—as representing the highest expression of their demands.

Multiply this man by a million or more. Then sit down and weigh his tremendous deciding influence.

Their spirit of leadership is the spirit of constancy—faithfulness—a simple, understandable policy.

U. S. Royal Cords have come to be the measure of value of all automobile tires.

The makers of United States Tires urge upon everybody—manufacturer and dealer alike—a new kind of competition.

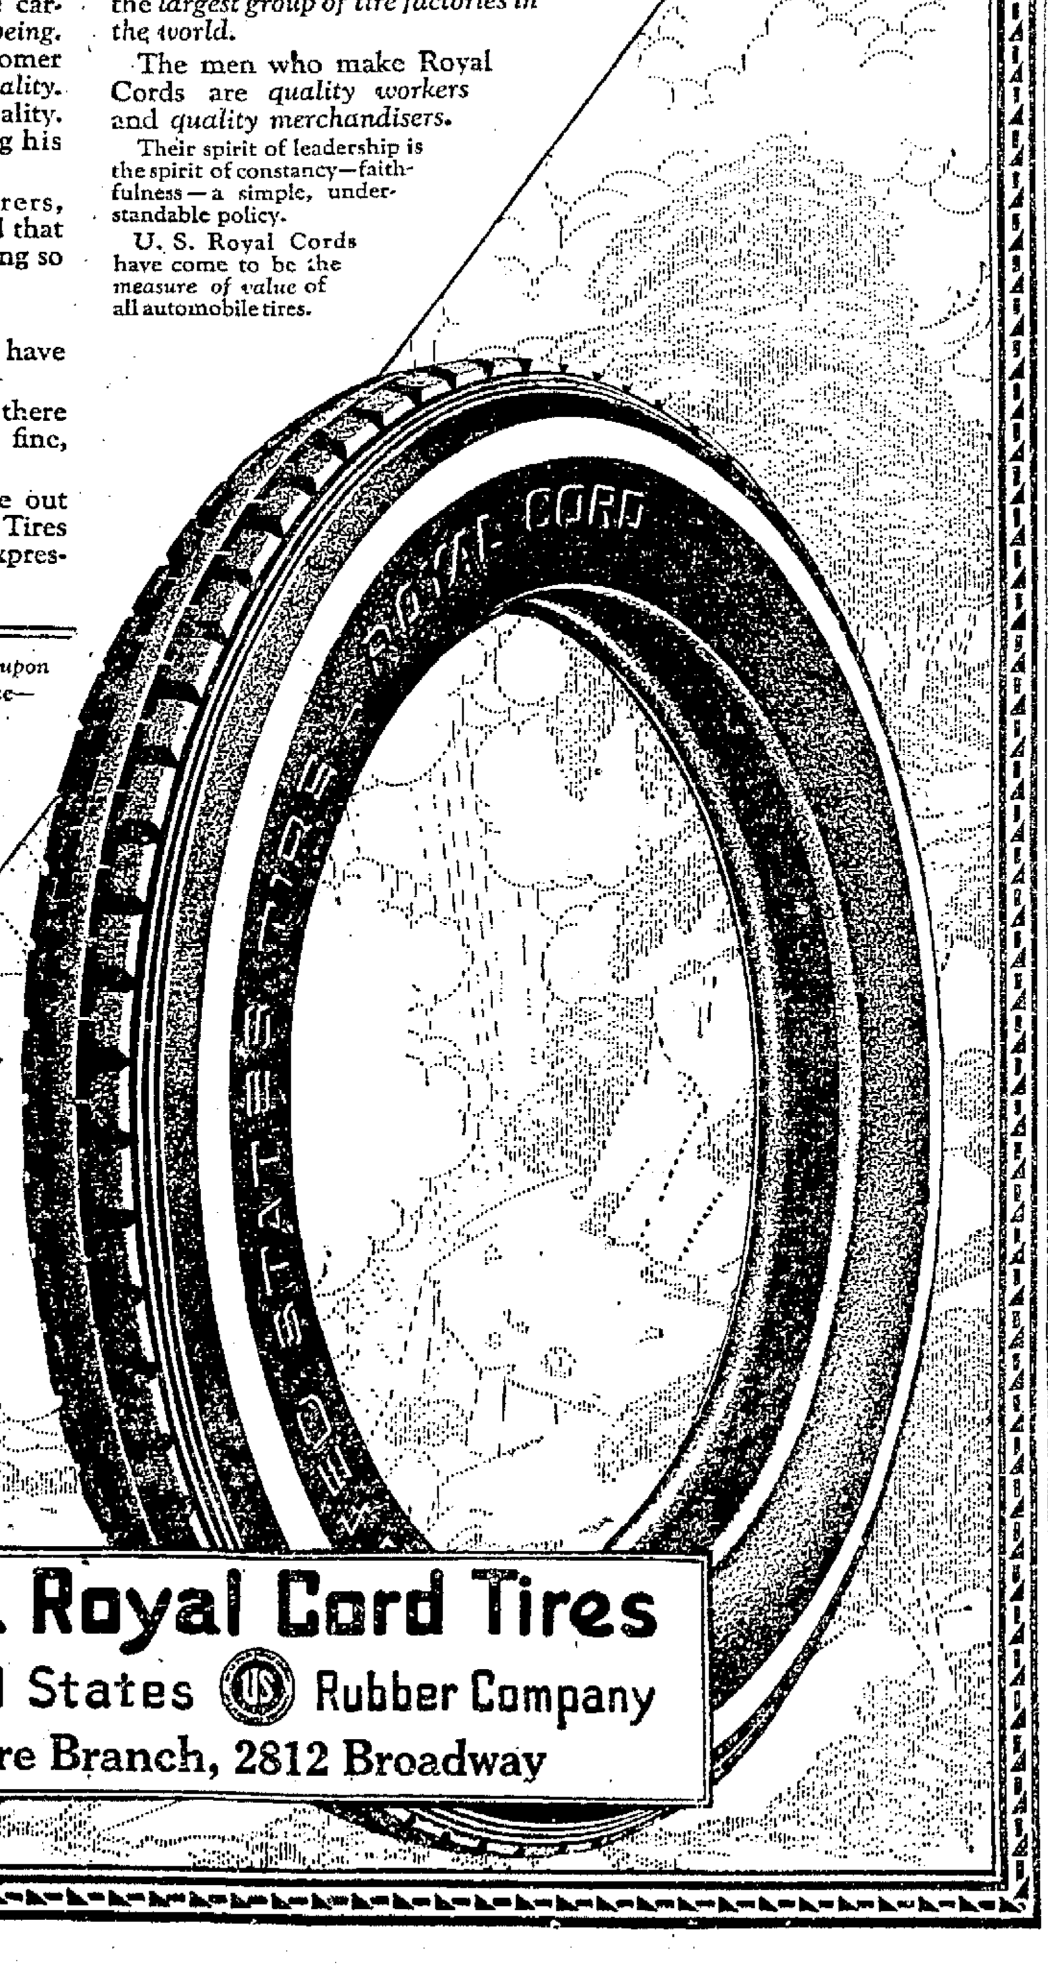

Let us compete for more and more public confidence.

Let us compete for higher and higher quality.

Let us compete for still more dependable public service.

He'd Have Preferred Union Hours

Being seized with the fever for modern improvement, the legislature of a certain state in the southwest some years ago voted for the installation of the electric chair to supplant the old-fashioned slip noose under the left ear of our forefathers. At the same time the law-givers tacked on a provision to the effect that no newspaper might publish the details of an electrocution but, on the contrary, should go no farther than to state that on such a date, at such and such an hour, the execution of the law was carried out upon the body of John Doe or Richard Roe, as the case might be, the purpose of this being to invest the entire proceeding with a mystery in the minds of those individuals most likely to come within the scope of its deadly operations.

The first candidate for the lethal ministrations of justice in a remote county chanced to be a large, brawny negro. In passing sentence upon him the judge followed, in the main, the old and time-honored formula, merely altering it somewhat to conform to the new conditions. After reviewing the crime and the trial, his honor spoke substantially as follows:

"It is the duty, therefore, of this court to charge that the warden of the state penitentiary shall closely hold you in confinement until the twenty-first day of August, next, when between the hours of sunrise and sunset he shall put you to death by the electric chair—and may God have mercy on your soul! Mr. Sheriff, remove the prisoner."

The sheriff took the condemned man away. Overnight, pending his removal to the place of execution, he was lodged in his old cell in the county jail. He sent a message to the commonwealth's attorney who had prosecuted him, asking that he might see that official immediately. The commonwealth's attorney was a friend of mine. He told me he went to the jail. The doomed darkey was sitting on his cot with his face in his hands rocking himself back and forth while the tears trickled through his fingers.

"Mr. Corbett," he said, "I craves to ax a dyin' favor of you, please suh?"

"Well, Jake," said my friend, "I'd do anything in my power, almost to ease your mind. But if you are after a pardon or a reprieve I can't see my way clear to helping you. You killed that man in cold blood and you had a fair trial and you've got to die and, what's more, you've got to die on the date this judge has named."

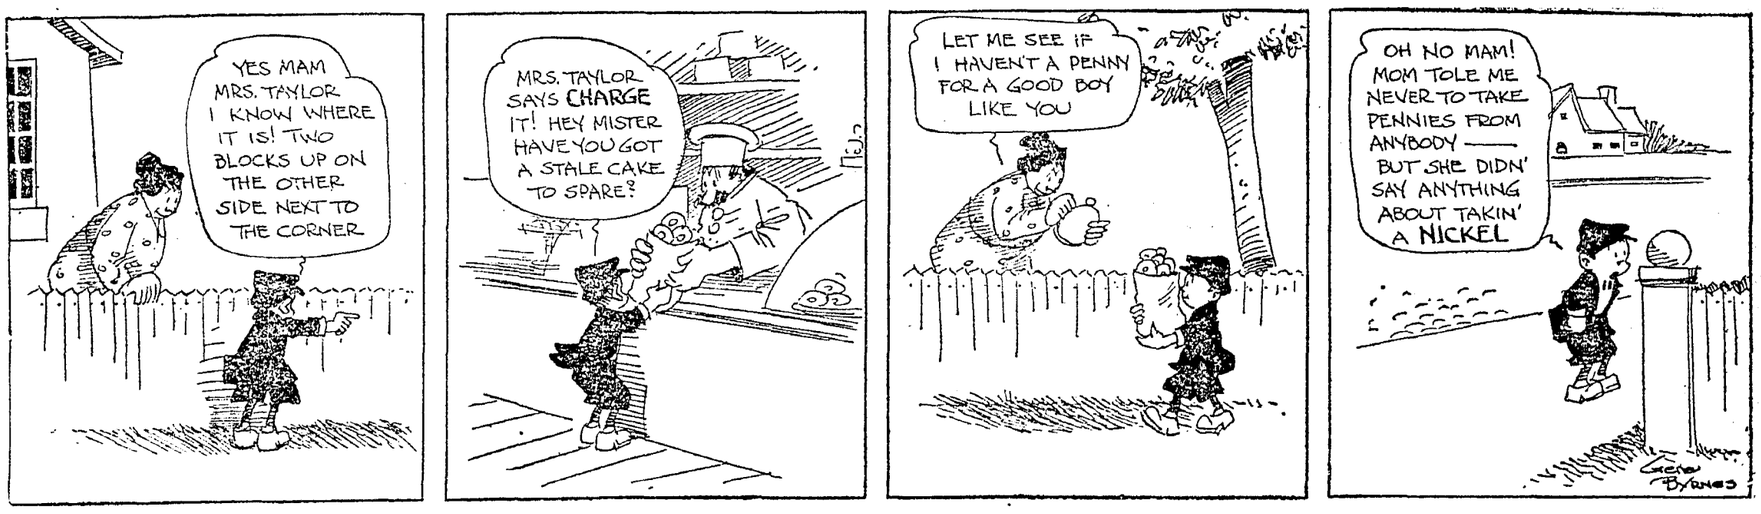

"'Tain't dat, suh," bewailed Jake. "I ain't got no quarrel wid de date. I kin git all my worldly affairs settled up 'twixt now an' den an' mek my peace wid de Lawd, lakwise. But, Mr. Corbett,"—and here his voice broke sharply—"I p'intedly does hate to be settin' in dat dere cheer f'um sunrise plum' to sunset."

And when you think it over, it would get on a body's nerves along, say, toward four-thirty o'clock in the afternoon, wouldn't it?

THE OVERTURE TO SPRING

The robin doesn't always come on schedule,
The early worm may often oversleep,
And the soporific breezes
So provocative of sneezes
May be tardy in arriving from the deep;
The trillium and the crocus may be drowsy
And a lethargy possess the little bugs,
But there's one unspoken token
That the winter's back is broken:
When you hear the wifely walloping of rugs, rugs,
The sounding and the pounding of rugs.
Oh, it used ot be an eye exhilaration
And a promise of a gustatory glee,
When the litographed precursor
Of the beaded Bock immerser
Smiled from yonder corner window frame at me—
But now a doom has fallen on that haven,
And with ginger ale they desecrate those mugs;
Gone the Bock and fled the Beaker,
And the Spring harbinger seeker
Must content him with the dust of walloped rugs, rugs, rugs,
With the trusty, musty, dusty, fusty rugs.
Every morning I'm awakened from my slumber
By a grim reverberation far and near,
By the flail of wife and spinster
On the maculate axminster
With its consequent concussion on the ear—
Do I deprecate this overture domestic
To the Goddess of the smilax and the slugs?
No, indeed I rather fancy
There's a mystic necromancy
In the somber roll and rumble of the rugs, rugs, rugs,
In the mystic roll and rumble of the rugs.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

Exhausted, I slept during most of the journey home. I did not see Hugh Grantland until we reached New York, and were whisked from the station into a powerful touring car.

It was after dark, as he had planned, when we drew up to my home. Tom Chester appeared as if from the ground with the information that Aunt Dora Paige, upon whom the major feared the effect of sudden excitement, all our household was gathered in the living room.

"Miss Fairfax?" Major Grantland queried.

"She brought the other one over as you asked." Tom Chester replied.

A great light broke upon me. Edith Fairfax had been working with Hugh Grantland from the first, pretending friendship with Grace Draper in order to keep her around her.

We entered the living-room filled with people. Dicky, as always since his boy's disappearance, staring straight in front of him—Grace Draper and Edith Fairfax standing together near a door, a little away from the rest.

Dicky sprang to his feet at sight of his boy, and rushed toward us.

"Oh, my God! Madge, is he all right?" he cried.

Junior answered him with a joyous call of "Pa-pa! Pa-pa!" and sprang into his outstretched arms. And then we heard a shriek from Leila—another from Mrs. Durkee.

I turned to see Grace Draper forcing Edith Fairfax to the door with one hand while with the other she held a tiny but deadly pistol to the Virginia girl's head. With incredible swiftness she had grasped the situation as she saw us enter, and had done the only thing possible to save herself.

"You think you've got me!" she cried, and then she laughed, a cool, light chuckle, as if she were really amused at the paralysis which had seized us all. "I'm glad to see you appreciate at its full value my purpose to hold this interesting stool pigeon"—she gave Edith's arm a vicious jerk—"as hostage until I get safely away. If you make a single move I'll send her to wait for me. Oh, you're not through with me yet, Madgie, you asinine little dupe! How royally forgiving you were. Bah! You make me ill, you and your colossal conceit about the men you think ready to jump over the moon for you. I wonder at Dickybird's patience and blinders, but Madgie, dear Madgie, haven't you wondered where your wandering Harry is tonight?

DICKY'S PLEA.

"According to schedule he ought to be performing feats of derring-do for his Lady Fair, and signing releases for your interesting friend in the hospital. But just tell Lillian with my compliments, that she'll wait a long time for legal freedom to jump over the broomstick with that sappy Robert——"

She flung Edith Fairfax violently against Tom Chester, sending them both reeling, and was out of the door, speeding into the darkness.

"After her!" Hugh Grantland shouted, but only Tom Chester and Alfred Durkee obeyed.

For a far different cry assailed our ears as Mother Graham, staggering with weakness, with Jim and Katie on either side of her, and Aunt Dora Paige anxiously bringing up the rear, came into the room, and, almost fainting, but with ineffable bliss on her worn, old face, clasped her idolized grandchild in her trembling arms. And then Dicky, as if released from duty, glanced quickly at me, and rushed out of the door.

I had undressed Junior, put him to bed in my room, and was sitting by his side trying to get the excited child to sleep, when Dicky came in. Dicky's face was sombre, his manner taciturn.

"Grantland's going," he said. "You'd better go down and say 'thank you.' No," in answer to my unspoken question, "we didn't get her—not yet," grimly. "By they've arrested the man across the road. He'll be put where he belongs, anyway."

I descended the stairs slowly, found Hugh Grantland in the hall, with my father and Alfred Durkee. In another minute I was alone with the army officer, who, with tense, white baffled face, seized tightly the hands I held out to him, while his eyes held the look which I have seen and regretted before.

"She eluded us," he said hoarsely, "yet I shall not rest until she is no more a menace to you. But I can't protect you if you——"

"I will never disregard your warnings again." I said earnestly, and he lifted my hands to his lips.

"Remember, I am at your call always," he said, and went out into the night again, while I dragged myself up the stairs wondering why Fate should have arranged things that this man should care so hopelessly, while my husband seemed so careless of my happiness.

But when I entered my room, the mental door which had been shut between my husband and me seemed to open ever so slightly. For he was kneeling beside the bed, our boy gathered in his arms, his face buried in the child's curls.

OUR boy. Ah, there it was, the key which could open any door between my husband and me! I felt the ice around my heart yielding as Dicky lifted his head, and, seeing me, put out his arm and swept me to my knees beside him, holding me tightly as if he would never let me go.

"I don't deserve to plead for myself," he whispered, "though, honestly, sweetheart, you haven't any reason to be jealous, however much you may have to be angry and disgusted. But won't you let him plead for me?"

"Pa-pa, tiss Dooner. Ma-ma, tiss Dooner. Pa-pa, tiss ma-ma."

Dicky's eyes met mine. What I saw in them swept away the last vestige of my resentment, and over our restored darling our lips met.

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

Pressing Stone With Bone

This is part of a series of narratives about the life of mankind that will continue throughout the year.

THE BONES OF ANIMALS were certainly among the first things men ever used for tools or weapons. For a very long time, people used the bones just as they were when taken from the bodies of slain beasts. Clubs, pointed sticks and ordinary stones were used by the first people for weapons. Men who lived in later times learned to chip stones. That was the beginning of the Stone Age—an age that lasted probably 200,000 years. Most of the time during the Stone Age, people chipped stones by pounding them with other stones. This way of making tools is shown in the upper part of illustration today. Among the tools made in such a manner were stone knives, axes, forces, scrapers and hammers. Hundreds of thousands of these have been found beneath cave floors and elsewhere in Europe, Asia and Northern Africa. As thousands upon thousands of years passed, men slowly learned to chip their tools better and better. Some splendid results were obtained in those olden times. Men pounded away on stones—usually flint—and lo! the stones were made into good tools and good weapons.

Then came a time when people in Europe did not chip stones so well. Perhaps the race was becoming rather "worn out." From time to time, however, tribes from Northern Africa and Asia made their way to Europe and refreshed the human stock. Among these tribes were people who learned a better way to chip stone. This new way was by PRESSURE WITH BONE.

Pounding and pressing—these were the two methods early men used to chip stones. Pressing came later.

Notice the lower part of the illustration. It shows how men who lived in the latter part of the Stone Age made their tools. A piece of bone in one hand is to be seen pressing against a stone in the other hand. Much finer tools and weapons than ever before were made by this method.

Another important step taken at this time was the cutting of bone to make it better suited man's use. Among the things made from bone were awls, pins, knives, chisels, wedges and harpoons. The last was a barbed instrument used for catching fish. It will be described in detail when we come to our chapter on Early Fishermen.

How Stone Daggers Aided Men will be the subject tomorrow.

Uncle Wiggily

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ROOKIE.

"Stand still!" howled the Fox.

"Nurse Jane, don't you want something from the store this morning?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped around the dining room of the hollow stump bungalow on one leg. He did this because he felt happy and gay, and also because he wanted to see if the rheumatism would pain him in the leg on which he was hopping.

"Ah! I'm all right! I feel fine! I'm going adventuring at half-past nine!" rang Uncle Wiggily, and he twinkled his pink nose. "Don't you want me to get you something from the store?" he asked Nurse Jane.

The muskrat lady housekeeper thought for a moment.

"I don't believe I need anything," she said.

"Oh, come now!" begged Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "Some little thing—a loaf of butter, a cake of sugar, a dozen of bread, or something like that?"

"I really can't think of anything I need," said Nurse Jane.

"Well, I want to go to the store for you," said Uncle Wiggily, "because then I nearly always have an adventure. If you don't need anything special I'll get you a bag of salt. You can always use salt."

"Yes," answered Nurse Jane. "I suppose I can. Bring some salt, Wiggy."

Feeling very happy because he could do a favor for Nurse Jane, away hopped Uncle Wiggily, over the fields and through the woods.

"Before I look for an adventure," he said, "I'll go get the salt. Then there will be no fear of forgetting it, even if Nurse Jane doesn't specially need it."

Soon the funny gentleman reached the seven and eight-cent store and bought the bag of salt. As he was hopping along with it under his paw, all of a sudden he heard a rustling in the bushes. At first Uncle Wiggily feared it might be the Woozie Wolf or the Fuzzy Fox, but instead, it was a queer little animal, like a big boy sheep, and the funny part about him was that growing out on either side of him was a long, curling hook, like those in your clothes closet.

As Uncle Wiggily looked, he saw that the hooks were made by twisting the fuzzy wool which grew on the boy sheep, until the hooks looked like the hair braids of a little girl going to a party. And when the fuzzy wool had been thus twisted it stayed in the shape of a hook.

"Oh, how do you do? Who are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily, looking at the odd little boy sheep.

"I'm very well, thank you," was the answer. "And my name is Hookie. I should think perhaps you might tell that by looking at the hooks in my wool."

"Ah, yes, you have hooks," said the bunny gentleman. "I might have noticed them at first, and so have guessed your name. But why do you have those hooks, Hookie?"

"Because," answered the boy sheep, "I used to be very careless, and every time I came in from play, instead of hanging up my cap, I would toss it into a corner, under a chair or on the floor. So my mother twisted my wool into these hooks for me to hang my cap on. At first I didn't remember, even with them on me. But now I always hang up my cap when I take it off."

And, surely enough, the little boy sheep took off his cap, reached around with his hoof and neatly hung his hat on one of the side hooks.

"Oh, fine, Hookie!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Fine!"

Just then, all of a sudden, out from the bushes burst the bad old Fuzzy Fox.

"Ah, ha. Oh, ho!" howled the Fox. "I'm just in time for a few ear nibbles," and he looked hungrily at Uncle Wiggily.

"Stop! Wait a minute!" cried Hookie. "You can't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears now!"

"Why not?" asked the Fox.

"Because you have your hat on," said the little boy sheep. "It is very impolite to eat with your hat on."

"I'll take it off!" snarled the Fox, and he did, throwing it on the ground. "Now I'll nibble your ears!" he said.

"No, not yet!" bleated Hookie.

"Why not?" asked the Fox.

"Because you have thrown your hat on the ground, which is the same as the floor," answered Hookie. "You must hang up your cap as I do, on one of my hooks. Hang up your hat before you nibble Uncle Wiggily's!"

"Oh, pish tush!" exclaimed the Fox, out of patience and not very polite, which he seldom was. "Well, I'll hang up my hat on one of your hooks, and then I'll nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears!"

Well, the bad Fox picked up his hat, but when he went to hang it on one of Hookie's hooks, the boy sheep jumped about so that the Fox couldn't tell where he was. First he'd be here and then he'd be there.

"Stand still! How can I hang my hat up if you bob around so?" howled the fox.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Hookie. "That's just why I'm doing it! I didn't want you to hang your hat up, and you can't nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears until you do hang it up. Ha! Ha! Run, Uncle Wiggily! Run!"

And the rabbit gentleman ran safely to his bungalow, but first he threw some salt in the eyes of the Fox, and then the bad chap couldn't see to bite Hookie, so the boy sheep was safe, and everything came out all right.

Winifred Black Says

THE BALANCING OF LIFE.

The silk trade's coming up.

All because of the short skirts.

Now, wouldn't you think—yes, but you're wrong.

The short skirts did skimp on the materials a little, to be sure — but just think what they have done for stockings!

No one ever thought much about stockings a few years ago, but now—

Wool will be coming up soon, be sure of that. The skirts are still comparatively short, and woolen stockings are quite the rage.

And there you are! What a strange old see-saw it is, this world and everything in it.

If skirts are short, stockings are long—and up goes the price of raw silk.

Long sleeves—and all the glove factories take on extra hands.

See-saw—up and down back and forth—we talk a lot about about economics and political policies and look very grave and learned when we listen to deep discussion on the influence of the fashions upon economic conditions, and all the while some one, somewhere, must be laughing at us, in the friendliest kind of fashion.

WE GET—WHAT?

They govern us so completely, the great broad rules, and most of us never dream they exist.

There's all this excitement about the limitation of families, for instance.

I heard a woman make a wonderful speech about it the other day. She said it was cruel to allow the poor to bring so many children into the world and starve and neglect them. It was the duty of the more enlightened members of the community to teach them better ways.

I was quite impressed. But on my way home, I went through a poor and crowded part of the city. The streets were gay with children, and the air was full of laughter. All up and down the sidewalk, the children ran and played and shouted—yes, and quarreled and fought—and laughed and made up again, and fell down and cried, and got up and dried their tears just as if nobody ever thought that they were in the way at all.

Some of them were not very clear, and some of them could have been wearing better clothes—but, taken by and large, they looked to me even healthier and better-natured, and more intelligent and self-reliant and happier than the children in the neighborhood where the families are "intelligently restricted."

What a queer, stupid old thing Nature is, anyhow! Always going right on, in the same way, without paying the least attention to apartment-house rules and hotel regulations.

Starlight and the acacias in bloom—a man and a maid—the little church around the corner, the little home near by, the children—love, laughter and tears—and the whole story is told.

But we—oh, we are wiser than that!

We want limousines and smart clothes, and fine feathers and interesting friends, and careers and travel. We can't exist without these things—we really can't.

And so we plan to give up what is natural and simple and self-sacrificing—and we get—what?

When it's all said and done—when the last song is sung and the flowers sent by those who knew us once have faded—what will we leave behind us for a memory?

SEE-SAW—SEE-SAW.

The key to an apartment—the lock of an automobile and a fine large bill with the dressmaker for somebody to pay?

The rich man with his taxes and worries—the poor man with his hard hours and anxieties—youth and its tragedy—age and its pitiful philosophy of cheer—how they even up in the balancing of the long account!

See-saw—see-saw—how we go up and down, we little mortals. And how we love to imagine that we can balance the world and the ruling of it on our little personal wishes and demands.

Long sleeves—short gloves.

Short sleeves—long gloves.

It strikes a balance somehow—the whole business—be sure of that.

What Does Your Husband Do?

PSYCHO-ANALYSIS

by ANDRE TRIDON

THE MEANING OF IMITATION

ANDRE TRIDON

OLD husbands and wives who, as pictures taken at the time of their wedding show looked quite different from each other, often resemble each other after fifty years of life together. Members of one profession, be it the clergy or the bar, members of the same trade, have a curious likeness which has never been satisfactorily explained.

Experiments made on fish by a French scientist called Pouchet throw a strange light on the process whereby we imitate our environment and, after a while, look like our environment.

Pouchet kept for a number of months some fish in an aquarium whose bottom presented a checkerboard design. All the fish but one showed traces of that pattern on their scales. The only specimen which had kept its original color was carefully examined and found to be blind. The experiment was then repeated with six blind fish and six with normal eyes. The normal fish all "imitated" the pattern of the aquarium, while the blind ones remained whitish gray.

This reveals to us another function of the sense of sight. The shapes we see day after day gradually form us or deform us, improve us or cause us to deteriorate. Colors do, too, as Pouchet's further experiments with tinted aquariums proved. It may be that some day discoveries of the same type will be made in regard to the other senses of the body.

Not all of us can live in an ideally beautiful environment, but all of us can in simple, inexpensive ways, beautify the environment in which we are compelled to live. Some of us, particularly inclined, have a tendency to seek new or sordid surroundings in which they may not feel their inferiority as keenly as they would among superior people or beautiful objects. Those should be helped to understand themselves and their complexes that they may eventually seek models for imitation which will impart to them the superiority they lack or imagine they lack.

Those in charge of the young, the weak-minded, the insane should ponder carefully the import of Pouchet's wonderful experiments.

WITCHES' & PIRATES' STORY DEN

THE THREE WISHES.

Doris Mautino, 7A, 12 Years,
2275 100th ave., Oakland, Cal.

The following is a contribution from the Elmhurst Jr. Hi School, Mrs. Luchessa, teacher.

One day as two sisters, Alice and Natalie, were sitting by the window Alice said, "Look! there goes a fairy. Didn't you see her?"

"Fairy?" replied Natalie; "why, Alice, there isn't such a thing."

"Oh, yes there is," replied Alice.

"There isn't," said Natalie.

"There is, too," said Alice, "and I'll prove it."

"But I'm sure there aren't any fairies," quetted Natalie.

Soon Natalie and Alice had stopped quarreling. Alice began to get lonesome and said, "Oh, how I wish I were a fairy and then I could fly around in beautiful wings of yellow and big spots of black on them, and with beautiful garments."

No sooner had this been said than Natalie discovered Alice was not in the room, and to her surprise she saw in front of her a wonderful fairy. Could this be Alice? Yes, it was. In a moment more Natalie saw her flying out of the house and for several days Alice couldn't be found. Where could she have gone? But that question could not be answered.

Soon after Natalie saw the fairy fly near by and she heard her say, "I wish I were back to my natural forms." In an instant Natalie saw Alice. Natalie thought that she would never see her sister Alice again. She ran up to her and kissed her, saying to her, "Alice, I believe you now. You have proved to me that there are fairies. But tell me where you have been?"

"I have been to fairyland. There I saw hundreds of fairies and wonderful toys. Natalie, dear, you seem to have missed me."

"Yes, I have, Alice. I am so happy to have you back."

"Natalie, you may have my last wish."

"Your last wish? What do you mean, Alice?"

"I shall explain that to you," replied Alice. "One day when I was very sad a fairy came and asked me why I was so sad, and I told her, and she told me that of I would cheer up she would give me three wishes. I did so, Natalie. I have used all but one, and you may have that one."

Natalie thanked her, and then said, "I wish that we shall never be left without anything that is necessary for a human to have." In an instant they found themselves in a neat little house. They lived there ever after and were very happy.

Listen, World!

YOU'VE all heard about the impertinence of the Modern Child, and it's hopecks to crullers you've never heard anything good. Moreover, whenever the Modern Child's impertinence is mentioned, we invariably receive an impassioned description of the Young Thing of the "good old days" when children were "seen and not heard." But I'm here to state that

I like the impertinence of the modern child and that I consider the young thing of the good old days, as exemplified in our best classics, to have been a sanctified sprat. The boy who stood on the burning deck wasn't a hero. He was a poor fish, the victim of a silly, stupid regime.

It goes without saying that a child should be taught to observe the rules which make for decent human intercourse and welfare. But nine-tenths of the impertinence which adults resent relates not to such matters but merely to a difference with their opinions.

Why shouldn't an adult have his opinions differed with? If maybe case of suspicion, why shouldn't he prove the point to a child as well as one of his own age? Why should a parent expect to receive honor and obedience for a lot of ideas that wouldn't do credit to a mud turtle? Parenthood doesn't necessarily put a human in the ranks with the world's best thinkers. Any Belgian Hare can be a parent, but you should work for your laurels if you wish to pose as an authority.

Most of us need impertinence—a lot of it, all the time. If we would spend half as much time investigating the child's fresh viewpoint and learning from his faith and optimism, that we spend in trying to force our stale cautions and catalized platitudes upon him, we'd get somewhere.

I do not believe that the impertinence of the Modern Child, its everlasting questioning and arguing, its constant rebellion and exmerimenting, is the best sign yet. It shows we're crawling up out of the ooze. If we have sense enough to guide and revere it, we may at last achieve masses of original, courageous, Human Beings, with minds of their own.

Mothers, I want you to read this. And, as you read, I wish you'd forget those thirty or forty years, which really count so little, and let your small-girl-selves come out and remember. REMEMBER! Remember when YOU were thirteen and felt older than you ever will at sixty! Remember when you wanted to be trusted and wished with all your heart that mother "wouldn't tag along" wherever you went. Yes, you did too! You know you did! And you, too, were too scared to ask her to go with them—but need it, and if you dare send back a "grown up" answer I'm going to expose you for whited sepulchres!

Dear Geraldine:

"I would very much like to have your advice on what you would do if you were my mother. Jerry, I am a girl 13 years old, but I look about 17, and in my ways also. Now, Geraldine, I have finished grammar school with a diploma and am going to college. Am almost through. Have taken up a stenographer's course and will soon be ready to work, though I know I will have to go to part-time school until I am 18. Now, Jerry, what I want to know is this:

"Why shouldn't my mother let me go out one time a week? Just on Saturday. I like to dance and go to parties etc. Although whoever I go with, either a boy or a girl, are always respectable and always respect me. My mother knows they are good company, but still she will not let me go. Neither will my father. Now, Jerry, every place, I mean a dance right near where I live that I want to go to she always makes me go with her. Now I do not mind taking my mother as she enjoys the music and dancing very much, but she ought to let me go with some girls, don't you think?

"Now this Saturday three girls are coming over to my house and we want to go to a dance where I live in Elmhurst. Now, Jerry, I am scared to ask her to let me go with these three girls, because she will say no. Now, Jerry, I know how to act when I am out as I have told you before and I don't see why she shouldn't let me go when she knows that the girls are very nice girls and I am respected well by everyone every place I go.

"Now another thing. There is two or three boys, I know. I know a great many more, but these three boys are very nice boys, quiet, etc. You know what I mean I guess. Now they have often asked to take me to a show up about six blocks from where I live and my mother or father never lets me go. Now Jerry, the boy will come over to my house and take me and bring me home at a decent hour, 9:30 is alright, isn't it? Now, Jerry, as you know, I am young I only ask to go out one time a week with some girls or the boy, but I don't even get to do that unless my mother has to come. I know a girl is more respected when she goes with her mother, but why can't she let me go with this boy? Just once a week. Please, Jerry, give me an answer as soon as you can in the paper. Thanking you in advance.

"From a Friend,

"ANXIOUS."

"P. S.—Don't think that I am wild, Jerry, and don't say that I have plenty of time because one time a week I'm sure won't hurt any girl as long as she goes with a respectable girl or fellow alone."

No, little Pal, I don't think you are wild, and I do think your desires are perfectly natural. Moreover, I'm going to take your side, although in perhaps not quite the way you wish. It isn't simply a question of what mother thinks or what you wish or what I advise. It's a case of what the WORLD SAYS. You're going to run up against that other element all your life and no matter how strong or wise you are, you will have to take it into account more or less, or you'll be the loser. Now the world doesn't think well of little thirteen-year-old girls running around alone with boys. You may think you look seventeen, but the very first word you say gives you away, girlie. Moreover, you're taking up a work which, justly or unjustly, has a reputation for some "wild doings." Mother is thinking of all these things when she want to "go along."

But I DO sympathize with your desire to live part of your life alone and I do think it should be gratified. Here's what I would advise and I suggest that you show her this letter. In the first place, I heartily agree with the hours she has set and I'm glad to see that you have the good sense to do likewise. Then I also believe you should have the boy and girl friends and that they both should be welcomed to the home. And I can see no harm in your going to the movies or a very early dance with a boy, provided a girl chum and her escort go along too, and you're put on your word of honor to stay together. How about that? Ask mother what she thinks?

A Personal Word

Mike and Ike—Of course you're good little kids and I'd like to take you out to dances and parties myself. Will you still like Jerry when she tells you that she thinks fifteen is too young for little girls to "go out with boys." I'm telling you this, knowing that you won't take me VERY seriously, for I was fifteen once myself. If you have school dances that don't last very late, and the school isn't too far from your home, go with your girl friends. Will you always know that Jerry loves her little girl pals and wants to help?

"DADDY FROST"—Congratulations, Pal! That's a splendid offer. But I don't exactly understand how you wish ad ice. You say your work is absolutely not for sale, but "if you decided to sell what would be your procedure." You won't need an "procedure" if you accept this present offer from people who say you "It's an extraordinarily good one, and personally I can't understand your antipathy to having such a work published during your life time. My advice would be to go to it with all speed, first making sure, of course, that the parties are reliable.

Mrs. C. Jensen—I am extremely interested in your letter and I certainly think that the man should be exposed, since he is carrying on his vileness in the disguise of business. I would sugget that you allow the story to be printed. You may write your own version or I will give it from your letter, which I have kept for this purpose. All identity will be carefully concealed if you consent. If the man is innocent he will never dream that it is meant for him. If he is guilty it will serve as a wholesome warning. Why in the world don't some of you women tell your husbands? Men aren't half as much to "shoot" as you think they are. That sort of talk is for domestic consumption only. They get much more prompt and forceful measures by appealing to the authorities.

ENOD—Please send me your address. I want to thank you for the lovely little enclosure in a recent letter, but as I do not keep addresses, am unable to do so.

TO BETTY—Will you send me your address? There are several letters herefor you and I have unfortunately lost your original letter.

Eight Minutes to Answer This.

A palindrome is a word, phrase or sentence that reads the same either backward or forward—as ANNA.

Probably the most famous palindrome is that which might have been uttered by Napoleon in his exile, viz:

"ABLE WAS I ERE I SAW ELBA."

Another, almost as appropriate to the occasion, is Adam's introduction of himself to Eve:

"MADAM I'M ADAM."

Now let us see who can construct a palindrome from the following string of letters:

A A A A W W S S I T T C.

As a tip it might be stated that 4 feline figures in the sentence.

SAN FRANCISCO PLAYERS LEADING COAST LEAGUE HITTERS

ELLISON, O'CONNELL HAD FINE TIME WITH LOCAL PILL TOSSERS

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Members of the San Francisco ball club fattened their batting averages at the expense of the Oakland pitchers last week, and the figures show Bert Ellison and Jimmy O'Connell of the transbay club topping the batting list of regular players. Practically every regular Seal with the exception of Archie Yelle and Charley See are batting better than .300. Ellison has an average of .482 for the two weeks of play, while his teammate O'Connell has .444. Gene Valla, the sandlot product picked up by the Seals is hitting .415, while Willie Kamm, the Seal third sacker is leading the run scorers with twenty, and also made a gain in his hitting last week. More Seals are listed among the .300 stickers than are players of any other club in the league. "Red" Smith of the Vernon Tigers follows O'Connell in the hitting line. Then comes Joe Kelly, another Seal, and after him, Carl Sawyer, another Tiger. Next is Valla, and back of him is Tom Daley, the Los Angeles catcher who lead the league in hitting after the first week of play.

Daley did not have half as much fun batting against the Tiger pitchers as he did against those of the Portland club the week before. George "Frenchy" LaFayette, who led the Oakland stickers last week, did not have too much success against the Seal hurlers and he fell far down the line. Don Martin Brown with an average of .325, is really the best sticker on the Oaks, although Ivan Howard is listed ahead of him. Brown had plenty of success against the San Francisco pitchers and collected eleven hits for himself.

Claude Cooper Is Quick To Hit Batting Stride.

Claude Cooper, the Oaks' centerfielder, is another who had a good week with the stick while batting against the Seal hurlers. Claude also cracked out eleven hits and stepped within five points of the .300 mark. The Oaks promise to make more trouble for the opposing pitchers just as soon as some of the last year's sluggers hit their stride. Art Koehler and Denny Wille are far down the list along with Jack Knight and Ray Brubaker, who all hit better than .300 last year. As soon as these fellows hit their right stride the Oaks will look much more dangerous.

Pete Compton fell off a little in his hitting last week, but he is still the best among the Sacramento players, but is being hard pressed for the honors by Big Fred Mollwitz. Compton is at the .395 mark.

Sammy Hale with .368 is the best batter for the Portland Beavers and is followed by Bill Kenworthy.

Next to Willie Kamm for the run scoring honors is Don Brown, the Oaks' left fielder. Don crossed the plate sixteen times during the first two weeks. Bert Ellison of the Seals is next to him with fifteen.

Willie Kamm leads the two-base swatters with eight and is followed by Billy Lane of Seattle with seven. O'Connell and Ellison are tied for hitting triples with three each, while Ellison leads in home runs with eight and is followed by Brown, Kamm and Agnew who have hit three each. McAuley of the Angels leads the sacrifice hitters with six, while Rod Murphy is the best base stealer, having got away with six of them.

Former Carlisle Man Appointed as Stanford Trainer

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 18.—Wallace Denny, who kept Carlisle Indian teams in shape when Glenn Warner led them to victory over Pennsylvania, Harvard, Cornell and other big eastern teams, has been chosen trainer for the Stanford Varsity football team, on the recommendation of the veteran gridiron mentor. Denny, who is an Oneida Indian, is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian School and played there under Warner, later becoming his assistant and trainer. When the Indian school was abandoned and became an army school Denny was in charge of athletics for three years there.

In commenting on Denny's appointment Warner said today:

"I have known Wallace Denny ever since 1899 when I went to Carlisle and he was a student there. He was on the football and baseball squads and was a member of the track team. After he graduated he was my assistant for several years, working up until he was assisting me in coaching. Then he took full charge of the school's track team in addition to work on the school staff as disciplinarian. He was faithful and competent as an assistant and his enthusiasm always inspiring to the teams. I am glad we are going to have him at Stanford."

Washington Team May Make Trip Over To Europe Next Fall

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A visit to Europe for games in England, Ireland and France is in prospect for the Washington Americans next fall. According to plans being made by Ted Sullivan and sanctioned by President Griffith of the Washington club, the Nationals and another major league club to be decided on later, probably one of those in New York, will sail at the close of the season for a tour of Europe.

Sullivan, who conceived and conducted the famous "round-the-world" trip of the White Sox and Giants in the winter of 1913-14, already has his plans for the European barnstorming trip under way. He plans to sail for Paris, May 6 to make arrangements for the tour.

The plans as arranged tentatively by Sullivan, call for the sailing of the baseball tourists about October 7, for the first game some time after the middle of the month and for conclusion of the foreign schedule November 10, when the weather on the other side becomes forbidding.

"You bet we'll go," President Griffith said when asked about the proposal. "October 7 may be a little early for us to start with some world series business to attend to, but if suitable arrangements can be made we'll go over there and show them how to play a real game."

EDDIE HEARNE ON STAGE.

The annual track meet of the Berkeley Playground Department will be held at San Pablo Playground, Saturday morning, April 22. Preliminary meets held between Columbus, San Pablo and Kenney playgrounds indicate that competition will be close in all weights and events. Live Oak, Le Conte, Whittier, Emerson and City Hall grounds have not appeared in any dual meets but full teams will be entered by each. Any Berkeley boy not in elementary school and not over seventeen years of age may enter the meet by registering with his playground director. The following is a list of events by weight classes:

With Purdue entered in four-mile relay, Illinois runners are expected to meet stiff competition in this event.

Wm. Wrigley Plans Class D Clubs as Farm for Youngsters

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Prospects of a new class "D" baseball league in Southern California loomed today with the announcement that William Wrigley, owner of the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club, and the Chicago Cubs, is leading a movement for the formation of such a league with a view toward developing the rooky material on his two clubs which does not have enough class to stick with the big show. Wrigley is said to believe a youngster should not be dropped from a club solely because he is not good enough to make the grade the first year, but thinks such players should be farmed out right here in Southern California. Charley Lockhard business manager of the Angels, is looking for promising towns to join a class "D" league. At present San Diego, Long Beach, Pasadena, Santa Monica and Santa Ana are said to be under consideration.

Two Games Played In Bankers' League

The Oakland Bank of Savings defeated the Mercantile Trust 7-2, and the Central Bank won from the Bank of Italy in two games yesterday, in the local Bankers' Baseball League. In the Oakland Bank of Savings-Mercantile Trust contest the game was a pitcher's battle until the ninth inning when, with two men on bases, Bystrom hit a triple, and O. Texdahl, who was on the mound for the losers, blew up long enough to lose the game.

The second contest was a free hitting affair in which the Central Bank pounded the offerings of Hunter and McGuire for fourteen base knocks, while ten were made off Guisto, who worked for the winners. Score:

Paddock Not to Be Allowed New Record

HONOLULU, April 18.—The Hawaiian Amateur Athletic Union has declined to petition the National A. A. U. to accept cinder records recently made here by Charles Paddock, world champion sprinter. It was contended by the Hawaiian Union that island tracks did not conform altogether to A. A. U. requirements.

Paddock, according to local records, tried his own world's mark of 9 3-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash. He now is returning to California.

Young Leonard Ready to Make Debut as 'Pro'

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 18.—According to all accounts, the brothers Leonard, of the well known Bronx Leonards, are to enjoy rather a large evening within a matter of weeks. Benny, the lightweight champion, is to meet Jack Britton, the welterweight champion, in one of those Jersey City no-decision things which means that nothing of an annoying nature is to happen to Benjamin on that occasion.

On the same bill Joe Leonard, the great man's brother, is to make his professional debut. This fistic vis-a-vis has not been chosen from that lean and hungry division known as the junior lightweight class. As Chaney, Dundee and Valgar are the only junior lightweights of distinction, Benny's brother will be amply provided for on that occasion. He will not meet any of the three named, for obvious reasons, and certainly the rest of the field should not disconcert the youth who is said to have handled Brother Benny, Johnny Dundee, Midget Smith and others without trouble in the gymnasium. Of course, that gymnasium business is the well known waterworks. You can't prove anything by it.

At that, the young fellow has shown beyond his years, which are nineteen in number. Benny himself admits that when he says he wouldn't send Brother into the ring with an experienced battler until he was sure Joe was "ready."

"He can carry me along for six rounds as fast as I care to go," says the champion. "He can sock, too. The only thing he lacks is experience and he's going after that right away. I don't think he will have any trouble until he starts to meet the good ones, for he seems to have boxing instinct and is as cool under fire as a veteran."

PHILADELPHIA—Walter Larsen, Salt Lake City, star of the University of Pennsylvania pitching staff, has received an offer from the Boston Red Sox.

MILWAUKEE — Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight, won a decision over a Eddie Boehme, Milwaukee, in a ten-round bout here last night.

CALATONES WALLOP KELLER.

The Calatone Water nine traveled to Livermore and defeated the home team, 10 to 1, by walloping the shoots of Henry (Babe) Keller for thirteen hits, while the Livermore nine was held to five hits by Gene Van Houtte, who fanned ten. Keller also fanned ten, but was not as good in the pinches as Van Houtte. The score:

James Jeffries to Referee at Vernon

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Jim Jeffries, former world's heavyweight champion pugilist, will referee some of the bouts at a benefit to be held at the Vernon arena next Saturday night for Ad Wolgast, former world's lightweight titleholder. Joe Rivers, Leach Cross, Jack Root, Billy Papke, Kid McCoy and several other "old timers" have volunteered their services, according to Jack Doyle, local sportsman, who is sponsoring the event.

HOLD TARGET PRACTICE.

At the regular revolver practice held in the dugout of the Berkeley Defense Corps, the tellers of the Berkeley Branches of the Mercantile Trust Company indulged in rapid fire revolver practice.

Nevin of the Telegraph Branch still maintains his lead as crack shot of the tellers.

Next Friday the women of the branches will participate in a general revolver tournament, which is being considered.

Gamblers Are Hurting Sport In New York

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 18.—"It's a hard proposition to keep boxing on the level," William Muldoon says.

Muldoon ought to know because he has been on the inside of boxing and wrestling for a decade and just now he is trying to run the game in New York as chairman of the state commission.

Funny decisions have been so frequent in the past year that many of the champions refuse to box in New York and take the risk of being relieved of their title.

Insinuations that "something went on" last Saturday night when Danny Lee, colored bantam, was given the decision over Young Montreal, caused the commission to hold up the purse money and summon the officials in charge of the bout and the promoters to a hearing tomorrow. So much sure money was offered that Lee was going to win and the layers were of such character that the commission decided to take a look into it.

Muldoon says that "shoestring gamblers" operating at the smaller clubs are endangering the sport. He denies any extensive operations by big gamblers.

"The shoestring element is trying to get a foothold in New York and we're going to stop them if we have to revoke licenses of clubs that permit them to make wagers openely around the ringside," he said.

Stiff Collar Won Hutchison Title on Links

CHICAGO, April 18.—A tall, stiff collar may have more to do with the winning of the British open golf championship by Jock Hutchison than did the ribbed clubs the Chicago professional used before they were barred by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews.

The thousands of persons who have seen the wiry Scot play may recall that Jock always plays in a natty knickerbocker suit like any other golfer, but that he invariably wears an ear-saw white collar that makes him appear somewhat like a high reined horse.

"Couldn't you play golf even better if you were not hindered by a high collar?" some one asked him during his trip through the Pacific Coast states.

"On the contrary," said the expert, "that seeming sartorial impediment is an aid to correct shooting in my case. I am only afraid that some golfing organization may take a notion to declare it a mechanical contrivance, like ribbed clubs, that center shafted putters and steel shafted clubs and thereby deprive me of one of the best aids I have in hitting the ball straight, far and with exactness as to distance.

"Every golfer knows that it is essential to hold the head still during a golf swing, and when I accidentally play I one day with a stiff collar on, I thought I kept my poise better than usual. I tried it intentionally later and I am now convinced that the tall, stiff collar is more beneficial to my game than a ribbed club, for I have and can cut a shot dead with the smoothest faced club ever made."

Portland Arrives Home for Opening

PORTLAND, Ore., April 18.—The Portland baseball team arrived last night from Salt Lake, ready for today's opening game on the home grounds. Manager William Kenworthy came with the team, but said he would make no effort to play, unless telegraphic permission from Judge Landis, who holds him suspended, can be obtained by wire. A special despatch from Chicago last night quoted Judge Landis as saying further action in the case of Kenworthy would pend until he heard again from President Klepper of the Portland baseball club.

Frank Troeh Wins In Portland Shoot

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 18.—Frank M. Troeh of Portland yesterday won the Golden Pheasant overture, a 100 target event at the Walla Walla Gun Club shoot, with 100 straight. Mark Rickard of Corvallis, Ore., won the Inland Empire special with 98 out of 100. Troeh smashed 198 out of 200 yesterday and made a high run of 170. H. R. Seckel of Boise was second in a total score of the day with 197 and O. N. Ford of Portland was third with 196.

RECORDS MAY BE BROKEN AT STANFORD-CALIFORNIA MEET

FLINT HANNER MAY SET NEW AMERICAN RECORD FOR JAVELIN

Hartranft Should Set New Marks in Shot-Put and Discus; Do rr May Lower 2-Mile

By DOUG. MONTELL.

While there will be stars on both teams who have won a nation-wide reputation in collegiate track circles and men who have, in the past, proved college heroes in more ways than one there will be one individual stand out in the 1922 Stanford-California meet apart from all the rest upon whom the undivided attention of the crowd will be focused in the final event of the meet. Captain Flint Hanner, hailed as the undisputed collegiate javelin champion of the Pacific Coast, will wear the Cardinal colors in the final event of the field day in which the points may have much or little to do with the final outcome of the meet. It is quite likely that the winner of the meet will have been decided before the first call is sounded for the javelin throw but none of the crowd are expected to leave until the event is over.

Hanner, in his recent performances, has shown himself to be more than the champion between Stanford and California, and by his work in practice last Saturday on the California track he showed enough class in hurling the spear to tab him as the recognized collegiate champion in the event in the United States. His work in practice on previous occasions has been excellent and in meets good enough to win, but he exceeded all previous performances when on five straight throws he threw the javelin better than 200 feet, his best throw measuring 206 feet, 8 inches.

Hanner in Line to Break Five Records.

A repetition of this performance in the Stanford-California meet will give him a flock of records. The California track record, Stanford-California dual meet record, Pacific Coast outdoor record, American Collegiate record and American record, all will go to the Cardinal captain if but one throw measures 200 feet next Saturday. And on this one point all Stanford and California men are agreed, that if Hanner is going to win the event in the annual meet, and it is apparent that he is, he might as well win it by thirty feet as by one inch, and in his attempt to set a new American record Saturday he will have the united backing of both the Stanford and California rooters who hope to see a new American mark set next Saturday. There is nothing about the work of Hanner that savors of his being only a practice athlete. Last year in a pouring rain Hanner was good enough to win on the Stanford track.

Everything But the World Mark Should Go.

This year he would have had keener competition had he not improved so remarkably. Sorrell of California has thrown the spear 186 feet, making that mark in Los Angeles in the first U. S. C. meet. That surpasses the present Stanford-California record, held by Harry Liversedge of California at 184 feet 9½ inches. That mark is certain to go. With a good day Hanner should easily break the Pacific Coast outdoor record of 195 feet 9 inches, made last year by Arthur Tuck, the sensational University of Oregon all around athlete, who failed to return to the Lemon Yellow institution this year. Tuck won the Pacific Coast Conference meet with a throw of 192 feet 8 inches, setting the record for Pacific Coast Conference meets, which promises to stand this year as Stanford will undoubtedly send her track team to the I. C. A. A. A. A. meet instead of the Coast Conference meet. The American Intercollegiate record is a trifle less, having been set by Higgins of Chicago at 194 feet 11 inches. The present American record for the event is held by J. C. Lincoln Jr. at 197 feet 9¾ inches. The only mark that it will be impossible for Hanner to break Saturday in the world's record of J. Myrrha of Finland, set in 1920 at 219 feet 1½ inches.

Hartranft May Also Break a Few Marks.

The javelin will not be the only Stanford-California record to fall in the meet this year, especially in Glenn Hartranft, if the Stanford giant is in condition for competition in the discus and shot, as reports from Stanford this morning indicated he will be. It was thought yesterday that Hartranft was a victim of the flu, but he recovered quickly and was back in training late yesterday afternoon. Three men, Hartranft of Stanford and Berkey and Muller of California, have repeatedly passed the Stanford-California mark of 121 feet 8 inches set by Muller of California. Hartranft, if right, should break both this and the Pacific Coast outdoor record of Pope of Washington, set last year at 148 feet 6 inches.

Hartranft will again feature in the shot-put, where a couple more marks are more than likely to fall before he finishes his afternoon's work with the leaden pellet. The Stanford-California mark of 47 feet 9⅝ inches of Herb Bihlman of Stanford is in danger. Hartranft having passed that figure in every meet this year, while Beatty (Columbia) holds the American Inter-collegiate mark at 48 feet 10⅝ inches. Hartranft has done 50 feet ¾ inch this season and Dink Templeton looks for him to repeat.

Dorr May Attempt To Lower Own Mark.

It is not regarded as probable that any track records will be lowered this year. Lack of competition in the events in which records might be made by men of either team will be responsible. Dorr of California might lower his own record for the two-mile, this being his last year, having done 9:47-1 last year with rain falling throughout the race. Dorr will have no competition as his teammates, Knowlton and Roach, cannot approach that figure and there are no Stanford entries who will be able to stand up under a ten-minute pace. Dorr may attempt to run his race against a clock if permitted to by Walt Christie, and appears in shape to hit 9:40 if he steps out from the start. The 440-mark has stood at :50 flat for several years and although Williamson of Stanford and Hendrixson and McDonald of California will furnish the prettiest race in the one-lap event, none of the trio have hit :50 this year and Hendrixson who won the I. C. A. A. A. A. last year in :49, appears to lack the condition that characterized his work last year. Three times he has been beaten by his teammate McDonald, and it would occasion little surprise among those who have followed the California men this year to see McDonald win next Saturday with Williamson of Stanford leading Hendrixson for second place.

Hutchison Improving; Will Enter Dashes.

Captain Bob Hutchison of California was greatly improved last night and expected to be out on the track again this afternoon for a light workout following his recent attack of tonsilitis that kept him out of the California-Missouri meet. Hutchison will be rested all week for he is the only California hope to place in the sprints, particularly the 220 against the Cardinal dash men. The 100 and 220 are the two strongest Stanford events with Sudden an outstanding star in both. Kirksey is more or less of a puzzle this season. He has been in no competition whatsoever to date and although Dink Templeton is counting upon the Cardinal sprint star to win both events he cannot be doped into the points. Stanford men fear for Kirksey's condition, but Sudden and Hartranft should prove a capable delegation in the century with Sudden good for points in the 220. The official list of entries should be received from Stanford this afternoon, according to the California Graduate Manager's office, and Coach Christie plans to submit his final list tonight.

GOLF

By W. D. McNICOLL.

An interclub team match has been arranged between Diablo and Sequoyah. W. H. Edelen has been chosen captain of the Sequoyah team, which will exclude all of their lower handicapped players. The match, which will take place on Saturday, May 6, over the Sequoyah course, is really a return match from last year, when Diablo was the scene of the encounter which resulted in a narrow victory for the victors by one point. This year's event will be concluded with a dinner at the club when the visitors will be the guests of the evening.

William Watson, who laid out the new Berkeley course and other famous links like Annandale, Flint Ridge, San Gabriel, Hill Crest and others too numerous to mention, was looking over the ground at Diablo this week with a view to having the 19th tee and the 9th green located in the vicinity of the present 3rd tee. The water problem at Diablo, which has delayed the construction of a full 18-hole championship course, is now practically solved and Diablo will soon rank with the best golf courses in California.

If the entries keep on increasing at their present rate the first tournament of the year, which takes place next Saturday at Claremont, will be a record-breaker. The rival captains, Jazz Stow and Harry Weihe, will have to send some of their teams off at sunrise otherwise the dinner which the losers have to provide will be delayed while the stragglers come to the 18th green in semi-darkness.

Seattle Hopes to Make Good Showing

SEATTLE, Wash., April 18.—Seattle will welcome home its baseball team today. Following the series in California, which put the Indians at the bottom of the pennant row, the members of the team are reported to be waiting impatiently the opportunity to show their supporters what they can do on the home lot. Reports last night from the Indians' train, speeding north from California, were to the effect that Manager Walter McCredie would pitch either Elmer Jacobs or Harry Gardner in the opener against Vernon here tomorrow. McCredie was said not to have been satisfied with the lineup of his team in the south and to have intimated that a shift of players is not unlikely. Various civic organizations today were completing arrangements to have full representations at the game tomorrow.

Local Yacht Clubs Plan to Enter in South

San Francisco Boats May Be Seen in Newport Regatta in August.

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Yachting clubs of San Francisco and Seattle enter the Southern California Yachting Association's annual regatta at Newport harbor next August, providing the south will assure the northern clubs of plenty of competition, according to Joseph T. Pugh, San Francisco yachtsman.

At a recent meeting of the Southern California organization Pugh described at length the activities of the northern clubs, particularly those relating to the class R boats, and said he believed both San Francisco and Seattle would be glad to send boats of this type south to compete in the regatta.

At present it is believed there are no crafts of the "R" type in Southern California waters and Pugh urged the southland yachting interests to unite in building one of these boats.

Speaking for the Los Angeles Athletic Club and the California Yacht Club, Frank A. Garbutt, local sportsman, said these clubs already had planned the construction of such boats and he believed they would be finished in time to participate in the regatta.

Richards May Come West to Play on Court

Tilden and Rice Chosen for East vs. West Matches in Berkeley May 6.

NEWTON, Mass., April 18.—Lawrence Rice, the Longwood Cricket Club tennis star, today notified Julian S. Myrick, president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, that he would be unable to go to San Francisco to participate in the east-west tournament on May 5 and 7. Rice had been picked to play with William T. Tilden II to represent the east. In his letter he said that a recent operation had left him weak and that his physician advised him to play no tennis for a month.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Final arrangements for the West vs. East lawn tennis matches to be played in Berkeley May 6 and 7, will be settled at the executive committee meeting tomorro of the New York Lawn Tennis Association.

William T. Tilden, 2nd, and Lawrence R. Rice already have been selected to represent the East, and it is expected now that Vincent Richards will accompany them to the coast. Thus the East will be represented by the number 1, number 3 and number 9 players on the national list.

The personnel of the Western team has not been announced yet but it is thought that it will be made up from William M. Johnston, Willis R. Davis, Roland Roberts and Robert and Howard Kinsey.

"An eastern team has not played in California since 1917," said Charles Landers, president of the New York Lawn Tennis Association, last night in discussing the match. "In view of the fact that the California association has for years been sending its better players to compete in eastern tournaments, it seems only fair that the east should reciprocate and the proposed trip to the coast is the result of considerable correspondence with Dr. Sumner Hardy of San Francisco, president of the California Lawn Tennis Association.

CHERBOURG, France, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The steamer Aquitania arrived here last night from New York. Among the passengers was Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist.

Then I shall go to Paris and perhaps afterwards visit other places on the continent. I shall be happy to meet Georges Carpentier again; he is a charming fellow and full of pluck and skill.

"I am going back home in three weeks."

Eight of Fordham Nine Face Charges

NEW YORK, April 18.—Eight members of the Fordham University baseball team face charges of professionalism for alleged participation in a game yesterday with the Waterbury Eastern League Club at Waterbury, Conn. Graduate Manager Frank Gargan, who is making an investigation, is said to have obtained affidavits from each of the eight accused Varsity men denying participation in the game.

Mr. Gargan said the men would be expelled from the Fordham team if the professionalism charge is found to be true.

Fitzsimmons exhibited contracts signed by the champions and said that Leonard would fight here July 4, Britton would fight August 5, and Dempsey would appear on Labor Day. Leonard is to get $40,000. His opponent's name will be announced late this week, Fitzsimmons said. The money and opponents of Dempsey and Britton will be fixed later.

Sport Pow-wow to Be Held at Del Monte

DEL MONTE, April 18.—One of the novel trophies that will be set up for the California Indians' sport pow-wow at Del Monte on May 8 to 14 will be a skin of a mountain lion Ed Garratt of Alameda, one of the directors of the association, shot the lion while on a recent hunting trip and had it made into the form of a rug. It is a beautiful thing and will be at stake in the trapshooting tournament.

L. R. Mellus, the high chief of the Indians, and Frank Mellus of Los Angeles, Henry Garrison of Modesto, and H. K. Everding of Portland are others who have set up trophies for the wow-wow. All told there will be a couple of thousand dollars' worth of prizes and trophies.

The Indians are to shoot a program of six hundred targets in the trapshooting tournament and participate in a big golf tournament besides and a number of field sports. The indications are that two hundred sportsmen will participate in the pow-wow.

Missouri Men Are in South For Oxy Meet

Coach Pipal Expects Visitors to Hit Stride in Tomorrow's Clash.

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Members of the University of Missouri track team which arrived here last night from San Francisco were to go through a light workout this morning in preparation for the scheduled meet with the cinder path aggregation of Occidental college tomorrow afternoon.

Joe Pipal, head coach at Occidental, was pessimistic over the prospects of a victory for his team. The Oxy tigers went through their final workout yesterday and will rest today.

"If the Missouri men are no better than they were last week we will defeat them easily," Pipal declared, "but it is my opinion they will hit their stride tomorrow, having become acclimated, and will undoubtedly take the majority of the points. I expect a close meet."

The Missourians were to be taken on a sightseeing trip this afternoon by Oxy fraternity men.

The University of California track team defeated the easterners in a dual meet last Saturday, 85 to 45.

Detroit Club Has Big Player Deal Ready to Put Across

DETROIT, Mich., April 18.—A deal through which Maurice Archdeacon Rochester, International League Club outfielders, would join the Detroit Americans, has virtually been completed by President Navin of Detroit, it was announced today. The trade is said to involve the transfer of Bob Fothergill, Johnny Mann and a cash consideration of $15,000. Mann already had left the Tigers to join Stallings' men.

Archdeacon came to the notice of Manager Cobb when the teams were in the south this spring. He is declared to be the fastest base runner in the game, and a good hitter. He has been timed around the paths in 13 2-5 seconds.

His coming to the Tigers, which probably will not be until next season, may result in Cobb shifting to left field it is said, in order to place the new comer in centerfield.

R. Bone Is Winner In Vancouver Golf

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 18.—R. Bone, of the Vancouver Golf and Country Club won the amateur golf championship of British Columbia here yesterday when he defeated James Yellowlees of the same club, three up and two to play in a thirty-six hole match at Burquitlam links. At the end of the morning round they were all square, Bone taking the lead by more consistent play in the last 18 holes.

Wm. Tilden II Will Play in the South

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Definite arrangements have been completed for the appearance here on May 30 and June 1 of William Tilden II, world's champion tennis player, according to Nat Browne, president of the Los Angeles Tennis Club. William Johnston, former national singles and doubles champion and Vincent Richards, who recently scored a victory over Tilden, will also play on the club's courts on these dates, Browne said.

Little Dynamite Murphy and Joe Lynch who tangle in the special event at the Auditorium tomorrow night will have something to fight for beside the medal. Matchmaker Simpson has promised the winner a crack at either Tod Morgan or Young Farrell at the next show. If Farrell knocks Bobby Ertle over Wednesday or if he even defeats him decisively he will get the bout with the winner of the Murphy-Lynch fracas, but if Farrell does not fight up to expectations then Tod Morgan will be sent for. Morgan has gone to Eureka to visit friends and intends taking a two weeks' rest. However, there will be no show here next week on account of the Shriner Mardi Gras at the Auditorium, and Tod will be ready for the next entertainment promoted by Mr. Simpson.

Can Lynch take em? Some of the boys would like to know and they are liable to find out if Murphy soaks Joe as hard as he popped Morgan the other evening. Morgan really should have been "out," but they don't make 'em any gamer than the little fellow from Vallejo, and he came back and won his fight after being out twice in the first round. It is a question if Lynch can take 'em as hard as that and come back. Lynch has had a lot more experience than Morgan and is not so likely to get his chin in the way of a bread-winner, but if Murphy ever does happen to soak him the scrap is liable to end right there. That Murphy right hand is loaded with T. N. T.

The Benny Vierra-Teddy O'Hara scrap is causing a lot of discussion and you can get any kind of a bet on the outcome. The Vierra adherents declare Benny will step around his man and make Teddy look foolish while the O'Hara supporters think their man will shoot in one left hook and let the customers grab an early car. It is the old argument of a fighter versus a boxer and the fans will keep right on arguing until after the battle.

Charlie Jones and Jimmy Kelsey will clash for the third time. Kelsey won the first time out via the decision route and took the last one on a foul. Jones is in great shape for tomorrow and thinks he will stop his man, Charlie is quite popular with the customers. George Gibbons will be trotted out after having been kept in the barn for several weeks, and Harold Broom states that Gib is fresh and fit. These four-rounders are always fresh.

SALT LAE CITY, April 18.—Spug Meyers of Pocatello knocked out Midget Smith of Midvale, Utah, in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round affair here last night before the Manhattan Athletic club. The men fought for the junior lightweight championship of the Rocky Mountain district. John Hanna, Salt Lake, was given a decision over Ted Titus at the end of four rounds of fighting. The men are lightweights.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia lightweight, outpointed Tim Droney of Lancaster, Penn., in an eight-round bout last night.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 18.—Frank E. Tucker of Los Angeles and "Red" Herring of Louisville, Ky., fought a fifteen-round draw here last night. "Wild Cat" Ewing of Houston was defeated in ten rounds by George Kuhn, Shreveport, who was given the referee's decision.

Two S. F. Boys Have a Chance To Win Titles

Only 32 Out of 80 Entrants Left in the Amateur Tourney.

BOSTON, April 18.—Amateur boxers who are aspirants for the eight national championships to be decided tonight had reduced their numbers today to 2. Eighty had entered for the titles. Those who remained were the survivors of nine hours of hard fighting last night.

Charles Jenkinsson of Toronto, the only champion who fought in the preliminaries, was toppled from his title perch. Gordon Munce of New York, heavyweight titlist, was the only champion remaining to contest for another crown, and he will be opposed tonight by three husky contenders. There was no fighting among the beauties in the list of 56 bouts that ended early this morning.

The scoring cities, as contained in the numbers of boxers who qualified for the semi-finals this evening were:

New York and Boston, seven each; Pittsburgh, six; Cleveland, Toronto, San Francisco, and Denver, two each; Philadelphia, St. Louis, Gary, Ind., and Culver, Ind., one each.

Enthusiasts who sat through the night of boxing emerged at dawn discussing the task of Eddie Eagan of Denver, Colo., former champion at 175 pounds, and of the heavyweights, who seeks both titles again.

Those who qualified for the semi-finals included:

135 pounds—Albert Rollio, New York; Joe Ryan, Pittsburgh; W. Dellamore, San Francisco; Eddie Williams, Boston.

175 pounds—Frank T. Kosble, New York; Charles McKenna, New York; Edward Eagan, Denver; Homer Robinson, Pittsburgh.

Heavyweight—Gordon Munce, New York; Edward Eagan, Denver; John Imburgia, Pittsburgh; John Williams, San Francisco.

All sections of the country and Eastern Canada were represented by the boxers competing.

Roy C. Fee of San Francisco received the decision over Brown in in three rounds of hard fighting; Nat Pincus of New York, Claude Wilson of Birmingham, Alabama, and Alex Greenberg of Philadelphia, were other boxers defeated. Those advanced in the first round follow, those who drew byes being indicated with an *.

112 pounds—Al Pettingill, New Orleans; LeRoy Powell, New York; Ray Lee, San Francisco; *James Moore Foston; T. P. McManus, Pittsburgh; *Mike O'Dowd, Boston; Harry Marcus, Cleveland; Roy Alfaro, St. Louis.

A knockout in the first round scored by Jack Rosenberg, New York metropolitan champion against Charles Wurt, St. Louis, featured the trials of the 135-pound class.

Henry Domeniconi of San Francisco, after a trip across the continent, was put out in the first round of the 118-pound class trials by Wilbur Cohan, a negro boxer from New York. Theodore Van Storch, Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., and George Helmar, Philadelphia, were eliminated in three rounds.

Let the Chiropractor Locate Your Trouble

THE SPINE is the thermometer by which health is regulated. It is in reality a continuation of the brain. The above ilustration designates the nerve centers on the spine by which all parts of the body are controlled.

Your trouble can be located by the above diagram. Chiropractors, will remove the unnecessary nerve pressure and restore your health to normal. They will find the spot of weakness because through years of practice they know exactly where it is.

Skin Disease and Constipation Relieved
I had skin disease and constipation for years; pimples and eruptions all over my face and body; were annoying and itched terribly. In vain I spent much money for doctors and various remedies. Recommended by a friend, who was cured of throat trouble, I took the Kong Wah Herb treatment. Since then I am well, have gained several pounds and my face looks clear.

RELIEF FOR WOMEN

I had headaches and high blood pressure for several years. My pain was so severe that I was able to do but little work. I took all sorts of medicines and consulted several doctors. After seven weeks of the herbs, prepared by the well-known Fong Wan Herb Specialist, I was entirely free from my former complaints.
My daughter suffered from violent twitching and lack of nerve control in her left arm and leg. In four weeks she also was completely cured by the same Herb Specialist.

Birth of Eight Babies at Once Occurs Twice

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The fact that Senora Enriquita Ruibo, a Mexican woman, gave birth to eight children at one time and was presented with $800 by President Alvaro Obregon, of the Southern Republic, recalls to Obloans here that in 1872 Mrs. Timothy Bradlee, of Trumbull county, Ohio, gave birth at one time to five boys and three girls, aal of whom survived.

Mrs. Bradlee's case, it is pointed out, was world famous, for prior to the birth of the octette she had given birth to two sets of twins. That prolificity in birth is hereditary is established by the fact that Mrs. Bradlee was a triplet. Her father was a twin, as was her mother. One of her grandmothers gave birth to five sets of twins.

The world's record for birth-giving is said to be held by a Spanish mother, who, according to the famous Spanish surgeon, Dr. Albucasis, who died in 1122, gave birth to fifteen well-formed children at one time.

FAMOUS FRENCH ACE RECOUNTS AERIAL EXPLOITS

Rene Forck, Greatest 'Living War Hero,' Tells His Thrilling Story.

By WINFRID FLEISHER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, April 22.—The "greatest living hero of the war," Rene Fonck, "Ace of aces," the man who single handed sent 126 German planes crashing, and who has consistently refused to talk about his exploits, has at last broken his silence and has consented to tell the United Press the story of those tragic hours when he battled above the firing lines.

Fonck is credited in the official records as having brought down 75 enemy planes, the number which he downed within the French lines. He engaged in over 500 aerial battles, and has been decorated by all the allied governments, besides being cited 25 times.

The French ace who is now only 27, is short and slender with fair hair. He is extremely modest. He is now president of the Aeronautic League of France and deputy in charge of aviation in the French Chamber. He was recently created commander of the Legion of Honor, which is the highest grade of the order.

Fonck hails from a little village in the foothills of the Vosges. It is over this country that he first met the enemy. "The knowledge that this was my own province that I was defending," said Fonck, "and that my mother and sisters were so near by, bolstered my energy and carried my enthusiasm to the highest pitch.

WAS BUT 19.

Fonck who was nineteen years of age when the war broke out was then a student in an engineering college at Chalons. Immediately upon his enlistment in August, 1914, Fonck was assigned to study aviation and made his first flight in April, 1915.

"At my first flight," said Fonck, "all fear vanished. I then only had a tremendous desire to obtain my license and become a pilot."

In the summer of 1916, Fonck brought down his first enemy plane. "I was taking photographs," said Fonck. "When I saw two German planes making in my direction, I came upon them at full speed, intending to attack the first one which would swerve. The first German ducked. I immediately followed his maneuvre, trying to cut him off. He was so frightened by this move that he was firing his machine gun wildly. Down went the enemy plane and I followed. From a height of from 12,000 feet we came within a few feet of the ground, where I forced the plane down behind our lines.

"This is the only time during my 125 aerial battles that two German aviators—or it was a two seater plane—voluntarily surrendered without being wounded, and with their plane in perfect condition."

Fonck's fame dates from the time he became a member of the famous "Stork Squadron." "We have to bring the Boche down," was the motto of the squadrn.

In all his battles Fonck was never defeated.

DOWNS SIX PLANES.

The greatest day in Fonck's career was when he encountered 13 enemy planes and down six of them. Out on a scouting expedition with two other French planes, Fonck disposed of three enemy planes within 45 seconds. Losing his companions in the fog he surprised another German and brought him down. He then encountered nine others.

"Alone against nine," said Fonck, "I hesitated attacking. I was going at a speed of 145 miles an hour. I rse abve the last f the Boche in line and shot him down. Two machines then made straight for me, but going at this high speed I succeeded in slipping between them. It took them eight seconds to get back into line but that was enough for me to make for the head of the squadron and bring him down. They had all been unawares by my quick movements, but now they were getting hold of themselves. I made for our lines and glanced back for o moment and saw a huge semi-circle converging on me, but I was out-pacing them and soon I was back in safety."

The "Stork Squadron" had its superstitions and its mascots. Fonck carried a baby stork with him in his flights and a small four leaf clover was painted under a wing of his machine. "We were once thirteen at the table," said Fonck. "One of the party, Lieut. de Girval, noticed it and called our attention to it, saying that it had significance for us, since surely more than one of us was doomed to die within the year. He was the first to lay down his life."

Ohio Vote Will Give Verdict on Harding

COLUMBUS Ohio, April 22.—Ohio will be called on, in the coming congressional campaign, to pass judgement on its favored son—President Harding.

Party leaders, picking Ohio for the political battleground, agree that the vote on congressman, senator and governor will determine the degree of popular approval in Ohio of the Harding administration.

Further interest in the situation is caused by the possibility that former Governor James M. Cox, defeated by Harding for the Presidency, will take the stump in Ohio and Massachusetts.

The issues in Ohio will be clear-cut—the four-power pact, soldier bonus, tariff and the record of the government the last year. Purely state and local questions have not so far arisen to becloud the national questions.

Rubber Masks for German Actors

BERLIN, April 22.—Theater masks made of rubber are the latest creation for German actors invented by Heinrich Hall. The masks are painted beforehand and the actor draws the well fitting masks over his face. The new invention is now being tried by film actors and is considered a great advantage, especially by such who have to play various roles in quick succession.

As the masks are not made after a pattern, but for every special actor, each mask must be made specially.

Key Route and Street Car Reorganization to Bring "Back" Their Securities

By WILLIAM CAVALIER of William Cavalier & Company

(Concluded from Yesterday.)

Now, while we cannot fairly take it for granted that fuel oil for ferry boats will decline to $3351 as in September, 1917; or that the total cost of trainmen will decline from $22,000 to $12,000; or that ferry boat crews will be reduced from $16,000 to $8000; or to take a total of $67,000 for eight very necessary items, will be reduced to $32,000, as in 1917, in view of the falling costs for materials, money and men, a fair figure to estimate would be midway between these two sums, or, say, about $15,000 which is considerably below the peak of high prices.

With such a decrease in operating costs and bond interest, the company should under reorganization enter a period of unprecedented prosperity, bespeaking early inauguration of dividends on at least the new prior preferred stock. However, before analyzing the possibilities of the new issues, it is well to examine into the proposed exchange of securities.

BASIS OF EXCHANGE.

For convenience, the securities of the present company have been divided into three distinct groups, according to precedence in the financial set up. Group No. 1A includes only $500,000 of underlying bonds of the Oakland, San Leandro & Hayward Electric Railway and Twenty-third Avenue Electric Railway, on which there is $60,000 in unpaid interest. These are to be exchanged for new underlying bonds to a par value of $560,000 and their status remains practically unchanged.

Group 1B, to a total of $8,323,020 including principal and interest, is to be exchanged for a like amount of securities of the new operating company, to be known as general and refunding mortgage bonds, to mature in 1936. Of the total, only $1,255,520 will bear interest at 6 per cent, while the balance will carry 5 per cent. Naturally, these bonds will prove a very sound and attractive investment. Their standing as to earnings becomes readily apparent when one refers to the statement of earnings for 1921, adjusted to meet the proposed capitalization of the new company.

EARNINGS BAROMETER

A statement covering the calendar year of 1921 shows that the company earned gross $7,016,216. The first charge against this sum, and a very considerable one, is the item of operating expense and taxes, totalling $5,240,870, or roughly more than 70 per cent. This means that out of every dollar of gross earnings something more than 70 cents is expropriated for operating expense and taxes.

As mentioned earlier in this discussion, interest on the funded debt of the new corporation totals $828,306. Using last year's statement as an index or guide, it appears that under conditions prevailing in 1921, the new company will be able to earn its charges of this nature at least two times over, for after deduction of operating costs, taxes and bond interest, there remains $947,040 available for dividends and depreciation.

But, as prices fall and efficiency increases, 1922 costs should be considerably lower, or rather the operating dollar should have a greater purchasing power. Incidentally, the statement referred to does not begin to reflect many economies put into effect toward the close of 1921.

The point to make at this time is that after interest charges $947,040 remains for dividends and this places the position of securities in Groups II and III in an interesting light. For this reason a discussion of earning power is interjected between the various groups of securities affected.

SECURITIES GROUPING.

The second group of securities of the existing company includes but two items, $2,134,000 Oakland Traction Consolidated General 5's and $1,600,000 San Francisco, Oakland & San Jose, second mortgage 5 per cent bonds, in addition to $563,400 of unpaid interest coupons. The plan calls for the exchange of these bonds and unpaid coupons into two classes of preferred stock on which dividends should be inaugurated during the first year and 25 per cent in 7 per cent preferred stock on which dividends are not to be cumulative.

This proposal in itself accounts for a decrease of $2,634,000 in funded debt and removes a liability of $263,400 of unpaid interest.

The funded debt not accounted for in Group 1A, 1B and II, together with both class A and class B preferred stock of San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways comprises Group III in the plan of reorganization. The bonds included in this group total $8,364,000 and the par value of both classes of old preferred stock is $12,050,000. Oakland Traction Company General Consolidated 5's to a total of $3,177,000 plus two years interest of $317,700 and $1,587,000 of San Francisco, Oakland & San Jose Consolidated Railway General Consolidated 5's with two years' accrued interest of $158,700 are to be converted, 50 per cent into new 7 per cent cumulative prior preferred stock and 50 per cent into 7 per cent non-cumulative preferred stock. As a result Group III further reduces funded debt by $4,764,000 and $476,400 in back interest is paid off in new securities.

FUNDED DEBT BALANCE.

The balance of funded debt in the latter group consists of notes which will be exchanged par for par, into notes of the new company, while old preferred stock is to be exchanged, two shares for one of new common stock and only the old common stock is entirely eliminated.

Now, refer back to the 1921 earnings and interest requirements of the new company and it is not difficult to understand the recent demand for old securities of the traction company. We have, after allowing for bond and note interest (according to the company's statement), $947,040 available for dividends and depreciation. This figure, when recently made public exceeded the fondest hopes of the most optimistic advocates of the new plan, for it not only means early dividends on the new cumulative prior preferred stock, but places the non-cumulative preferred in a very attractive position. Dividend requirements on the $5,618,250 of prior preferred call for $393,277.50 per year and on the non-cumulative preferred, $252,398.50 per year.

Bonds	$11,583,020*
Notes	3,600,000
Prior Pfd. 7% stock	5,618,250
Preferred 7%	3,619,550
Common stock	6,025,000
Total	$30,245,800

As against the foregoing capitalization, the properties of the company have been variously valued at from $35,000,000 to $41,000,000 with no allowance to represent a going concern franchise or other intangible values. In other words, no intangible value has been capitalized. There is sound value behind each dollar of capitalization. *Includes new first mortgage bonds through which new money will be obtained.

OUTLOOK FOR PROPERTY.

The recent market action of local traction securities indicates that they are being acquired by keen judges of value. It is quite obvious that the advance is inspired, but not by speculative activity, but by actual accumulation which has materially reduced the floating supply. Reference to the unlisted securities quotations from the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange will show startling advances in price during recent weeks. For example, as this is being written on April 1, Key Route first 5's are quoted at 70 bid; 72 asked, and the seconds are 44 to 45.

Assuming that the plan of reorganization becomes operative and there seems good ground for the belief that it will, the purchase of an Oakland Traction Consolidated 5 per cent $1000 bond for $440 will ultimately receive at least $750 par value of 7 per cent cumulative prior preferred stock which will return $52.50 a year and $250 of 7 per cent non-cumulative preferred stock. In addition, new stock will be given in the same ratio for the two years' accrued interest.

The one example is taken at random, for similar prospects are evident in the many other issues of San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways. Incidentally, citizen ownership of a great public utility such as our local traction is the best guarantee of fair treatment for company, stockholder and patron, for the interests of all three are identical and the man or woman who owns Oakland Traction securities, and rides in Oakland Traction cars is in the final analysis, his or her own customer and partner. It is imperative that the company be reorganized immediately, but in order to do this so that the company may be put in sound financial and physical position, and in a position to contribute its part to the great commercial and industrial prosperity which is surely and rapidly coming to Alameda county, the work should be treated by all interested parties in a broad, constructive and helpful spirit. For this reason, the best thing that could happen for investor, car rider and company is for the securities of the new company to be distributed among the 500,000 people served in 11 cities and two counties by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways.

Alameda Sugar Co. To Plant Rice Crop

WOODLAND, April 18.—Rice acreage in Yolo county will be greater this year than in the past, according to L. J. Shuman of the Yolo Water and Power Company, which has let contracts for planting 9000 acres to date. The Alameda Sugar Company will devote 3000 acres planted last year in sugar beets to the cultivation of rice. This beet land is already checked for planting. The B. F. Conaway ranch of 22,000 acres, just adjoining Woodland, will have a large portion of its acreage in rice. Clarksburg and Knights Landing districts will have from 1000 to 2000 acres in rice. Last year there were about 15,000 acres in rice. This year it will run from 5000 acres better, and perhaps more according to estimates.

Almond Pool Failure Feared

May 17 Set for Limit of Signing Contracts; Only 800 Names to Date.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—May 17 has been set as the date on which the fate of the California Almond Growers' Exchange will be decided. The board of directors of the Exchange on that date will total up the almond acreage of the state pledged to market its crops cooperatively under the five-year contract offered to almond growers as the nucleus of a reorganization necessary to avoid liquidation.

If ninety per cent of the almond acreage is not pledged under the five-year crop contract, in the opinion of members of the board the 1922 crop and subsequent crops will be at the mercy of the independent buyers and speculators to do with as they choose and at the prices which they choose to pay to the 5000 growers.

Not more than 800 contracts have been signed to date, it was announced by Exchange officers. The Exchange had nearly 4000 members under the old seasonal contracts which have been supplanted by the five-year contract owing to the refusal of financing banks to lend heavy enough on the seasonal contracts to handle the marketing of the annual almond crops.

The representatives' meeting here last Friday deferred annual election of officers and suggested changes in the by-laws pending outcome of the re-organization campaign.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 18.—Traders bought at the opening of the cotton market today on the idea that there had been too much rain over night. First prices were 2 to 5 points higher with the exception of March, which was one point lower. Japanese, Wall Street and Liverpool interests were buyers. The list eased off after the opening, dropping below last night's close.

A complete record of growth and yield will be kept for the benefit of future plantings.

N. C. O. Railway to Operate Motor Cars

ALTURAS, April 18.—According to word received here from Charles Moran, president of the Nevada-California-Oregon Railroad, which recently sought permission to abandon its passenger and freight service between Sackstaff and Lakeview, daily passenger motor cars and freight trains are to be put in operation.

The recommendation of the California Railroad Commission that a tri-weekly service be given, or the line leased or sold to the Western Pacific or connecting lines given a larger part of traffic, is before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The president and general manager, S. M. McCartney, has just returned from Washington, where he submitted data.

FROST DAMAGE TO PEAS RATED ONLY PARTIAL

Revised Estimates of First Reports Favor Growers, Say Observers.

Reports from the eastern end of the county say that first estimates of damage to peas by the cold weather of last and week before were excessive. Careful examination of fields the past few days shows that in the majority of cases what was at first classed as total loss will now yield at least half a crop.

Arrivals today included two cars of bananas. The supply of asparagus by boat was large, about 951 boxes. Prices ranged from 8 to 11 cents.

Butter and eggs were firmer again and added another half cent each over yesterday for top grades. Poultry was practically unchanged with supply limited.

California olives are to be put up by all packers in four standardized sizes and shapes of cans in order to insure uniformity and make for wider distribution of the product, it was decided yesterday by the California Olive Association, composed largely of packers, at its annual meeting in San Francisco.

These sizes are known as the No. 10 packers' can, the tall olive quart, the tall olive pint and the five-ounce buffet.

A committee from the group of growers who are endeavoring to form a growers' co-operative marketing association promised their co-operation in the promotion and publicity plans of the packers' association, and agreed to contribute if the association is formed. These plans call for spreading the popularity of California olives in the East.

Frank Simonds of Los Angeles was elected president. Henri Bernier of San Francisco vice-president, and the following were chosen members of the executive committee: W. A. Gellersen, San Francisco; J. V. E. Titus, Riverside; Allan Cutler, Los Angeles; B. B. Meek, Oroville, and W. W. Woodson, Corning.

Owing to the improved condition of pasture during the past two weeks, livestock is steadily taking on weight. The severe winter, shortage of feed and the slow growth of grass early in the season resulted in livestock coming through the winter in very poor condition. In the mountain districts practically all the hay surplus has been consumed owing to the cold weather, low snow and lateness of the season, but grass is springing up now in all districts and conditions are generally good. It is expected that fat cattle for market will be about two weeks later than usual, reports E. E. Kaufman, statistician of the State Department of Agriculture.

Of all crops, grain is showing the best condition and has the most favorable prospects for an excellent yield: Practically all counties continue to report the crop as improving. In the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys, which produce about 70 per cent of the wheat and barley of the state, prospects are especially good. The north winds of the early part of the week dried out the fields considerably but light showers the latter part of the week partially restored the moisture. Fall sown and summer fallow grains are making a better showing than the later winter sown grains. More showers and warmer weather are needed to insure a normal growth. No frost damage to the grains is reported.

Crop prospects are very encouraging. Grain farmers are especially optimistic over the outlook, but the cold weather and frosts of the last week have given the fruit and vegetable men a great deal of worry. The most serious frost damage in the grape growing section occurred around Reedley, Dinuba and Parlier and was estimated to be about 5 per cent of the acreage frosted last year. A light crop of apricots in the Santa Clara Valley and Bay Counties has been anticipated on account of brown rot. Frost has further decreased the prospects until now no more than 40 per cent of a normal crop can be expected in that district. Slight damage to the prune crop in the Santa Clara Valley is also reported, but it is too early to estimate the probably loss, if any. The frost period is by no means past, but every day greatly decreases the danger.

Boom in Stocks Forces Clerks to Work All Night

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 18.—These are busy days in the bond and brokerage houses of the financial district.

The skyscrapers of lower Broadway, ordinarily almost dark after 7 p. m., are now ablaze with light until around midnight as hundreds of weary clerks strive to keep up with the business created by "more than a million share" days on the New York Stock Exchange and correspondingly increased business in other markets. Many firms have engaged extra help in order to facilitate the handling of the vast army of orders that come pouring over their counters during business hours.

The number of separate issues exchanging hands yesterday—458—established a new high record for a single day's business. the previous high record of 447 issues being dealt in April 6. In the more than 2,050,000 share market April 21, 1920, which was nearly reached yesterday in the biggest day's business since then, only 330 issues changed hands.

In the entire history of the stock exchange, there have been only 42 days on which total sales exceeded 2,000,000 shares, and on only three occasions has the 3,000,000-share mark been passed.

The record-breaking day yesterday followed a week in which the trading exceeded 1,000,000 shares a day.

EASTERN MARKET

CHICAGO, April 18.—Cattle—Receipts 12,000; market slow; few early sales beef steers and butcher she-stock weak to 25c lower; beef steers of quality to sell, largely at $7.50@8.50; bulls and veal calves about steady; stockers strong; few early sales veal calves mostly $7.00@7.50; bologna bulls largely $4.25@4.40.

Hogs—Receipts 17,000; fairly active; lights mostly weak to 10c lower than yesterday's average; medium and heavies about steady; top $10.60; bulk $9.80@10.50; pigs and packing sows slow, steady.

Sheep—Receipts, 8000; lambs strong to 25c higher; sheep scarce; about steady; top wooled lambs early, $15.10; bulk $14.75@15.10; top shorn, $13.50; few good 115-pound wooled ewes, $9.00.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Wheat took a new upward swing in price today during the early trading, although the Liverpool markets showed but little advance as compared with the big gains here while the Liverpool exchange was closed for the Easter holidays. The seeming apathy with Liverpool was practically ignored here except at the opening. Initial quotations which ranged from ½c to 1¼c lower, with May $1.39½ to $1.40 and July $1.24 to $1.24¼, were followed by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅝c lower, July 64⅛ to 64¼c, the corn market scored a moderate general advance.

Oats started ⅛c off to ⅛c up, July 40¾ and then showed gains for all months.

Provisions were inclined to sag in the absence of any special demand.

C. & S. to Continue Unprofitable Branch

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Although the operation of its 29-mile branch line between Buena Vista and Romley in Chaffee county, Colorado, has resulted in continuous losses to the Colorado and Southern Railroad during the last five years, recommendation was made to the Interstate Commerce Commission today by an examiner, that the road's application to abandon it be denied.

Prospects for the increase of traffic are fairly good, the examiner found, and the protests of municipalities and mining corporations operating along it made a sufficient showing that its continuation in operation was necessary for the public convenience.

CANNED GOODS.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Canners report sales for future delivery are much smaller than usual. This has hindered them in getting financial support from the banks and has enforced a conservative policy. Michigan canners have announced their 1922 prices on everything except tomatoes. They are considerably lower than the Pacific Coast prices.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

In striking contrast to initial dealings of the past few weeks opening prices in Wall street today were decidedly reactionary. Yesterday's record operations and the unstable movements of certain leaders, especially the oils, evidently prompted a renewal of short selling, although rails showed marked firmness. Sinclair, Studebaker, Midvale, Baldwin, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Mexican Petroleum and Atlantic Gulf lost substantial fractions. Standard Oil of California, U. S. Rubber, St. Paul, Atchison, Illinois Central, New Haven and Coca Cola, featured the market's stronger side.

Call money opened at 3½ per cent but selling on a large scale continued throughout the morning. The turnover for the first two hours was estimated at 750,000 shares, this falling considerably under yesterday's record. The more substantial reactions included Canadian Pacific and Standard Oil of New Jersey, which lost 2¼ and 4 points respectively.

Foreign oils, especially Mexican Petroleum and General Asphalt also were liquidated. Other transcontinentals eased with Canadian-Pacific and Coalers lost ground with Reading. Steels, equipments, motors and tobaccos made 1 to 2 point recessions. Wilson, Montgomery Ward and People's Gas were among the few stocks to run counter to the general reaction.

Rails effected temporary rallies at midday on the strength shown by Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison and Atlantic coast line. Selling of oils, equipments and specialties became more insistent however, leaders showing extreme losses of 2 to 4½ points.

Aside from rails, extreme losses of 1 to 6 points were made throughout the list. Sales approximated 1,700,000 shares.

Realizing sales as caused irregular movements in the stock market extended to the bond list. Liberty issues were firm but a number of the European offerings reacted to unexpected complications at the Genoa conference. Erie General 4s, Southern Railway 5s, Missouri Kansas and Texas first 4s, St. Louis and San Francisco prior lien 5s, Seaboard adjustment 5s, Interborough Rapid Transit 5s and Third avenue adjustments 5s were firm. Detroit United Railway 4½s strengthened on decision of the voters of that city to take over the property.

Armour Planning Packing Merger Of Half Billion

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 18. — Informal negotiations for a merger of three of the "Big Five" packing companies into a $500,000,000 corporation have been conducted by J. Ogden Armour, head of Armour & Co., according to the Herald and Examiner today. The corporation would have as its president Thomas E. Wilson, president of Wilson & Co., and Armour would be chairman of the board of directors, according to the newspaper.

The firms involved are Armour & Co., with a total valuation of $329,718,997; Wilson & Co., worth $88,097,250 and Cudahy & Co., valued at $45,502,250.

Consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission would be necessary for the success of the proposed merger, it is said.

Persons who are credited with being familiar with the merger plan say no new financing is contemplated, the proposition being that Armour & Co. exchange its securities for those of the other two companies.

Armour is supposed to be actuated by the motive of desiring a successor to the presidency of Armour & Co., a position handed down to him by his father. Having no son to carry on the business he is forced to go outside the family. Wilson's success in the packing industry has made him the logical candidate and the newspaper points out that to secure Wilson, Armour is forced to buy Wilson's company.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Flat denial tha tan amalgamation of the Armour, Cudahy and Wilson packing companies is contemplated was made today by J. Ogden Armour and Edward Cudahy, presidents of their respective concerns. Alonzo E. Wilson, head of Wilson & Co., was not in the city.

"The Cudahy company is not in any way concerned in such a merger," said Cudahy.

Reductions in the rate on wood, flour and vegetable ivory nut scrap meal and glue, from the east to Pacific coast points will become effective as soon as the lines east of Chicago and the Mississippi river announce their concurrence in the rates affecting that territory. The present rate of $1.01½ per 100 pounds on flour from certain North Dakota points to California will also be made applicable on that date from Mandan and Dickinson, N. D.

On April 27 oil well supplies, now moving from California to eastern points under class rates, will take a rate of $1.75 to Kansas City and Colorado.

On the same date the minimum weight of 60,000 pounds on dried fish from Pacific coast points to New Orleans and Galveston and other Gulf points when for export, will be reduced to 50,000 pounds, the rate of 95 cents remaining unchanged.

The following rate reductions will become effective May 25 from California to eastern points:

ALONG THE WATERFRONT

Captain O. Parker, formerly master of the steamer Celestial, has taken command of the steamer Stanley Dollar, relieving Captain J. McClement. The latter skipper is to take command of the Celestial, which will be operated with her sister ships, the Cathay, Mandarin and Oriental, on the Orient routte. The Oriental is at Oakland overhauling and is expected to leave here for Puget Sound this week. Her name has been changed to the Margaret Dollar, and when the Celestial sails from here she will be known as the Melville Dollar. The Cathay is now known as the Diana Dollar, and the Mandarian as the Stuart Dollar. These four steamers were built at Shanghai, China, for the U. S. Shipping Board, and were purchased by the Robert Dollar Company a few weeks ago.

The Joseph Dollar sailed today for Gray's Harbor to load lumber for Japan. She formerly was one of the German interned ships, purchased by the Robert Dollar Company, and towed here from Santa Rosalia. She has been in this port since April 28, 1921, and has been thoroughly overhauled. Captain P. Borgman was appointed master of the big craft.

The British steamer Gymeric is en route here from Belfast and upon her arrival she will take a cargo of gasoline for England. The Gymeric left Belfast for this port on March 18 and is due to arrive here this week. She is a steel steamer of 3838 tons register.

The steamer Felix Taussig left Puget Sound yesterday for the Atlantic coast and will call here to finish her cargo. At Everett, on Puget Sound, she loaded 3,000,000 feet of lumber. At this port she will take on canned goods and other California products consigned to Eastern ports.

The Alaska Packers' fleet is well thinned out at the winter quarters at Alameda, with only five sailing craft left. These will be towed from there this week. The vessels left are the Star of Italy, Star of France, Centennial, Indiana and Metha Nelson. As soon as space can be found on the drydock for them they will be cleaned and painted, then loaded with supplies and sent for their summer's cruise to Alaska.

The steamer Osage went aground at Gray's Harbor yesterday while coming into port under command of Pilot Marshall of Seattle, and is hard and fast. Several tugs tried to pull her into deep water but could not move the stranded vessel. She will be compelled to unload part of her cargo. It was reported that she was not leaking.

Steamer Darblay, which left this port on March 21 for Valparaiso via Balboa, ran ashore at Manta on April 11. Although she is not leaking it is thought that some damage has been done to her bottom. Assistance has been sent to the stranded craft.

The steam schooner Horace X. Baxter dropped her propeller while en route to Seattle from Eagle Harbor on Puget Sound. She has a cargo of cresoted piles for this port, and it is expected that she will be towed here by one of the company's steamers and placed on the drydock, after her cargo is unloaded.

Captain Turnberg, master of the steamer Hattie Luckenbach, which arrived here yesterday from the Atlantic coast, reports that on April 11, in latitude 31.16 north and longitude 117.23 west, he sighted what apparently was the mast of a small craft standing upright about five feet out of the water with a rag on a wornout flag pole attached.

The Luckenbach will unload 600 tons of general merchandise here and will proceed to Puget Sound to unload the rest and load other cargo.

ADD—DOCK AN DECK— ....

All those who desire to take advantage of this chance to obtain without expense a knowledge of navigation should present themselves without delay.

ELABORATE RADIO PROGRAM TO BE PUT ON TONIGHT

Special Features Arranged for Native Sons and Dancers at Hotel Oakland.

Tonight will be a big night for the radio fans. Between 7:15 and 8:15, while The TRIBUNE is on the air, there will be all sorts of entertainment to be heard, most of which will be for the special benefit of the Native Sons, who are holding their annual convention in Oakland.

The TRIBUNE at the same time will make two demonstrations of receiving by radio. One receiving instrument—The TRIBUNE'S portable set—has been installed in the blue room of the Hotel Oakland, with a two-wire aerial stretched from one end of the romo to the other. This set will entertain the past grand presidents of the Native Sons

TO ENTERTAIN DANCERS.

Those who attend the dance tonight in the ballroom of the hotel, given by the Cherry Blossom branch of the Baby Hospital Association, will be entertained for fifteen minutes by a radio receiving set installed by R. D. Lowell, builder of radio receiving apparatus. This set will also be supplied with music and entertainment from the air by an inside aerial.

The radio program will be in charge of Mrs. Lord Vincent Roberts (Frances Redman), who will wear a special radio custom, the creation of Miss Hyman of Hyman's Sport Shop.

SPORT CLOTHES DISPLAY.

In conjunction with the radio program given by The TRIBUNE and Lowell, a number of society maids will demonstrate the latest sport clothes from Paris, many of which were recently worn at the Paris races.

The entire program, of which the radio program is to be one of the main attractions, is to begin with a dinner in the large dining-room at 7 o'clock.

From 8:45 to 9 o'clock the radio program will take place. From 9 o'clock to 9:15 Dolores Flashman and Walton Lee will dance. From 9:15 to 10 o'clock will be the fashion show. And from 10 o'clock on the Paul Ash Orchestra and dancing will be the order of the evening.

DISTRESS SIGNALS.

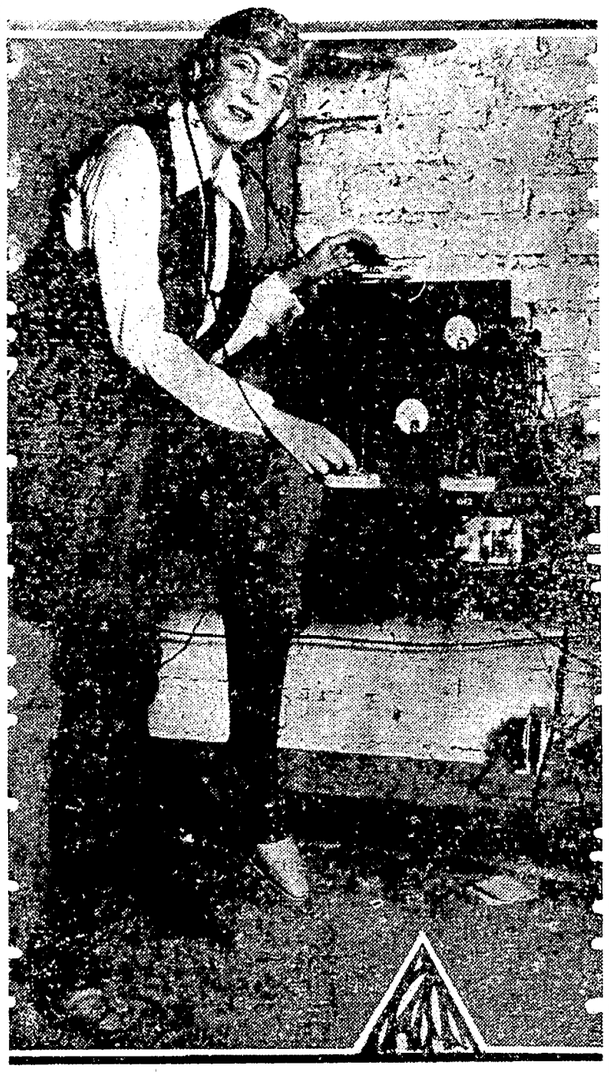

Sailors in distress may now call San Francisco for medical advice. The Radio Corporation of America, the San Francisco Marine Hospital and the Seamen's Institute will cooperate in this work, which was inaugurated in New York several months ago.

BOOTLEGGERS USE RADIO.

Revenue officers, seeking the distillers of the far famed and hard hitting "white lightning" in the mountains of Kentucky have found evidence that the mountain men have radio communication with confederates at nearby railroad towns who warn them of approaching danger or raids.

Meet Miss Radio

MRS. FRANCES REDMOND ROBERTS, as "Miss Radio," wearing the newest creation, the Radio gown, designed by Miss Hyman of Hyman's Sport Shop. Mrs. Roberts will operate The TRIBUNE'S receiving set which will entertain for fifteen minutes at the Baby Hospital fund dance at the Hotel Oakland this evening.

Broadcasting Schedule

Following is the radio broadcasting schedule for this evening, beginning at 5:30 o'clock.

5:30 to 6:30—Sacramento Bee, news.

5:30 to 6:45—The Examiner, news and concert.

6:45 to 7—Rockridge, news.

7:00 to 7:15—Fairmont, financial and weather reports.

7:15 to 7:30—The TRIBUNE-Western Radio Institute, Hotel Oakland station, a complete news summary of the day, foreign and sports.

7:30 to 8:15—The TRIBUNE, program for the special benefit of the Native Sons, headed by Miss Elfrida Steindorff, who will sing "I Love You, California."

8:15 to 9—Rockridge, special concert.

Paul Nutting's Syncopated Orchestra will furnish the music for the program to be broadcasted from Rockridge this evening.

One fan writes to ask if the waves were properly undamped last week when William Jennings Bryan spoke from KDKA at Pittsburgh.

RADIO CLUB AT MERCED PLANS FOR NEW HOME

Will Raise Funds to Erect Building to House Big Broadcasting Set.

Special to The TRIBUNE.

MERCED, April 18. — The Merced Radio Club has launched plans for the securing of funds to build a clubhouse in which to erect a large receiving and broadcasting station.

The first step in this campaign will start next week. Several members pledged enough money to purchase materials necessary for the construction of a receiving set, which when completed will be given away. The funds thus secured will go toward the building of the clubhouse, where the big receiving and broadcasting station will be erected.

Thus Merced will soon be on the map as a receiving and sending station for wireless. Mercedites will enjoy the same privileges as many other cities throughout the United States, of hearing concerts and opera singers thousands of miles away.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) What is the best hookup for The TRIBUNE audion set, including a variable condenser, loose coupler and a pair of phones?

2. How can an aerial be tested without the use of a spark coil?

3. Which are the best phones, Brandes $7 or Murdock $6.25?

4. Where can I buy iron for guy wire?

5. Who is 6NO and has he been operating of late?

6. Which aerial gives best results, L or T type?

7. What are the government requirements for an amateur?

8. Does it make any difference if an aerial is higher on one side than the other?

9. What are the stores that are affecting ten per cent discounts?

"BUG."

5384 College avenue, Oakland.

1. Hook up diagram is being forwarded by mail.

2. An antenna can be tested for leaks by using a galvanometer. If a receiving antenna is insulated from surrounding objects, and its joints sodered when it is erected there is usually no necessity for testing it, as there is no high voltage flowing there to break down the insulation. A receiving antenna does not leak as a rule, but is inefficient because of construction.

3. Brandes.

4. Any radio supply house.

5. For receiving they are equally efficient.

6. 6NO is Charles Cross, 5584 Broadway. We do not know whether or not he has been operating lately.

7. An applicant for an amateur license must pass the code test of ten words per minute and also answer the technical questions connected with the examination.

8. For receiving it makes very little difference.

9. None now, due to the raise in prices forced by the manufacturers.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: I am sending this letter to ask you one question. If with a 300-foot aerial, a junior loose coupler, fixed condenser, halcon detector, variable condenser and 300 ahm phones should I be able to receive Sacramento and Gridley?

RICHARD M. RAUTRY.

1151 Oxford street, Berkeley.

No, we do not believe you can.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) How much does it cost to belong to the radio club?

2. Is there any danger in having an aerial three feet above the electric light wires that are not in use all the time?

3. My aerial is about 100 feet away from a large body of water. Will the water have anything to do with the receiving?

A "BUG."

432 Fortieth street, Oakland.

1. There is no expense attached to joining The TRIBUNE Radio Club. Fill out one of the application blanks which can be found in any issue of The TRIBUNE and forward same to this office.

2. Antenna wires should never be placed over, under or near power wires.

3. The water will have no effect on the reception, except possibly to make your ground system more efficient.

A BATTERY HINT.

If you want to stay in right with the keeper of your home, and not be responsible for the destruction of that good living room rug, look out for acid stains. The acid that is spilled from a storage battery will ruin forever anything that it touches. Sometimes a battery will overflow or leak slightly. When placing a battery put it on a load plate extending about six inches on each side of it. This will assure peace in the household.

AMPLIFIERS ADD TO DISTANCE OF RECEIVING SETS

Detector and Two-Step Will Operate Loud-Speaking Horn Perfectly.

By EDWARD M. SARGENT.

Amplifiers are added to vacuum tube detector sets for two purposes, to increase the distance over which they can receive and to increase the strength of the signals that are already being received. The most usual combination is the detector and two-step amplifier, although at times three and four steps are added. A detector and two-step amplifier set will operate a loud-speaking horn and reproduce music sent out by a transmitting set 200 miles away and will operate a pair of head receivers for radio telephone reception over distances of 500 miles and more. These sets, complete with head telephones, cost from $150 to $200 and with the loud-speaking horn from $180 to $250.

NO OVERHEAD WIRES.

No complicated overhead wires are needed to receive radio signals. The most practical receiving "antenna" is a single No. 14 or No. 12 copper wire, 50 or 75 feet to 400 feet long. The height is unimportant as long as the wire is about as high as surrounding objects. It is usually attached to the roof at one end and the other end suspended from a point as far away as convenient.

No high poles are necessary. It is, however, an advantage to have the wire long, and the longer it is, the better signals will be received, so long as its length does not exceed about 400 feet. No government restrictions whatsoever are placed upon radio receiving sets and no license is required to operate them.

CHARGE IMPOSSIBLE.

We are frequently asked what assurance there is that music and news will continue to be sent out by radio, and that no charge will be made for it. The best assurance of this is the fact that efforts are constantly being made to improve the class of entertainment sent out, that the whole country has taken hold of the idea in such a way that it would now be impossible to go back, and that it is to the interest of every radio manufacturer and retailer to furnish as high a grade of entertainment as possible. From the very nature of radio it would be impossible to charge for this, even if it were desired to do so. The broadcasting will continue to be more varied, more instructive and more interesting. It is not a rash prediction to say that when our next President is inaugurated, he will probably speak by radio and his inaugural address wil be heard by the people of the whole country, in their homes.

COMPARISON GIVEN.

In response to numerous questions as to "how the radio works" and also to answer the questions in the first paragraph, the following explanation has been written. Although couched in simple terms, no statement has been made which is not technically correct.

When a rock is thrown into a pool of water, waves are created which travel outward in all directions, the waves taking the form of ever-expanded circles and growing weaker the farther away they get from the source. The rock might be compared to a radio sending station; an object in the path of the oncoming wave—a radio receiving station. This is, however, a very elementary comparison.

LESSON NO. 31.
THE VARIOMETER.

The variometer consists briefly of two coils of wire connected in series, one of the coils being stationary and the other so mounted that it may be rotated within the stationary coil. If current flows through both coils in the same direction, the magnetic fields assist each other and self-induction of tthe variometer is at a maxium. If the inner coil is rotated so that the current flows through the coils in opposite directions, the magnetic fields oppose one another and the self-induction is at a minimum. The self-induction of the variometer, therefore, depends upon the relative positions of the coils.

By rotating the inner coil within the stationary coil, a contiuous variation of inductance may be obtained. For the purpose of close tuning within a small range of wave length variation, the variometer may be connected in the aerial circuit of a receiver as shown in Diagram 1.

In this simple receiving circuit the variometer is connected in the same manner as a single slide tuner. When the variometer is adjusted to a low value of inductance, it offers much more resistance to the currents of radio frequency than a tuning coil having the same amount of inductance.

For use on the amateur wavelength of 200 meters the variometer may have an inner coil three and one half inches in diameter, wound with 20 turns of No. 24 S. S. C. wire and an outer coil four inches in diameter, wound with 15 turns of No 24 S. S. C.

Due to the physical difficulties of constructing a variometer for long wavelengths, it is usually constructed in comparatively small sizes for small ranges of wavelength and as it furnishes a continuous variation of inductance, it offers a decided advantage over other forms of variable indutance which use sliding contacts or switches.

Lessons to follow will explain in detail the construction of the vacuum tube and its varied and highly valuable properties in the transmission and reception of radio signals.

$1,000,000 Provided To Buy Army Lands

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Acquisition of additional land at several army posts at cost of more than $1,000,000 is authorized under a bill passed today by the senate and sent to the house. Appropriations for additional lands to be acquired includes $1,500 for Fitzsimmons hospital, Denver, Colo.

Richmond Residents Strong for Radio

RICHMOND, April 18.—In wild western parlance, Richmond folk are plumb locoed with radio. Throughout the city, from young boys around 10 to older boys of 60 or more, the wireless fever has spread. The principal radio apparatus is installed at the Elks club, where members daily hear grand opera, vaudeville and other entertainment.

The Boy Scouts at Point Richmond early caught the fever, and there are scores of homes in the city where youngsters and grown-ups gather around the sitting room and listen in on the entertainments broadcasted from coast points. The Richmond Radio club now has a membership of fifty, holds meetings once a week and hears lectures on radio construction and operation.

POLES DANGEROUS.

Electric light and power companies and other organizations using high tension circuits are warning radio amateurs throughout the country to "lay off their pole lines." It is dangerous!

LETTERS PRAISE EASTER SERVICE GIVEN BY RADIO

Notes From Many Places Are Received Lauding Tribune Wireless Program.

The appreciation of the radio fans all over the country of the Easter sunrise service broadcast Sunday morning between 6 and 7 o'clock by The TRIBUNE from the Hotel Oakland station is shown by the many letters received from all parts of the coast.

So many letters came in that it will be impossible to publish them all. The most recent communication of thanks was received today by Preston D. Allen, operator of the Hotel Oakland. It is as follows:

"Hotel Oakland Radio Statoion: I wish to compliment you very highly on your 6 o'clock Easter service. Everything came in with perfect distinctness and without a blur. Every word was distinctly understood, and Rev. Silsley's talk was a very fine sermon. I never listened to a better one. We wish to thank you very much for the service.

"Yours very truly,
"WILLIAM N. RISDEN.

RADIO RECEIVING SET INSTALLED BY LOCAL THEATER

A powerful radio receiving set having been installed in the New Franklin theater, radio broadcastings are now being furnished as a part of each evening performance at the New Franklin. The set, which was installed by the Western Radio Electric Co., will pick up concerts from as far as Seattle and San Diego. Tonight and Friday evening The TRIBUNE radio concerts will be furnished the patrons of the theater, and each day at about 7 p. m. The TRIBUNE baseball scores and news items will be received.

Arrangements have been completed with The TRIBUNE to have Ernie Milliken and his U. C. jazz orchestra, a regular New Franklin theater feature, appear at The TRIBUNE broadcasting station in the Hotel Oakland on next Friday night and play for the entertainment of the thousands of Eastbay radio fans.

FISHERMAN USES RADIO.

A. H. Griswold, the American Telegraph and Telephone Company's representative at Secretary Hoover's wireless conference, portrayed one of the freaks of wireless by telling how a fisherman off Catalina Island, California, communicated with his wife on the mainland by radio, so that when he made a good catch preparations could be made for unloading it quickly.
